Pope John Weathers New Crisis

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Death brushed close to Pope John XXIII today, but he weathered the crisis.

The Vatican disclosed he is suffering from gastric heteroplasia—a growth in the stomach. This could be a cancer or a tumor, either benign or malignant.

The diagnosis, published by the Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, was the first specifically defining the illness of the 81-year-old Roman Catholic pontiff.

The dictionary definition of heteroplasia is formation of abnormal tissue or of normal tissue in an abnormal locality.

Through tense hours this morning, three doctors were at the Pope's bedside and worked to stem hemorrhaging. Vatican sources reported.

It was the worst crisis of the illness which felled him briefly last fall and has since recurred intermittently.

Medical personnel rushed in and out of the papal apartment.

It is possible the doctors have not determined the exact kind of growth involved. In the past, surgery had been considered for exploratory purposes —and been rejected as too dangerous for the pontiff because of his age and condition.

Until today, the Vatican had said only that the Pope had a stomach disorder.

L'Osservatore said the hemorrhages, "caused by the gastric heteroplasia, which has affected the Holy Father for about a year, after being arrested for several months, have had an accentuated resumption in recent days."

"They have now been attenuated, and the organic consequences linked to them are, through today, limited and compensated by the curative measures adopted," it added.

Aside from disclosing the growth, the statement also disclosed for the first time that the Pope had been ill for a year. Until now, his illness had been dated to last November.

The doctors were Piero Mazzoni of Rome, who has remained almost constantly at the apostolic palace for a week; Antonio Gasbarrini, the Pope's personal physician; and Pietro Valdoni, one of Italy's leading surgeons.

A Vatican source said the difficulty in halting the internal bleeding brought deep concern.

Sortly after noon, Gasbarrini and Valdoni departed. Mazzoni apparently was continuing to stand by, as he has for seven days and nights.

In the past, the Pope has rallied after receiving blood transfusions and blood clotting aids.

Apprehension was relieved only in part by the departure of Gasbarrini and Valdoni. It was believed that the hemorrhaging may have been at least temporarily controlled. But it was noted the attacks were becoming more frequent.

School Aide Says Staff 'Scapegoat'

Hollis Denies Charges By 11th To Quit

By LOREN MacARTHUR

Staff members end up as scapegoats when the Marin County Schools office is criticized, the 11th person to quit his job with the office in the past month said in his letter of resignation to Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

There is "deep trouble" in the office, said Harold J. Simpson, who has worked for the county superintendent for two years as a psychologist.

"For most part," wrote Simpson, "all criticism (of the staff) is seen as threatening and is responded to with almost panic, a lack of support for the staff member and sometimes an attack on the staff members for errors. Of course errors will be made by the staff if top direction is confused."

CHARGE DENIED

But Hollis denied the charge. "I listen to criticism all the time," he said. "This is one thing I pride myself on. We don't panic at criticism."

Simpson also cited an "atmosphere of distrust" in the office. The staff, he said has had the uneasy awareness that the performance of their jobs, or their very jobs themselves, might at any time be attacked for reasons that were vague or irrelevant to the job.

"On one hand, the staff is told in exaggerated terms what a splendid job is being done, but not why; or on the other hand, one is criticized or fired for hard to recognize reasons.

TOBACCO FLAVOR

"In my case, conventional dress and the flavor of my pipe tobacco seemed to be important."

"Right from the beginning there were some comments made about him," recalled Hollis. "I can see how his disappointment at not being kept on the staff may turn into bitterness. But this hasn't been my feeling toward him. He's a most loyal employee and an outstanding man."

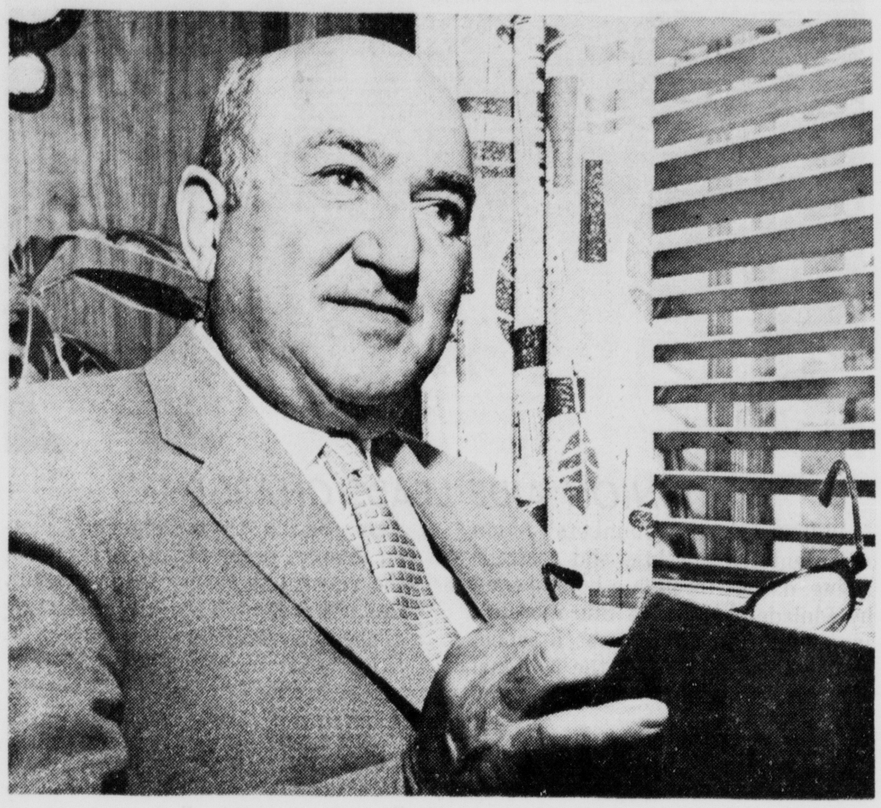
Hollis said Simpson had been asked to resign because Larkspur School District, which contracts with the county for the psychologist's services four days a week, has not renewed the contract. The district plans to hire its own full-time phychologist.

The administration had "little" interest" in various jobs in the schools office, Simpson wrote Hollis. "A result seems to be that administrators give conflicting orders or that the staff is expected to ferret out its responsibilities and is penalized if wrong guesses occur.

"As a result of your own uncertainty as to what you should expect from yourself and staff effort, you find it too easy to find scapegoats as an answer to this uneasiness. The scapegoat then finds he is shifted to another job or his job terminated."

"He just doesn't know the problems," Hollis retorted. "I don't work directly with him. I leave it to his immediate superior, Edward Credell." Credell is assistant superintendent.

HARRY ALBERT, 70, DIES IN SLEEP IN SAN RAFAEL



HARRY ALBERT
In familiar pose in his office in the Albert Building

He Led As Merchant And Philanthropist

Harry Albert died in his sleep last evening at his home at 50 Fairway Drive, San Rafael.

Death came quietly but without warning to the 70-year-old philanthropist and former merchant, of whom it could be said more than of any other man that "he built downtown San Rafael."

Albert lay down for a nap before dinner and never awakened. His heart had been troubling him for years. He planned last year to tour the Soviet Union with the Marin Executives Tour but decided against it on advice of his physician.

Albert's monuments line Fourth Street. Most well known of them is the Albert Building at Fourth and B streets, highest in San Rafael although its height will be exceeded by the Kaehler-Farrar Building under construction a block away.

Much of the "face lifting" of the downtown district in the past few years has been because of Harry Albert, who was in the forefront in remodeling properties to improve San Rafael's business climate, even buying old buildings to have them completely remodeled.

Two of his projects are still under way: Combined Services Building at 874 Fifth Avenue and the Arcade Building at 874 Fourth Street. The former already houses the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and Marin County Development Assn., with the Marin Visitors Bureau to move in June 1. The latter is to be occupied by a group of shops.

Macy's, which was Albert's until its sale in 1952, is still remembered by that name by older residents, as are Kaufman's in San Anselmo and Mayer's Ltd., in Mill Valley, which were branch Albert's stores until Albert turned them over to his sons-in-law.

ACTIVE WORKER

There are other, less visible, monuments. Albert was always in the forefront in any effort for improvement of downtown San Rafael. Chamber of Commerce committees consistently sought his membership. And he was known to tenants in his downtown buildings as a most liberal landlord, eager to keep his properties attractive and in good repair.

He was active in the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, heading the Easter Seal campaign in 1959; was a member of the Marin Boy Scout Council, a director of the Community Chest, and active in the Rotary Club. He was a director of Temple Rodef Sholom.

'A GREAT MAN'

"He was a great man; he really reserves to be called 'great,'" declared Everett Murphy, contractor on some of Albert's projects.

"He was like a father," said Robert W. F. Severin, architect of several of Albert's most recent building and remodeling projects.

Albert was good to the city to which he was brought as a child by his father, pioneer merchant Jacob Albert. And the city was good to him.

He was reputed to be a millionaire—although a most unassuming one. When his father died in 1946, he was appointed to the city council in the senior Albert's place, serving until 1953. He was honored by the Chamber of Commerce last

Brown Renews Tax Plan Plea —Denies Swearing At GOP

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown pleaded anew today for bipartisan support to push his embattled tax plan through the legislature in its closing weeks.

The governor offered new figures which he said showed that "business is good" — and showed, too, he said, that new taxes can be avoided.

He announced that California's personal income in the first quarter of 1963 increased 954 million to 12.5 billion dollars. This, he said, is "an outstanding demonstration of California prosperity."

By contrast, New York's increase was given as 414 million dollars.

The Democratic administration has encountered trouble in both Democratic - controlled houses in winning acceptance of Brown's proposal to accelerate tax payments and install the withholding system to collect income taxes.

With these revisions, the governor contends he can balance the next two or three budgets without additional taxes. The Republican caucas voted last week to block Brown's budget until the Democratic majority rejects the withholding bill.

Brown told his news conference today that he had talked with three or four unidentified Republican leaders who, he said, reported they didn't attend the GOP caucus and have made no commitments on the tax controversy.

He said the Republicans came to see him about things they want. He said they were good things but that he told the callers they can be carried out only if the state has the money.

The governor denied he used intemperate language when he summoned Assembly Minority Leader Charles Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks) and GOP Caucus Chairman Don Mulford (R-Piedmont) to his office last week and criticized the caucus stand as "blackmail."

Mulford later said that Brown cursed his own party's leadership. Brown said "I may have used a rough word but not a profane word."

In any event, he said he wasn't referring at the time to the Democratic leadership.

"I may have said, 'Don't blame me for what those

Belvedere Planners Against Annexation

The Belvedere Planning tCommission last night voted unanimously against proceeding with annexation of portions of Tiburon.

It will so recommend to the Belvedere City Council.

The commissioners cited the following reasons for their decisions:

1. The border between Belvedere and the new City of Tiburon should be set after advice from a technician in the planning field. It should be set "on the basis of sound planning, not for commercial reasons."

2. Annexation would have possible adverse effect on Tiburon.

They further felt the city should consider annexing the rest of the Boardwalk Shopping Center which is now in Tiburon, providing the offer was made by the Belvedere Land Co., owner of the property.

Commissioner Frederick Jandrey said: "The area must develop together. Piecemeal development will have repercussions for both cities."

Robert Moor, a spectator, asked for confirmation of a rumor that David W. Allen had told the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce board that he would withdraw Belvedere Land Co. property from the annexation area.

At this point William H. Rafter presented a resolution from the chamber board opposing annexation.

"Will the land company withdraw?" Moor persisted.

"Allen wrote the resolution," replied Rafter.

Anti-Bias Committee Activated

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today ordered the reactivation of Marin County Committee on Racial Discrimination.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman was dissenter in the 4-1 vote to reestablish the committee, which has been inactive for two years.

Suggestion for reactivation of the committee came from two members of the Citizen's Advisory Committee on Development of Marin County. In a letter to the board, two advisory committee members, Helen R. Anderson and Ernest Schallinger, urged the committee again be set into action to "coordinate groups working for equal housing opportunities for all Marin citizens."

Supervisor Peter Behr moved for the committee's reactiv-

Sausalito Ungraded Classes Set

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Two classes at Marin City's Manzanita School next fall will use the new ungraded program or "individualized learning" concept.

Sausalito School District trustees approved the plan for one year trial last night. In addition they agreed that Manzanita, now a kindergarten through third grade school, will add two fourth grade classes.

Recommendations were made to the board by teacher George H. Gregg, chairman of the curriculum study committee of 16 teachers, and Supt. Marcus F. Davis.

It is believed that Sausalito will be the first district in Marin to experiment with the ungraded program, said Morris Brown, Manzanita principal. It is also called non-graded and multi-graded. Contrary to ability grouping, which works on conformity, the ungraded program works on differences, Brown said.

The program "will benefit the immature and slow moving as well as the average and fast-moving child," said Rose

Negro Is Beaten At White Lunch Counter

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—A Negro student was kicked and beaten today at a white lunch counter where he and two Negro coeds sought service to start promised civil rights demonstrations in this rigidly segregated Mississippi capital.

Five other young Negroes were arrested for picketing outside downtown department stores.

Russia Fires Rockets To Mid-Pacific

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union, in tests designed to boost its manned space program, has fired rockets nearly 7,500 miles into the central Pacific Ocean, Tass said today.

The Soviet news agency said the final stages of the rockets hit their target areas "with a high degree of accuracy."

The tests were carried out May 18 and 25, Tass said. It did not say how many rockets were fired.

It identified the rockets as "perfected variants of carrier rockets for outer space objects."

The test firings followed the launching of another Cosmos satellite, the 18th in a series of unmanned Sputniks designed to pave the way for another manned space flight—possibly by a woman.

The announcement said the Pacific test area, which earlier was "closed" for foreign ships and airplanes, "is now free for sea traffic and flights."

Kennedy Signs Recreation Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy signed today a bill to promote and develop outdoor recreation programs.

Congressional passage of the bill was described by the president as recognition "of the vital need to protect and wisely administer this nation's great heritage of outdoor recreation resources."

Signing the bill in his White House office, with about a dozen pens, the president noted that those about him had been instrumental in getting the bill through Congress.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp. announced today that the Moscow Film Festival has turned down a showing of "The Longest Day," a film recounting the D-Day invasion of France in World War II, because "it does not involve the Soviets in any way and is removed from their interest."

Lisbon Roof Collapses, 38 Are Feared Dead

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — A rain - weakened 220-foot-long concrete roof collapsed today on a crowd of persons standing on a platform of Lisbon's busiest railway station, causing many deaths and injuries.

Hospital officials said at least 38 persons were killed and 35 injured.

Voter Bill Passes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly today passed a bill allowing voters to use a pencil, a ballpoint pen or "any other marking device" on a ballot. Under present law, a rubber stamp must be used or the vote does not count.

Dies After Liver Transplant

DENVER (AP)—William Grigsby, 47, a janitor, died last night, 22 days after he received the liver of a dead man in a rare transplant operation.

Physicians said Grigsby contracted pneumonia Sunday but the exact cause of death has not been determined.

Grigsby, who had cancer of the liver, received X-ray treatments and drugs to aid his body in accepting the substitute organ.

Food After 136-Pound Loss

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A 39-year-old woman who lost 136 pounds in a record 117 days on a diet of water and vitamin injections was back on food today — and not so sure she likes it.

Mrs. Johnson

"I guess I haven't had enough to eat yet to activate my appetite," said Mrs. Elaine Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson, five-foot, six-inch former wave, weighed 315 pounds when she entered Wadsworth Veterans Administration Hospital to take part in a research project into severe obesity.

Her first meal since Jan. 28 was a spoonful of cottage cheese and about one-fourth cup of eggnog.

"I couldn't eat it all," she said. "It was too much."

Artist Has New 'Petty Girl'

MONTEREY (UPI)—George Petty, the creator of the shapely cuties who inspired the pre-war generation of American males, has selected a new "Petty Girl."

She's 58, has graying hair, wears glasses and a motherly smile.

Petty, now 68, married the former Elizabeth Hetzler May 10, it was revealed here today. Both the bride and groom will continue to live at Hacienda Carmel, a senior citizen community on the Monterey Peninsula.

Petty's first wife, who served as model for the first Petty Girl in Esquire Magazine in 1935, died five years ago.

Surgeon Saves Severed Arm

DIJON, France (AP)—Alain Vachey, 22, was back at his job as a truck driver today three months after his right arm was nearly cut off in an accident.

All but a narrow band of flesh was severed off his upper arm by a falling beam. A Dijon surgeon operated for three hours mending the bone and re-attaching blood vessels and nerves.

Vachey has recovered almost full use of the arm.

Little Test Ban Hope Seen

GENEVA (UPI) — Neutral delegations to the 17-nation disarmament conference today welcomed the initiative of American senators for a partial nuclear test ban but expressed little hope it would succeed.

The delegates said privately the new initiative is a further indication of the mounting American desire for a quick test ban.

Senators Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.), and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), called yesterday for the offering to the Soviets of a partial test ban treaty banning tests in the atmosphere and under water.

Meningitis Death

SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP)—Meningitis caused the death yesterday of A. D. Williams, 38, an inmate at the San Luis Obispo County honor farm, the county health department said today.

Williams was found in a coma at the farm and died in a hospital here.

Dr. George Harper, county health officer, directed that all prisoners at the honor farm be treated with sulpha drugs as a precautionary measure.

Williams was serving a year's sentence for robbing a Grover City cafe.

Inquiry Into Sulphur Queen Ends—Fate Of Ship Unknown

NEW YORK (AP) — A Coast Guard board of inquiry has ended 37 days of public hearings stymied in its effort to find out how the tanker Marine Sulphur Queen disappeared with 39 crewmen.

The ship, carrying molten sulphur, was last heard from on Feb. 4, off the coast of Florida in rough seas. There was no distress signal.

Rear Adm. James D. Craik, who headed the board of inquiry, said yesterday that in the absence of any survivors or conclusive evidence the exact cause for the disappearance could not be ascertained.

He said the only conclusion that could be drawn was that the ship sank in or near the Straits of Florida. Study of evidence and testimony will continue.

The Marine Sulphur Queen sailed Feb. 2 from Beaumont, Tex., bound for Norfolk, Va. She was a converted tanker fitted with special tanks for sulphur, kept molten by steam pipes.

The testimony dwelt mainly on construction details of the ship and analysis of the debris found some time after she disappeared.

Laboratory reports said there was no indication of any fire or explosion. Specialists testified that molten sulpur is not normally considered dangerously explosive.

The testimony also considered whether there was a structural breakdown. The sulphur tanks were attached to the hull with bolts that slid back and forth to allow for expansion and contraction of the tanks as the temperature varied.

Cmdr. Albert S. Frevola, recorder of the inquiry board, noted that another sulphur tanker, not identified, experienced an "explosive-like report" last June 27 and its tanks bulged about 10 inches on each side.

Witnesses testified that the condition of Marine Sulphur Queen life-jackets found later indicated that some of the men may have left the ship alive. The jackets had been used, they said, and some were torn as if a shark had bitten them.

Thirty-seven witnesses testified here and in Beaumont.

Syria, Iraq Reportedly In New Anti-Nasser Move

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Syria and Iraq were reported today planning new moves of bilateral unity aimed against Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Reports reaching here said Iraq may send a token military force to Syria to show Nasser that Baath socialist leaders of the two countries are determined to remain closely aligned in a campaign for Arab unity on their own terms.

The neighboring countries signed an agreement with Nasser April 17 to form a new United Arab Republic that would link them with Egypt by September.

But events since indicate the agreement is close to a total breakdown.

The Iraqi and Syrian regimes are controlled by the Baath party, a group pledged to Arab unity. The party has fought an almost ceaseless struggle against pro-Nasser elements within the countries since April 17.

ELECTRICAL AMPLIFIER CAUSED SPACE FAILURE

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Expert scientific detective work has determined that troubles with an electrical amplifier caused the failures which forced astronaut Gordon Cooper to steer his space craft manually back to earth.

Moisture, perhaps from Cooper's perspiring, corroded a connection on the small electronic box called an Amp Cal—for amplifier calibration—and wiped out all spacecraft automatic controls down to a certain re-entry point.

An electrical short in an Amp Cal solder connection, probably because of faulty insulation, knocked out the remainder of the automatic re-entry controls and left Cooper on his own with the manual system.

These results of exhaustive tests were reported last night by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Amp Cal is designed to change electrical signals received from various spacecraft sensors, such as gyroscopes and infrared horizon scanners, into firing commands which ignite small jets in the capsule's automatic system.

The streams of hydrogen peroxide gas shooting from the jets maintain the spacecraft's proper position and angle in relation to the earth.

As Cooper whirled on the 19th of his 22 orbits two weeks ago, a green light labeled .05g suddenly flashed on and indicated erroneously that he might be re-entering the atmosphere early. Then two inverters which transform alternating to direct current to support certain automatic functions did not work.

Electronics Industry Future Held Promising

PALO ALTO (AP)—The booming electronics industry of the San Francisco Peninsula faces an even greater future, Dr. Frederick E. Terman, Stanford University provost, predicted yesterday.

The scientist-educator spoke as a "bona fide old-timer" of electronics at a joint luncheon meeting of the Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club.

He traced the area's electronics developments, recalling that "the old Federal Telegraph Co. of Palo Alto" gave Ernest O. Lawrence in 1931 an enormous magnet he needed for a big cyclotron at the University of California.

"If Lawrence (inventor of the atom smasher) had not been able to go from his baby cyclotron to the mammoth 42-inch cyclotron in one step," Dr. Terman said, "the development of nuclear physics would have been delayed by years.

"This would have almost certainly meant that there would have been no atomic bomb in World War II."

SHE'S BEING 'PROMOTED'—Mrs. Eva Longley, who has taught 20 of her 31 years in the teaching profession at San Rafael's West End School, a block from her home, will put away chalk and ruler with the close of school next month. Handbag on desk as she talks with two of her third grade pupils was given her as a retirement gift.

END OF 31-YEAR CAREER

Her Pupils Believe Teacher Is 'Promoted To Retirement'

Mrs. Eva Longley, a teacher for 31 years, is retiring next month, but as far as her pupils are concerned she is being "promoted."

When she told her third grade pupils at West End School in San Rafael that she was leaving, they assumed that she was being "promoted to retirement."

When she showed them a handbag she had received as a retirement gift, one pupil said, "It's just like Christmas."

Mrs. Longley is receiving her "promotion" after a teaching career that started at the since-abandoned Point Pierce School on the Point Reyes Peninsula.

She is officially credited with 28 years of teaching, all of them in Marin County and 20 of them at the West End School. But she has kept at the teaching task continuously for 31 years; filling in the years when she was not a fulltime teacher by substituting and tutoring at her home.

"I never stopped," she said. "If you enjoy it, you never give up entirely."

The teaching materials have improved through the years, but the children are still children, she said. "You have to enjoy children."

When she started at the Point Pierce School she had 15 pupils and taught all grades. "I didn't mind it. I was used to the country," she said.

After two years at Point Reyes, she began the first of three stints at the West End School, working there for a year. After a year of substituting in various districts she returned to the West End School for a three-year stay from 1936-39.

"This is my second time to retire," she said. "I had to retire in 1939 because they had a rule that married teachers couldn't hold the job. There were only a few jobs then."

For the next three years, she concentrated on tutoring and substituting.

During World War II her husband, Floyd, was called into the service and she became what she describes as a "pioneer teacher" at the Marin City School in 1942-44.

"There were shipyard workers and families from all over," she said. "We had schools in old duplexes."

In 1944 she transferred to the Sausalito Central School and stayed there until 1947 when she "got tired of commuting" from San Rafael. The Longleys live at 1945 Fifth Avenue, just a block from West End School. For the last 16 years she has been on the job at her home neighborhood school.

"Teaching is a fulltime job, and I want a little leisure. I want to go to Europe," she said, explaining her reason for retiring.

On teaching methods, she said: "You still need drill. They say we don't teach phonics, but we do."

She said she has enjoyed the "atmosphere and the teamwork" at the West End School and described the Parent-Teacher Assn. at the school as "outstanding."

Tam High Junior Will Work At Park

Donald Kaufmann, a Tamalpais High School junior, has been chosen to be a member of the student conservation program group at Olympic National Park from June 27 to July 17. Kaufmann is son of Nona O. Kaufmann of 82 South Knoll Road, Mill Valley.

The group will assist in building shelters and camp facilities for park visitors, rehabilitating over-used areas, and constructing trails.

Lawrence Grad

Glenn Athearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Athearn, 146 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, will be graduated from Sarah Lawrence College, Bronzville, N.Y., Sunday with a bachelor of arts degree.

East Blithedale Plan On Mill Valley Agenda

Mill Valley planning commissioners will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. tomorrow on City Engineer Stanley M. Bala's proposal to make East Blithedale Avenue four lanes from the Alto Interchange to Camino Alto.

Sidewalks, asked for by both Mill Valley Elementary School, and bicycle trails will be part of the proposal. The hearing is first on the agenda of the commission meeting.

WHICH AUTO TOW SERVICE CALLED?

Which tow truck service tows your car away in San Rafael after an accident if you do not belong to the National Automobile Club or California State Automobile Assn. or request a specific garage?

The situation is confusing.

It is so confusing that San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa has called for a meeting of garage owners in his office, tentatively set for 10 a.m. Thursday.

The confusion lies in the fact that of the seven garages on the police's "rotating" accident call list:

1. At least three garage owners are not aware there is such a list.

2. Some garages do not want to respond at night.

3. At least one garage refuses to pick up abandoned cars.

4. And one garage will tow only its customers' cars.

For April and May, through last Saturday, two tow truck services have received the bulk of the wrecked car business.

Police officers, in their reports, do not always note if a tow truck was called. But in those reports where it was noted, D and S Garage towed 12 cars and Rossi's Garage, 11.

D and S Garage is the National Automobile Club agent in San Rafael, while Rossi's Garage is the California State Automobile Assn. (AAA) towing service.

Of the other garages, Duffy Brothers and Milani's Garage each got two wrecked cars and Dot-Sons Garage got one. Key Body and Fender Works and Jack L. Hunt got none.

Asst. Chief Joseph J. Brusatori, speaking for Chief Chiesa, said the police distributed towing of wrecked cars among the seven garages on a "rotating basis," similar to the California Highway Patrol system.

He said that a new list was being worked on and that the chief had called the meeting so "all garages can get an equal amount of everything." Brusatori added that a uniform rate schedule would be discussed.

Besides cars needing towing from accident scenes, Brusatori said the new rotation schedule would include towing of abandoned cars and cars blocking driveways.

At present, Brusatori said, "Some garages will not go out at night and some won't take abandoned cars." He pointed out that only D and S and Rossi's garages are open to 1 a.m.

Recreation Due Study In Marin

The future of outdoor recreation in Marin will be discussed at a special meeting June 5 at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Sponsored by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission, the discussion, called "the many faces of recreation," will consider the "improvement of existing services and possible new services."

A panel to be led by county parks and recreation director Kelvin J. Nelson will include Richard Conzelmann, Terra Linda recreation district director; Roger Allin, field representative of the Department of Interior; Gladys Snyder, recreation specialist of the State Division of Beaches and Parks; Duane Mattison, Contra Costa County Director of Parks, and Grant Mainland, director of recreation for the city of Alameda.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis will talk about regional planning of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

Nelson said more than 150 representatives of conservation groups and homeowners associations have been invited to the discussion, to be held in the Board of Supervisors room.

Acree To Seek A New Trial

William Arthur Acree, 20, of Mill Valley, convicted of misdemeanor manslaughter in the traffic death of a Kentfield youth on New Year's Eve, will argue for a new trial on June 3.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in Marin Superior Court, set 3 p.m. June 3 to hear the arguments by defense lawyer William O. Weissich.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety prosecuted the case. A car driven by Acree hit two pedestrians near Marin City on New Year's Eve. Robert T. McMullen, 19, of Kentfield, died the next day, and William R. Costello Jr., 19, of Larkspur, was severely injured.

On Honor Roll

Susan Lang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph D. Lang, 110 San Pedro Road, San Rafael, has been named to the honor roll for sophomores at Scripps College, Claremont.

Fire Prevention Winners Named

Five Redwood High School students and one from Fairfax Central School were named for cash awards ranging from $5 to $25 in a poster contest on forest fire prevention.

Named for awards by the Redwood Region Conservation Council in the senior age classification were Lonnie Briggs and Georgine Lemme, both from the Larkspur high school. Also winning checks in the junior high classification from Redwood were Anne Nicholson, Marilyn Graham and Carol Abrams.

Carrie Schriebman, Fairfax Central, placed in the junior high competition.

Development Association Nominates

Nomination of Rex T. Silvernale for presidency of the Marin County Development Assn. starting July 1 was announced today by Daniel C. Davis, present president whose term expires on that date.

Silvernale, who is vice president of Hutchinson Co. construction aggregate suppliers of Greenbrae, has been a vice president of the development association for two years.

His other civic activities including 10 years on the San Rafael Board of Education with two as president; several years on the board of managers of the YMCA in Marin and two as president, various committees as well as vice president of United Crusade, and for a number of years on the board of directors of the Sub- and Material Contractors Assn. of Marin.

Nominated to serve as officers of the development association with Silvernale were: Eugene A. Ostaggi, private investments, Ross, first vice president; Irving D. Chapman, Chapman's Shoes, San Rafael, second vice president; Peter J. Ferrarese, manager, Crocker-Anglo National Bank, Novato, secretary, and Lee R. Ceccotti, president, Ceccotti and Son of Marin, Inc., general contractors, Corte Madera, treasurer.

Names of all nominees will be submitted to members of the association at its annual meeting at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club on June 20. They were selected by a nominating committee composed of Fred F. Enemark, chairman, Walter R. Castro Sr., Ray Muir, Ostaggi, and Burt C. Wheeler.

Rowland Boulevard On Novato Agenda

Repair of Rowland Boulevard where it was broken by construction trucks will be taken up by the Novato City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. today at the Community House.

The council will also consider the future of the John Novak swimming pool in St. Francis Heights. This is the unfinished pool in which a small boy almost drowned two weeks ago.

New, Lively Texts Will Help Spark Interest In Math

By LOREN MacARTHUR

Students learn mathematics better with brightly colored textbooks and an interesting arrangement of mathematical explanations in the texts, Marin math teachers agree.

For this reason, high schools in the county are choosing commercially published textbooks featuring the "new math" rather than continuing their use of the pioneer "new math" textbooks, published by the School Mathematics Study Group (SMSG).

"We are using the SMSG texts now in our three high schools," said Robert Torrey, assistant superintendent of Tamalpais Union High School District. "They were just about the only books available when we began teaching the new math. We selected them because we thought they were the best of what we could get.

"It's a fact, however, that the SMSG, which is sponsored by the National Foundation, was organized to prepare new math programs to be tried out. It was always with the idea that commercial publishers would use the groups' work as a basis for their own texts. The SMSG was always conceived as a temporary publishing program."

The study group's texts are available to fourth graders through high school students from Yale University Press.

"Algebra: a Modern Approach," by Peters and Schaaf, published by Van Nostrand in 1963, is the book chosen by the Tamalpais district to be used this fall for its first year algebra course.

"The SMSG texts we've been using are paperback books, besides being mimeographed. They are not books in format, make-up or durability compared with regular commercially bound and published textbooks," Torrey said.

"Our students have shown interest in the new math. We expect more interest with the new books, which have a good use of color and print."

Torrey said there was "no question" whether the new math is a success with the students. "We're teaching modern math to the same students who learned it the old way. Ideas that were formerly introduced only in college are now being taught and understood in high school," he said.

Paul Mobley, director of curriculum for Novato Unified School District, said the new math has had a "spotty" introduction in Novato High School.

"We've been using a semi-traditional book," he said. "The SMSG books came only in paperback and are extremely costly since they have to be replaced so often."

Mobley said commercial new mathematics texts for use in the district will be chosen by July. "Our (the high school's) choice of texts isn't limited to the free books distributed by the state," he said. High schools pay for their texts with district funds; only the elementary schools receive free books."

Three mathematics classes of 42 at San Rafael High School have been using the SMSG texts, according to F. Ewing Bone, head of the mathematics department at the school.

"The SMSG books are not worth using permanently," Bone said. "The format is rather uninteresting, and they are paperback. I don't consider them as good learning tools as the modern texts."

A teacher's committee studied 11 "new math" algebra texts for use in San Rafael High School and decided on one called "Modern Algebra" by Dolciani and published by Houghton-Miflin, Bone said. The book will be used in the fall, he said, at the same time a new geometry text, still to be chosen, is put into use.

Should you buy your child a Life Insurance policy?

There are many worthwhile benefits when a child has a policy of his (or her) very own. It has the lifetime advantage of a low premium rate. It encourages thrift and lays the foundation for a growing personal estate.

But a note of caution—there are more important questions to answer first. Have you, the father, adequate insurance on your own life? Is there enough to guarantee the family their food, clothing, shelter and education requirements for as long as needed?

If you would like competent guidance on this problem the Man from Manufacturers is a good man to talk to. He'll put first things first—help you establish objectives for all-round family security. He'll give you a realistic plan for the future that will take the "hit and miss" out of buying life insurance. Why not call him today!

PISTOL CHAMPS HEAD FOR INDIANA

Three-time state champions, these five "top guns" from the Marin sheriff's office will leave Thursday morning to try for the national pistol title in Bloomington, Ind. The trip is financed by funds received from a dinner sponsored by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos two Saturdays ago. The team will drive two new station wagons, donated free by Ames Ford Sales of San Rafael. They hope to arrive in Indiana on Sunday, shoot Tuesday through Saturday, and return to Marin on June 11 or 12. Left to right, they are: Sgt. Edward Levine, Capt. Sid Stinson, Lt. Carl Sears, Deputy William Johansen, and Deputy Ernest Nielsen. (Independent-Journal photo)

Harry Albert Dies At 70 In His Sleep

January as the man who did the most for downtown San Rafael in 1962.

Albert was born in Carbondale, Pa., on Aug. 6, 1892, son of Jacob and Annie Albert, who had immigrated to the United States from Palestine via Russia.

The family settled in Marin by chance, according to Albert. The father, heading west to "the land of opportunity" with a peddler's pack, reached San Francisco with a single dollar in his pocket. He paid it for a ticket to take him "as far north as it will go." It took him to Tocaloma.

The senior Albert peddled household goods from house to house for several years, then set up a store, the Wonder, at Fourth and B streets in San Rafael—across the street from the present Albert Building.

Harry Albert learned his father's business from the bottom up, beginning as delivery boy while attending San Rafael High School. In the 1920s, he took over. In succeeding years, the interests of Albert's firm extended from Marin south to Los Angeles County, and included department stores in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Mill Valley and Richmond.

The San Rafael and Richmond stores were sold to Macy's in 1952, and those in San Anselmo were turned over to Albert's sons-in-law, Mozart Kaufman and Lawrence A. Mayer. But Albert remained active in management of his many properties.

He introduced several "firsts" in San Rafael. The Albert Building had the town's first elevator. The first—and still only—roof parking is on a building Albert erected at Fifth Avenue and C Street.

As he left no son, the name of Albert will vanish from the San Rafael business community. But it will remain in the Albert Building, which he built, and in Albert Park, which was given the city by his father.

His marriage to Rose Marylander in Chicago in 1918 followed service in the Army in World War I, as an infantry sergeant in the 363rd Regiment of the 91st Division and then as a second lieutenant in the Quartermaster Corps.

Surviving are his wife; his daughters, Mrs. Lois Kaufman and Mrs. Betty Mayer both of Kentfield; two sisters, Mrs. Alice (Charles) Marcus of San Rafael and Mrs. Bertha Grossman of Napa, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Thursday at Sinai Memorial Chapel, Divisadero Street at Geary, San Francisco. Entombment will be in Portals of Eternity, Colma.

BROWN

(pause) do.' I don't want to say it on TV."

The word, he said, was used more as a term of endearment.

Brown said he talked later with his young daughter, a student at a private high school in Monterey, and quoted her, "Daddy, you don't swear, do you?"

"I said, 'Well, you know I do sometimes.' I left it at that."

The governor brushed off as "a very small conformity tax" a bill passed by the Assembly to lower the exemptions on the state gift tax. Republicans said the administration measure, involving $500,000 in additional income, violated Brown's no-new-tax pledge. Brown said it was designed to fit state regulations to federal.

As for a proposed 70-million-dollar boost in motor vehicle taxes, he said "I put that in another category." He again refrained from saying he would veto it if it wins final passage.

Petersen, Manzanita teacher.

"If a third grade child can read fifth grade level," she explained, "the teacher lets him read it. . . . It does not put the pressure on the slow or immature child."

Both Brown and Mrs. Petersen stressed that parents must be advised. Mrs. Petersen said "it should be purely voluntary on the part of the parents."

Trustees voted 3-0 to adopt the system, with Trustees Juanita Cobb and Dr. Stanley Wolfe absent.

Other recommendations in the committee report were taken under consideration.

One is a suggestion that Bayside be changed from a third through sixth grade to a third-fourth grade school; Richardson Bay now fourth through eighth, become fifth through eighth, and Central School, now kindergarten through second grade, remain as it is. These changes, Davis said, revolve around whether many pupils leave the fort areas as has been hinted.

Gasbarrini told newsmen the Pope's condition was stationary.

That statement was enough to cause concern. It contrasted with Vatican statements yesterday that the Pope was slightly improved.

The switchboard operator told them yesterday: "A little better."

Accounting Asked For Student Fund

The San Rafael Board of Education tonight will be asked to spend $750 to set up an accounting system for San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools' student body funds, amounting to some $69,950 during the 1961-62 school year.

The board will consider a request it pay $750 to Weiser, Dreiman & Weseman, auditors for the San Rafael schools, to establish a "standardized and efficient district accounting procedure for student body funds." The board meets at 7:30 p.m. in the administration office.

The state laws governing accounting of student body funds are so complicated it will take 40 to 60 hours of an accountant's time to set up an accounting system, said Charles L. Condrotte, business manager for San Rafael schools.

Management of the funds, which is now handled jointly by students and teachers, came under fire last fall when money from one student account was temporarily borrowed for another account.

"The state laws say this borrowing from one account to another can only be done under certain conditions," said Condrotte. "Since the auditors are the ones who have been finding fault with the way the accounts are kept, we think they ought to set up the system." He said he checked with a local bank, which said it was not set up to organize such an accounting system.

Funds in the student accounts were $5,196 at San Rafael high and $3,381 at Terra Linda high when the auditors checked last June. But Condrotte said total amounts handled during the year by the various student groups were $43,490 at San Rafael High School and $26,400 at Terra Linda High School.

ation, saying: "The board of supervisors should take the leadership in this matter. . . . Equal opportunities obviously don't exist in housing in this county. Everybody knows this. There is a conspiracy among real estate brokers to prevent fair housing. This is admitted by them."

Fusselman said he voted against the reactivation because "the state is now doing something and we can speak only for the unincorporated area of the county. If all 10 cities were to concur in fair housing, I would go along with their action."

The board of supervisors has twice rejected proposed fair housing laws for the county, once in 1960 and again in 1962.

The committee was set up in 1959 on recommendation of several church leaders. Its studies lead to the board's first hearing on proposed fair housing.

Supervisor George Ludy, who seconded Behr's motion, suggested, however, that some of the development advisory committee's other recommendations should be "swept under the rug."

Anderson and Schallinger also recommended a transportation study, plans for completion of the Civic Center, control over small lot splitting, and further Marin City development studies.

Ludy said "we're doing everything we can on most of these things."

At chairman Walter R. Castro's suggestion, the board decided to reconsider its appointments to the advisory committee, established in 1957, because Anderson and Schallinger reported poor attendance at meetings.

OBITUARIES

Frank Bordenave Rites Set

Requiem Mass for Frank Bordenave, owner of Bordenave's San Rafael French Bakery at 1553 Fourth Street, will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church.

Bordenave, 72, died in a San Francisco hospital yesterday after a long illness.

The funeral cortege will leave Keaton's Mortuary at 10:15 a.m. Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. today at Keaton's.

Bordenave came to Marin County in 1910, bringing with him from France the formula for French bread which has been used ever since by his bakery. He leaves his wife, Honorine, and a daughter, Mrs. Gabrielle Gillette of San Rafael.

Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

MRS. HENRY

Memorial services for Mrs. Lucretya Smith Henry of Sausalito will he held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at Cathedral Grove in Muir Woods.

Mrs. Henry, 55, died Saturday night after a piece of lettuce and tomato stuck in her throat and blocked her respiratory system. She and her husband, Theodore, were aboard their boat, which was docked at the Sausalito Yacht Harbor.

The family prefers tributes be contributions to the City of Hope or the Natural Wildlife Federation.

LUIGI MARENCO

Requiem Mass for Luigi Marenco of 78 Domingo Avenue, Fairfax, will be said tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at Saints Peter and Paul Church in San Francisco.

Marenco, 67, a native of Italy, died Sunday in a local hospital after a short illness. A resident of Marin County for 22 years, Marenco was a retired janitor.

He is survived by his wife, Anna; a son, Louis Marenco, and one grandchild, all of Fairfax.

The Rosary will be recited today at 8 p.m. at Valente-Marini-Perata and Co. Mortuary, 649 Green Street, San Francisco. Entombment will be in Holy Cross Mausoleum, Colma.

MRS. DISMUKES

Mrs. Harriett W. Dismukes, who had been living in Novato with her daughter since March, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness.

A native of Elmo, Mo., she had come to Novato from her home of 27 years in Spokane, Wash.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Genevieve Sewell, 1291 Parkwood Drive, Novato, five grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral is scheduled for 11 a.m. Friday at Smith Funeral Home, Spokane.

MRS. FULLER

Private memorial services were held today for Mrs. Crescentia Fuller, who died Friday in a local hospital after an illness of several years. She had lived in San Rafael since 1892.

She had been living in a convalescent hospital for three years before her death.

Mrs. Fuller, 88, was born Crescentia Smith in Rochester, N.Y., and came to Marin County with her family. The original family home in San Rafael stood where the Independent-Journal Building is now.

Several of Mrs. Fuller's sisters graduated as nurses in San Francisco, and the house on B Street was often used for surgery by early physicians in the area, because there was no hospital in the area.

She was married in 1903 to Stuart C. Fuller, the marriage lasting 60 years until his death in March.

Before her illness Mrs. Fuller was active in San Rafael school affairs, and helped organize the High School Mothers Club, later to become the Parent-Teacher Association.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Eunice Shafer, 145 Barber Avenue, San Anselmo; a son, Dr. George S. Fuller, 1116 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, and a greatgranddaughter, Mrs. Joan C. Hare, San Jose.

Postoffice Stamp Window Is Licked

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The bronze-barred postoffice stamp window is going the way of the four-cent stamp.

There are now just four stamp windows left in Richmond, and all are in the main post office. A postal spokesman estimates the post office can save $10,000 a year by changing to "multipurpose counters."

But long-time postal workers still eye the old stamp windows nostagically.

On Aircraft Carrier

Ronald L. Slack, Navy radarman third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy B. Slack of 39 Shell Road, Mill Valley, serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier Coral Sea on a goodwill cruise to Australia recently participated in the 21st annual celebration in Sydney to commemorate the Battle of the Coral Sea.

Desegregation Order Refused

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge refused today to order city schools desegregated, but he warned that a state pupil placement law must be applied without discrimination.

U.S. District Judge Seybourn H. Lynne denied a requested injunction against school segregation. He ruled that Negro complainants in a 1960 suit had not exhausted remedies afforded by the 1956 statute which gives school boards wide authority in assigning pupils.

Hinging his decision on the law's validity, Lynne said if the state is unconstitutionally applied, then he would be "compelled to order the submission of a desegregation plan."

Despite clear evidence of a segregated school system, Lynne said Supt. Theo R. Wright and board members had assured him they stood ready to comply with the law.

"This court will not sanction discrimination by them in the name of the placement law, but it is unwilling to grant injunctive relief until their good faith has been tested," Lynne held.

Adequate time remains before the fall term for the processing of assignment or transfer applications in behalf of interested individuals, he said.

Lynne ruled in the case of James Armstrong's four children. He dismissed from the same suit two other parents and threw out a 1962 suit of similar nature by Rev. T. N. Nelson because their children no longer attended Birmingham schools.

Relying on decisions of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upholding a similar North Carolina law, Lynne held that the Alabama statute must be tested. It has been upheld on its face by the U.S. Supreme Court, which warned it could be unconstitutionally applied.

Judges of the Fifth Circuit, which includes Alabama, have never considered the Alabama law, Lynne said.

He said the initiative in integration lies with the pupil, not school authorities. The uncontroverted evidence, Lynne said, was that no Negro child has sought transfer to a white school "and pursued the remedies afforded by such statute."

Lynne said his course had been staked out by a 1958 decision of a federal judge panel which held the law "furnishes the legal machinery for an orderly administration of the public schools in a constitutional manner by the admission of qualified pupils upon a basis of individual merit without regard to their race or color."

Originally aimed at preserving segregation, the law was drafted by former Lt. Gov. Albert Boutwell, now mayor of Birmingham.

The U.S. Supreme Court said yesterday it will not tolerate avoidable delay in the carrying out of its 1955 order for all deliberate speed in school integration cases.

Both suits before Lynne requested injunctions barring the operation of segregated schools in Birmingham.

The first suit was filed in June 1960 by Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, James Armstrong and Vann English on behalf of their children. The second was brought in June 1962 by T. N. Nelson for his two children.

Nelson's suit said he made no request for transfer of his children to white schools under Alabama's pupil placement law because "the remedy there provided is inadequate."

Two white women, Mrs. John Fuller and Mrs. L. W. Fiquett, said yesterday they had met repeated failure in efforts to gain support for peaceful school desegregation.

"Everybody is afraid to a degree that is absolutely fantastic," said Mrs. Fuller. "There are still too many people who are afraid to do anything active toward peaceful desegregation."

Mrs. Fiquett said a group she headed met once, then disbanded because of "so much opposition and denunciation."

In Montgomery, U.S. marshals attempted to serve papers on Gov. George C. Wallace formally notifying him of a suit seeking to prevent the governor from carrying out his promised intervention when two Negroes try to enroll at white units of the University of Alabama for the June 10 summer term.

The heavily guarded governor eluded the marshals, however, and they handed the papers to a Negro maid at the mansion. They told her: "Be sure he gets them."

A court ruling may be necessary to determine whether acceptance of the papers by the servant constitutes legal service on Wallace.

Elsewhere on the racial scene:

The Congress of Racial Equality extended for 24 hours a temporary halt to racial demonstrations at Greensboro, N.C. Trials of 81 Negro demonstrators charged with trespassing were postponed to June 10.

Thirteen Negro leaders presented Mayor Allen Thompson of Jackson, Miss., a list of eight desegregation goals for the city. The mayor then asked for discussions to work out the situation but the majority of the conferees left when other Negroes attempted to present their views. The goals included the hiring of Negro policemen; removal of segregation signs on public buildings; upgrading of Negro employee salaries; forming of a biracial committee; and voluntary desegregation of eating places, public facilities and eventually schools.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told owners of Southern movie theaters they should anticipate desegregation problems and try to solve them on a town by town basis. A spokesman said owners of about 80 per cent of all movie houses in the South were represented at the Justice Department meeting.

MARINITE LEAVES $300,000 ESTATE

Bank deposit books, stocks and bonds worth $287,000 were discovered yesterday in the Kentfield home of Edward Elijah Bower, 74, who was found dead in his bed yesterday morning at 4 Acacia Avenue.

Asst. Coroner William Bradley, who discovered the cache of stocks and bonds tied in bundles in a trunk, said an autopsy performed yesterday showed Bower had died of a ruptured artery in his stomach.

"The sale of his property should bring his estate to $300,000," said Bradley. "He left all of it to his brother, Sidney Howard Bowers of Stalwart, Province of Sasketchewan, Canada."

Bower, a bachelor, was a retired passenger agent for Canadian National Railways and had lived in Marin County for 25 years. He was known as "a good neighbor" to nearby residents.

"He was a quiet person who never said much to anybody," said Louis Cheesewright, who lives at 6 Acacia Avenue. "He was a very respectable man. He minded his own business and was a good neighbor."

Cheesewright yesterday called the sheriff's office because he had not seen Bower. Deputies found the body.

Marinwood Fire Budget Session Set

Marinwood Fire Commission will hold a special meeting tonight to complete work on the budget for recommendation to directors of the Marinwood Community Services District at an adjourned meeting tomorrow night.

The commissioners met last night but adjourned before final totals on the budget were determined. Commission Chairman James McElhattan said, however, fire protection in Marinwood will cost about $28,000 next fiscal year. Of this some $18,300 will be for salaries.

Last night also the commission recommended hiring of the third fulltime fireman, Frank J. Galvin, 32, of Kenwood, Sonoma County. Galvin will start June 1 at $400 a month if the CSD directors approve. He has previous experience in Citrus Heights Fire Department.

Tonight's meeting will start at 8 o'clock at the firehouse. Tomorrow's CSD directors meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the Mary E. Silvera School.

YMCA Aide Gets Going-Away Party

About 50 persons attended a surprise dinner last night honoring Louis M. Albrecht, executive secretary of the Marin County Young Men's Christian Assn., who leaves June 1 to become camp executive for the San Francisco YMCA.

Albrecht, who lives at 506 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, came to the Marin YMCA as program secretary in 1953. He was named executive secretary in 1960.

Leland H. Jordan, chairman of the board of managers, was host at the dinner at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera.

Donald Porter, program secretary, will be acting executive secretary until an appointment is announced.

Clerk To Enter Plea In Till Tapping Case

A San Rafael store clerk accused of tapping the till at Henrietta's Children's Shop where she worked, will enter her plea next Monday afternoon.

She is Mrs. Margaret McKay, 62, who faces a charge of petty theft. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court yesterday continued the case for a week at request of Mrs. McKay's attorney, D. K. MacDonald Jr.

Salesman Fined $166 For Drunken Driving

Thomas Alden Tolman, 29, San Francisco salesman, paid $166 fine yesterday for drunken driving on the Waldo Grade last Saturday.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court also put Tolman on six months probation.

Missouri Grad

John Harold Anderson of 574 Blackberry Lane, Lucas Valley, was graduated from the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy Sunday with a master of science degree in geology.

Faith Of Famed Triplets Alone After Sister Death

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—Only Faith—one of the famed Faith, Hope and Charity triplets—survived today.

Charity died at Cushing Hospital yesterday, following her sister, Hope, in death by little more than a year.

The three sisters once were the nation's oldest living triplets.

Faith is Annie Faith McDonnell. Charity was Nora Charity Murphy, widow of Edward Murphy, a former Boston and Worcester newspaperman. Hope was Ellen Hope Daniels.

The triplets were born in 1868 at North Brookfield to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Coughlin, natives of Cork County, Ireland. Their fame began early—at the age of a few weeks when they won a baby show prize.

Over the years they received birthday greetings from all parts of the world. Presidents, royalty and church leaders had extended congratulations to them.

April Living Costs Unchanged —Still Up 1% Over Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living remained unchanged during April at its record March level, the Labor Department said today.

The consumer price index remained at 106.2 per cent of the average for 1957-59. This was 1 per cent above the level of April, 1962.

The figure means it costs $10.62 now to buy what $10 would buy a year ago in the average family's budget.

Ewan Clague, director of the bureau of Labor Statistics, said that a reduction in prices for food and gasoline during April was offset by price increases for housing, used cars, newspapers and clothing.

Prices for meat, poultry and fish dropped 2 per cent during April to the lowest level since 1957.

Clague said this was mainly due to a dip in prices for beef and pork. Both went down 3.5 per cent.

So far, Clague said, there has been no major effect on the consumer price index from the soaring price of sugar. He said this price rise probably would have a gradual effect over a period of months.

EVERY ONE A QUEEN, BUT . . .

Interpol Won't Take Jewelry Theft Case

Interpol, the international police organization, will not take the case of an alleged $300,000 jewel swindle in Brazil involving two former Marinites.

Private Detective Harold Lipset of San Francisco, representing the victim, Jules R. Sauer of Brazil, was in the position today of having a seeming crime with no agency to prosecute it.

He said it would be very difficult, if not impossible, to have Bernard E. deSenan, formerly of Kentfield, and Percy Herman, formerly of Sausalito, extradited to Brazil.

"Our only hope now is getting some agency in Hong Kong to file a complaint," Lipset said. It was in Hong Kong where the jewels were received. The two men allegedly gave Sauer two $125,000 checks drawn on an account in a San Francisco bank. There was only $48 in the account. Payment on the checks was stopped before they reached the bank. Meanwhile, the jewels were sent to Hong Kong, Lipset said.

Neither deSenan nor Herman has been located.

KEEPING BREATH OF LIFE

A machine to save the life of polio victims and persons suffering chest injuries is demonstrated at the day-long workshop on respiratory diseases sponsored by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. at Sabella's Restaurant today. E. F. Carson of L. N. Curtis and Sons, Oakland, makers of the Ucyclit respirator, demonstrates it to Sandra Truex (left), a nurse at Marin General Hospital, and Mrs. Paul Looper, director of vocational nursing education at College of Marin who served as program chairman. The "patient" is Albert Carpenter, surgical technician at Marin General Hospital.

PERSIS A. STANLEY
Yeoman to commander

Legion Post Elects First Woman Head

A Mill Valley woman, who wore the crossed quills of a yeoman in World War I, last night made history by becoming the first female commander of Mill Valley Post 284 of the American Legion in the post's 37-year history.

Elected without opposition, Mrs. Persis A. Stanley said today: "I thought I would be beaten out by some of the young veterans. I'm very complimented because I have been in the post 15 years." She was past chaplain.

In 1919 Mrs. Stanley served as a yeoman with the Naval Reserve at the Naval Supply Depot in Boston.

Mrs. Stanley, who will succeed Francis W. Mosher Jr., works for Donald Geddes Realty in Kentfield.

Other new officers, all of whom are to be installed June 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, are Porter M. Griffith of Sausalito, first vice commander; Sgt. Marion E. Waldron of the 666th Radar Squadron atop Mount Tamalpais, second vice commander; Ross J. Benson of Mill Valley, finance officer; Herbert Norris of Sausalito, historian; C. F. Thompson of Mill Valley, chaplain, and James Sharpe, sergeant-at-arms.

The executive committee consists of Harry E. Fitzgibbon and Malcolm C. Piper of Mill Valley and Norman G. Boyd of Sausalito.

Crewman Faces Hearing In Ex-Marinite's Death

Andras John Pedersen, 46, of Crescent City today faced a preliminary hearing in Juneau, Alaska, on a first degree murder charge resulting from the shotgun death of a former San Rafael resident.

Pedersen's fellow crew member, Lawrence Judson Tabor, 35, of Eureka, died in Juneau May 20. He was shot in the abdomen while aboard the fishing vessel Sitka, anchored in Kelp Bay off Baranof Island.

Pedersen was jailed Friday and held in lieu of a $25,000 bond pending today's hearing.

Pedersen and Jack Jenkins, 22, of Stockton, who also was aboard the Sitka, claimed that Tabor was accidentally shot with a shotgun as the men were climbing into a dory to go hunting on shore. They said the shotgun was discharged as it was passed to them, with the charge hitting Tabor.

Tabor was flown ashore by a Coast Guard aircraft and taken to a Juneau hospital where he died.

Tabor had lived in San Rafael with his sister, Mrs. William Currie of 145 Woodside Drive, in 1958-59. He and Pedersen had purchased the boat, Sitka, in San Rafael early this year, had it outfitted in Sausalito, and sailed for Alaska.

Funeral services for Tabor will be conducted at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Not Enough Park Land In State, Democrats Told

The number of parks in the state has doubled since 1958, but it is still not keeping pace with population growth, the director of the state Resources Agency told Marin Democrats last night.

Former State Sen. Hugo Fisher of San Diego, now director of the Resources Agency, spoke at the home of Mrs. Ruth Lederman in Kent Woodlands. Ross Valley Democratic Club sponsored the talk.

Fisher described California's master plan for water as the largest water project in the world. "After the Oroville Dam project is finished, the next step will probably be the middle fork of the Eel River," he said.

The agency headed by Fisher also handles such matters as water pollution, fish and game, and oil and minerals.

San Rafael Fire Budget $486,020

The San Rafael Fire Commission last night approved a budget of $486,020 for the next fiscal year which includes purchase and preparation of a site for a new firehouse in East San Rafael.

The commission also approved purchase of 200 feet of pipe and other materials for putting the city's fire alarm system underground on Third Street from Union Street to Embarcaderao.

The newest thing in weed killers is an old weapon—fire. An agricultural research center at Plainview, Tex., is experimenting with a "flame cultivator," a huge spiderlike machine which spouts fire through metallic lines into low-lying weeds without damaging the

2,000 Books Collected For Library

"Roughly 2,000" books have been collected for the Marin County Library in a county-wide children's book drive, it was reported last night at a meeting of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, which sponsored the drive.

Mrs. Virginia Keating, county librarian, reported to the council, according to Ann Heyer: "Not a book has been wasted. They were all in good condition, a high percentage had usable titles, and many were classics." Sixty schools participated. Books are still being received.

The board elected N. Robert Heyer of Mill Valley as chairman to succeed Harold Stockstad. Also elected for one-year terms were Robert Mertle, vice chairman, and Milen C. Dempster, treasurer.

Introduction of enabling legislation in the state legislature for a Marin Transit Authority was reported upon by Mrs. Margaret Azevedo, chairman of the metropolitan affairs committee.

Vandals Take Radio From Pastor's Office

Vandals broke into the Lutheran Church at 1100 Las Gallinas Avenue in Terra Linda and stole a transistor radio, Rev. Norman Bangert reported this morning.

He said windows were broken for entry and the radio taken from his office. However, other valuables like typewriters were not disturbed. The burglary was discovered about 9 this morning.

Tioga Pass To Open On Memorial Day

YOSEMITE (AP) — The Tioga Pass road which crosses the crest of the Sierra in Yosemite National Park, connecting with highway 395 at Lee Vining, is scheduled for opening to traffic Memorial Day.

Park rangers said crews have been working overtime to clear huge snow drifts from the scenic route.

Sign Painting Firm Pulls Out

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Foster and Kleiser has closed down its sign painting shop here rather than agree to the demands of 40 striking sign painters.

From now on, Foster and Kleiser said yesterday, Northern California signs will be painted in its Los Angeles offices and shipped here.

Despite the company action, sign painters continued picketing Foster and Kleiser offices here. They struck Bay Area billboard firms April 26.

Stolen Car Found

Mill Valley police reported today that the 1954 Ford, reported stolen on May 16 from Carol Newton of 105 La Pasado, San Rafael, while parked at Purity Store in Mill Valley, has been recovered in San Francisco.

Reading Classes Credited

Remedial reading classes in Mill Valley School District are credited with increasing the reading level of many students by one-half year, Dr. Logan T. Miles, project director, told district trustees last night.

The classes are for students in fourth through sixth grades in all seven schools. There are on the average of four to five pupils per class and this small group instruction has been most helpful, Miles reported.

"Most frequent comment made by teachers," he continued, "was that the special attention to children's reading difficulties has helped them to overcome a persistent sense of failure."

The board was told by Michael Healy, district guidance consultant, that Mill Valley elementary school children rank with the top 10 per cent in intelligence.

Resignations were accepted from Blanche Jackson, Park School fourth grade, who is retiring after 40 years of teaching; Mrs. Gene Milkey, Old Mill first grade, who has been married; Mrs. Robert Tribsch, Alto fourth grade, whose husband has been transferred, and Constance Elsasser, science teacher, Edna Maguire, who will teach in Switzerland.

Complains Of Back Pain After Crash

Dora Mae Busby, 23, of Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, Strawberry, complained of back pain and was to see her doctor after her car collided with another on College Avenue near Stadium Way in Kentfield at 12:28 p.m. yesterday.

Gregory Ian Jennings, 20, of Una Way, Mill Valley, driver of the other car, was cited by the California Highway Patrol for making an unsafe turn.

Sausalito Group Sets Foundation Night

The Sausalito Foundation will hold its annual foundation night on Nov. 4, Trustee John W. Davis said today. It will be at the Alta Mira Hotel and at one other location to be selected.

The foundation is a non-profit organization created to help preserve the natural beauty of Sausalito.

Boyd Museum Receives $2,500 Gift To Help With Its Debts

Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael today received a $2,500 contribution, the second largest in its history, as the result of the sale of four old-time circus wagons.

The contribution was made by George Whitney, president of Whitney's Playland at the Beach in San Francisco, to David N. Plant, museum president, at the museum this afternoon.

Whitney had four circus wagons, 1904 models, at his ranch in Gridley. They were loaned to the museum at one time for use as animal cages.

Recently he found a buyer for the wagons and decided to contribute money from the sale to the museum.

Plant said the contribution will go toward reducing the indebtedness of the museum.

"We have to pay off our creditors first rather than start on improvements."

Two-and-one-half years ago, the museum owed $15,500. It now owes $6,100, he said. "We hope to be debt-free before the end of the year," he said.

Agreement Is Seen In Fire Dispute

A fire protection agreement between Marin Hospital District and Kentfield Fire District is expected to be worked out by representatives of the districts.

Harold F. Riede, attorney for the hospital district, today said it has been proposed that he work out an agreement with Lawrence F. Kuechler, assistant secretary of the fire district. At first it was proposed that the boards meet jointly.

The hospital district has been without a fire protection contract for a year, but Kentfield firemen have been answering fire calls.

The hospital board is scheduled to meet tonight and the fire district board tomorrow night.

Strawberry Backstop Overhang Is Approved

Strawberry Recreation District directors last night authorized installation of an overhang for the little league baseball backstop at Hammond Field to prevent foul balls from popping down on people in the vicinity of the swimming pool.

The overhang, to be installed by Able Fence Co., San Rafael, will cost $788, according to Patricia M. Gowen, secretary.

Arizona, our sixth state in size, experienced a population increase of 111 per cent from 1946 to 1960.

Officers Elected By Hub Legion

Chester Smith of San Anselmo was elected last night as commander of San Anselmo Post 179 of the American Legion, succeeding Walter Berta.

Other officers elected are: Alexander J. Rzepiela, first vice president; Ralph Lewis, second vice president; Kenneth Wilson, sergeant-at-arms; Howard DuPree, chaplain; Andy Klapak, historian, and Gene Lestanguet, finance officer.

Serving on the executive board will be Joseph Picinich, Patrick Pollock, and Alec Thomas. Delegates to the state convention to be held in San Bernardino June 26-30 will be Richard Brown, Donna Hatcher, Smith, Lestanguet, Pollock, Picinich, Thomas, Lewis and Berta.

Barbecue In Novato

The Novato Volunteer Firemen's Assn. will hold its annual barbecue from noon to 4 p.m. June 9 on the Silviera Ranch north of Novato on Highway 101, Frank Manzoni, committee chairman, announced today. There will be games for both children and adults, Manzoni said.

UNITED CRUSADE AIDES NAMED FOR CAMPAIGN

Six vice chairmen have been named to lead sections of the Marin County 1963 United Crusade campaign in October. Crusade President Byron Leydecker made the announcement.

Sidney Braverman, San Anselmo, has been picked to head the advance gifts and residential divisions of the drive. A veteran Crusade worker, he was county campaign chairman in 1948 and a longtime member of the Board of Directors.

James G. Bunker, Novato superintendent of schools, is vice chairman for the educational and public employees divisions in the county.

Hugh Cassidy, secretary-treasurer of the Marin County Labor Council, will lead the labor participation drive. He is superintendent of mails for the San Rafael post office and was formerly on the Board of Governors of the United Bay Area Crusade.

D. M. Christiansen, president of D. M. Christiansen Construction Co., will supervise the construction, commerce and industry divisions of the drive.

Victor E. Hecht, executive secretary of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, will head the business and professional divisions. He previously was in charge of the industrial division collection for Southern Marin.

The Rev. Sumner Walters Jr., headmaster of San Rafael Military Academy, will lead the Marin County Church Cooperation drive.

Development Of Turkey To Be Topic

Turkey will be traced in its development as a modern nation since becoming a republic in 1924 by Dr. Louis Wasserman at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

Money from admissions will go toward rebuilding Brown's Hall, which was partially destroyed by fire March 14. Tickets are available at Strawbridge's Camera and Stationery Store and from Mrs. Ursula Gealey, 317 La Verne Avenue.

Wasserman, who resides in Mill Valley, is professor of philosophy and government at San Francisco State College. He has made three visits to Turkey, in 1952, 1956 and last year. On those occasions he conferred with political leaders, journalists, editors and student leaders.

Service Station Plan Turned Down In Corte Madera

Plans for a service station on the northeast corner of Corte Madera and Redwood avenues were unanimously disapproved last night by the Corte Madera Board of Design on grounds that four entrances and exits would add too much to existing traffic congestion.

Douglas Oil Co., Santa Clara, will appeal the decision to the town planning commission June 10.

The board unanimously approved plans for the Uplands, 342 apartments on the south side of Paradise Drive east of Marin Country Day School.

Marcucci Stepping Down

By WAT TAKESHITA

Most people look forward to retirement with pleasant anticipation. But not so with veteran Fire Chief Nello Eugene Marcucci, who will become 65 on June 17.

"I don't know what I'll be doing after retiring," says Marcucci, who has been chief of the San Anselmo Fire Department for 33 years and a fireman for 46 years. "It's something that worries me. I'm afraid it's going to be a letdown."

Until about a year ago, his pride and joy was a 32-foot cruiser he had been repairing and improving. But the cruiser blew up in a yacht harbor in San Rafael. "I don't have a boat now but I'm looking around," says Marcucci hopefully.

His other hobbies are growing orchids and gardening at his home at 160 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, where he lives with his wife Helen.

Chief Marcucci, now drawing $821 per month, will retire on July 1. He is on a state retirement system, which should give him a retirement pay of "about $500." Marcucci said he does not know the exact amount: "I won't know until all the papers are filled out."

His retirement plans are nebulous at this point, except for one thing. "The fire chiefs are having a convention in Honolulu in September and I sure hope to make it," he beamed.

The Marcuccis have two sons, Robert, 24, and Marty, 23. Both are following in their father's footsteps. Robert is with the San Rafael Fire Department and Marty with San Anselmo Fire Department.

Chief Marcucci plans to continue living in San Anselmo. He has purchased two lots at Drake's Beach Estates, but says he has no plans to build a home there.

Born in Italy in 1898, he came to San Francisco with his family in 1900. In 1916, Nello and his buddies rented a home in San Anselmo, next to his present residence on San Francisco Boulevard. He married Helen Locati, a San Anselmo girl, in 1926.

Marcucci joined the San Anselmo Volunteer Fire Department in 1917 and has been chief since 1930.

Cardomom is the principal export crop of Sikkim, the tiny Himalayan kingdom. Seeds from the forest plant of the ginger family flavor cookies, bread, curry powder and coffee.

Redwood Teacher Heads For Russia

Robert Baugh, German and Russian instructor at Redwood High School, will go to Russia this summer along with 24 language teachers from throughout the nation in an exchange program between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The program is the result of the agreement on exchanges in the scientific, technical, educational, and other fields, concluded by representatives of the two countries.

In exchange for the 25 American teachers, half of whom teach at the college level and half at the high school, 25 Russian teachers of English will come to the United States.

The Americans will study 10 weeks, June 10—Aug. 17, at University of Moscow. The Russians will attend Cornell University in New York.

Basic intention of the exchange for the Americans is language learning, but another is to let teachers hear lectures by specialists in the fields of contemporary Russian language.

Marin Girl To Graduate At Whittier

Beverly Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Barnes, House 102, Marin City, will be graduated from Whittier College with a bachelor of arts degree June 8.

Miss Barnes, a graduate of Tamalpais High School, will teach social studies at Sir Francis Drake High School starting next September.

While at Whittier, she majored in history, and was a member of the Ionian Society, Delta Phi Upsilon, a childhood education honorary society, and a sophomore women's service group.

During the spring semester in 1962, she was an exchange student to Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.

While a student at Tamalpais High School Miss Barnes was sent to Norway as an exchange student under the American Field Service program. A singer, Miss Barnes won a talent contest while in Norway.

At Tamalpais High School, she won the school music award and the National Arion medal for her singing. She also is a violinist.

Miss Barnes was secretary of the student body at the high school and was selected by students and teachers for the good citizenship award given by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Upon graduation from high school she won two scholarships, one from the Marin City Socialites Club and one from the Marin City Drug Store.

Building Firms Due Licenses

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The contractors' state license board announced it plans to issue licenses to two San Rafael firms if no protests are received by June 12.

Northgate Electric Co., 33 Joseph Court, will be issued a general electrical contractors' license. The firm listed its officers as Kenneth W. Larson, president; Stanley R. Barrass, vice president and manager, and Raymond F. Schmidt, secretary-treasurer.

Marley E. Tavenner, Tavenner and Sons, 157 Humboldt, will be issued a license for excavating, grading, trenching, paving and surfacing work.

Sergeant Ted Zink Honored At Academy

Sausalito Police Sgt. Ted Zink was honored Saturday at graduation ceremonies of the California Police Academy in Concord as having scored third in his class of 56. The event took place at the state academy in Concord.

Zink, vice president of the five-week training class, presented a plaque to the school on behalf of the 31st class. City Councilman Jan Paul Dyk, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and Police Chief Howard Goerndt attended.

196 Take Exams For Glaucoma

One hundred and ninety-six persons were examined for glaucoma in the recent Mill Valley Lions Club clinic, Joseph C. Brewster, chairman, said today.

Of these 18 were referred to family doctors for further checkup and five were determined to have glaucoma.

One of the world's biggest sight-seeing bargain is a 56-cent two hour double decker London bus trip covering almost every major sight in the city.

Kuchel Assured Of Moderates Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) said today the response to his attack on extremist "fright peddlers" reassures him moderates will retain control of the Republican Party.

Kuchel, the assistant Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he has received thousands of letters and hundreds of telegrams supporting his May 2 Senate criticism of the right-wing Birch Society and others.

He had declared in his speech that "fright peddlers" were attempting to scare Americans into believing the Communists are about to take over the country.

"The mail I have received and the editorials that have supported my position reassure me that the vast majority of Americans—and this certainly includes members of the Republican party—are moderates and do not support either right or left extreme," he said.

"Only about one fourth of the messages were critical and many of these were unsigned," he said.

Kuchel said in a prepared Senate speech that he is "greatly heartened" by the response.

Kuchel's vigorous attacks have marked him as a target for right-wing retaliation from within his own party in California.

Shish Kebab*
(Serves 4)

2 lbs. lamb
1 clove garlic
8 peppercorns
3 tablespoons olive oil
4 teaspoons oregano
1 tablespoon Star wine vinegar
1½ cups red wine
Armours Star Bacon
Whole mushrooms.

Cut lean, boneless lamb in 1-inch cubes. In large bowl, mash garlic and peppercorns, add oil and vinegar. Add lamb and stir. In a saucepan, heat the wine and oregano, but do not boil. Pour over the lamb. Marinate overnight. When ready to cook, thread the meat on skewers with a tiny piece of bacon and a whole mushroom after each piece of meat. Grill over charcoal or under broiler, basting frequently with the marinade approximately 30 minutes. Serve (with a well-chilled rose', of course!)

Lebanese Salad
Wash, peel, and slice 6 small, very ripe tomatoes into chilled bowl. Add 12 scallions, sliced. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste. Pour ½ cup wine vinegar over this and sprinkle with ½ cup finely cut fresh mint. Delectable.

AND THE PILOT WALKED AWAY

This is the charred wreckage of a light plane that crashed into the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Strom of Billerica, Mass., yesterday. The pilot, Kenneth Johnson, 19, also of Billerica, escaped with a cut chin. Police said the pontoon-equipped plane had just taken off for the Concord River, which runs parallel to the five-room home. Mill Valley Merchants Strike Back

Mill Valley merchants continued today to hit back at a charge of "fuddy duddyism" leveled against them Saturday by City Councilman Michael Wornum.

Declared James H. Swearingen, owner of Mill Valley Furniture:

"In all my 38 years as a merchant, I have never seen such a spectacle as elected officials downgrading such an important segment of the community as their merchants. I suggest the mayor would do well to repair some of the damage by issuing a public apology."

Wornum, at a budget session Saturday at which the chamber of commerce requested an increase of $1,000 in its budget, said, "I think the Mill Valley merchants are a lot of fuddy duddies."

"I think the merchants do a good job," Swearingen said. "We don't have a lot of cheap merchandising. A lot of people come from out of town just for that reason."

Other merchants declared, too, their displeasure with the "fuddy duddy" accusation.

Leonard Blakely, president of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, said a subcommittee of the chamber and city council worked out a tentative scale for business licenses yesterday. The scale is to be announced at a meeting to which all merchants will be invited, Blakely said. No date has been set.

The council is considering a hike in business license fees to add to the tax revenues.

Bay Filling Moratorium Bill Backed

The Junior Chamber Bay Region Council, at a meeting in Marin County Civic Center, voted to support a bill now before the State Legislature which would provide a four-year moratorium on most filling of San Francisco Bay for tideland development.

During the moratorium, a regional plan for the Bay would be developed.

The junior chamber council met first at Sam's in Tiburon Saturday noon. Marin Supervisor William Gnoss spoke about Marin County problems. Next council members visited the model operated by the Army Corps of Engineers in Sausalito. Then the group met at the Civic Center.

Marin Miller Heir Due 'Only' $5 Million

Because a judge's ruling went against her and others on her side in a lengthy trust battle, a San Rafael woman will receive "only" five million dollars.

Mary Nikel Lobardi of 25 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, is a great-granddaughter of Henry Miller, California cattle king, who established a trust in 1913 three years before his death.

The trust did not spell out how the stock in Miller and Lux, Inc. should be divided. Yesterday, Judge Joseph Karesh of San Francisco Superior Court ruled that the 40 million dollar trust should be split equally between two families.

Members of the Bowles family will divide their half of the estate three ways, while members of the Nickel family will have a smaller share because they have a four-way split.

The Nickel heirs had contended through their attorneys that the stock should be split seven ways with each of seven heirs getting an equal share. The Nickel attorneys said yesterday that the judge's ruling would be appealed.

Each Bowles share, under yesterday's ruling, will be $6,666,667, each Nickel share five million dollars. If the seven-way split had been approved, it would have taken about $950,000 each from the Bowles heirs and added about $700,000 each for the Nickels.

Taken To Napa

William Spaniel was treated at Marin General Hospital at 2 a.m. today, then transferred to Napa State Hospital, after he was reported to have cut his wrist with a razor blade at his home at 207 Caledonia Street, Sausalito. He was taken to the Marin Hospital by Sausalito Ambulance.

Kentfield Board Hires 4 Teachers

Four teachers for next year were hired by the Kentfield School District board last night.

They are: Mrs. Nancy Reinhardt Chinn, sixth grade, at $5,200 a year, and Mrs. Alyce Reyburn, third grade, $6,400, both at Wolfe Grade School; and Mrs. Betty M. Heilig, home economics, $6,325, and Mrs. Karen Yore, second grade, $5,200, both Adaline E. Kent School.

Four teachers were honored in a ceremony on their attainment of tenure: Robert Cadwallader, Mrs. Margaret Robertine and Ronald Van Winkle, Kent School, and Mrs. Marie Clemons, Greenbrae.

Trustees hired 18 teachers for summer school June 20-July 19 at Kent School.

Building Firm's License Revoked

License of a San Rafael contracting firm has been revoked by the State Contractors' License Board because of a remodeling job at Lake Tahoe three years ago in which about $8,000 is still owed to sub-contractors.

Revoked was the license held by Wilson and Wedekind of 54 DeLuca Place. The partnership was dissolved in June, 1961, and a new license issued to one of the partners, Warren W. Wedekind of 28 Ridgewood Drive, San Rafael.

But the state board has ordered a year's suspension of Wedekind's license. The action will take effect in 60 days unless the state's order to pay the sub-contractors is complied with or unless Wedekind appeals.

Deputy Registrar Frederick Brumm of the state licensing board's San Francisco office said today that the job was to remodel a large home into a restaurant at Tahoe Vista. The work started in June of 1960 and was never completed.

The client was Mrs. Harold Forde. She has since divorced and remarried. Brumm said the contractors had difficulty in getting her to pay for the job.

Brumm said the non-payment to sub-contractors was the main reason for the revocation and suspension order. However, the job showed some non-compliance with electrical and plumbing codes, he reported.

William A. Wilson of 35 Curtis Avenue, San Rafael, still working with Wedekind, called the whole matter "ridiculous."

He and Wedekind have been building homes and other buildings in Marin County since 1952. Current project is a medical-dental office in Tiburon for Fred and George Montegani.

Wilson did not know what action would be taken regarding the suspension order. But he said court action would probably be avoided if possible.

"You can't build houses in court," he said.

Indian Rock Subdivision Plan Revealed

Plans for a 113-lot subdivision to be known as Indian Rock were presented to the San Anselmo Planning Commission at a special session last night.

The proposed subdivision area is at the upper end of Oakland Avenue, extending to The Alameda. John W. Hill of the George S. Nolte engineering firm, representing Del May Investment Co., said only single family homes are planned.

Ronald R. Hill, commission chairman, said that two parks with playground facilities will be dedicated to the city.

About 35 residents of the area attended the meeting devoted to discussion of the proposed subdivision.

Thomas W. Stoddard, co-chairman of the San Anselmo Homes Assn., said residents are concerned about drainage, access and density of population.

The meeting was continued to Monday to allow commissioners further study before considering approval of the tentative map, Hill reported.

Two Teen Girls Held In Burglary

Two San Rafael girls, 15 and 17, were cited last night by San Rafael police on burglary charges after liquor, cigarette lighters, gum, a transistor radio and $82.81 were stolen from the residence of Donald Labbe of 5 Warner Court, San Rafael.

The girls admitted the burglary, police said, but claimed they did not take four $20 bills which Labbe said were missing. They were caught when one of them returned to Labbe's residence after he had returned home at 7:30 p.m.

Police said entry was made through a kitchen window at about 7:15 p.m. The girls were turned over to the county probation department.

Planner Quits In Belvedere

E. K. Allison, chairman of the Belvedere Planning Commission, announced he was resigning from the commission as of this week because of the press of business matters.

He indicated he would have resigned before but waited until the Tiburon annexation recommendation was made by the commission.

Allison has served on the commission three years. He was secretary two years and has been chairman for the past year.

Hamilton Airman Injured In Crash

S/Sgt. Jack M. White, 22, of the 78th Supply Squadron, who was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital unconscious after his car overturned in Petaluma yesterday morning, regained consciousness yesterday and is in satisfactory condition today, according to Hamilton officials.

Commission last night voted suffered many bruises and a brain concussion, according to Hamilton officials. The accident happened on Petaluma Boulevard south of Petaluma Creek about 5 a.m., according to the California Highway Patrol.

RETARDED PUPILS PLAN EXPLAINED

It is "highly possible" mentally retarded pupils in the Sausalito School District, although transferred to the county program, will go to school in the Sausalito District this fall.

Daryl A. Hopkins, director of special education under the County Superintendent of Schools, explained this to Sausalito District trustees last night, saying whereas the county program has lost two classrooms in the Dixie School district and one in San Anselmo, Sausalito has unfilled rooms.

He said that before children may be transferred to the county program they must be completely re-evaluated and their parents counselled individually.

Hopkins said the county's admission committee, consisting of a district psychologist, school principal, teacher, school nurse, county psychologist and either Hopkins or a representative, will determine whether a child should be put into the county program.

He said he could not answer specific questions on what will happen to the Sausalito pupils in September but will have a team working on it during the summer.

Perry Howell of Marin City asked the board to rescind its action transferring the program to the county. "I feel you are passing the buck," Howell said.

The board refused, but on urging of Howell and Evelyn J. Schoenfeld, who was recently fired as Richardson Bay special education teacher, trustees agreed to ask for a state representative to come to Sausalito to give advice.

Sausalito School District trustees also:

1. Voted to continue operation of the child care center in Marin City for six months provided there are sufficient funds.

2. Heard a report from Dorothy Tolpegin, district librarian, recommending a 1963-64 budget of $6,580.

3. Heard a report by Supt. Marcus F. Davis going over point-by-point recommendations from Miss Schoenfeld to better her program in her class.

4. Accepted resignation of Leo M. Shortino, Bayside School principal, at the end of June.

5. Accepted resignation of Mary Louise Collingsworth, Bayside third grade teacher.

6. Set June 17 at 8 p.m. as budget hearing, and heard that graduation will be June 13.

Lodge Hall Plan Granted In Novato

The Novato Planning Commission last night granted permission to the Masonic Lodge to build a hall on the south side of Novato Boulevard, 200 feet west of McClay Road.

Permission was given with the condition that architectural approval be given to the plans by the commission before construction and enough land be dedicated to the city for the widening of Novato Boulevard.

The tentative map of Sequoia Savings and Loan Assn.'s Holiday Park Unit One, consisting of 37 lots on 14 acres northeast of Forest Park Unit Three, as approved by the commission.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

1. Approved plans by Harte Construction Co. to divide property on Hayden Avenue into two lots.
2. Granted a zoning change from limited agricultural to apartments to Edgar J. Garavatti. The property is on one and one-half acre on Dusel Court, west of Hamilton Air Force Base.
3. Rezoned from administrative-professional to general commercial one acre on Diablo Avenue, south of Court Road, as requested by George Schilling.
4. Approved the grading plan for Rancho Village Unit Eight, west of the Methodist and Baptist churches.
5. Continued to June 10 the requests of McGillicuddy Inc. for approval of the tentative map of Jade Gardens Subdivision on Vallejo Avenue, and of L. J. Peterson to subdivide property at 725 McClay Road.

HALF A LOAF?

Mrs. Helen Nelson of Mill Valley, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's consumer counsel, points to two loaves of bread manufactured by the same company. Testifying yesterday in Sacramento before the Senate Business and Professions Committee, she said the loaves have similar dimensions, but the one on the left is 15 ounces in weight and sells for 31 cents, the other weighs 22.5 ounces and sells for 37 cents. Mrs. Nelson contends the one marked 31 cents is blown up with air and water to defraud the public. (AP Wirephoto)

GOP Assemblyman Quits Muni Unit

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman Frank Lanterman (R-La Canada) quit the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee last night with blasts at Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and the League of California Cities.

Lanterman handed his resignation to Chairman John T. Knox (D-Richmond) and walked out of a hearing at which the committee approved a series of bills aimed at controlling urban sprawl.

He told a reporter that Governor Brown's office had worked out the bills with the League of California Cities, and that Unruh had "rigged" the committee membership to get them approved.

Lanterman called the bills a "package of oblivion for people in the unincorporated territories."

He said he has been on a "crusade" for 13 years to protect the people in unincorporated areas, and that "with this package of bills this all goes down the drain."

Lanterman said Unruh had loaded the committee with "a bunch of freshmen who have no knowledge and no background."

The committee was expanded from 12 to 15 members this year. Counting Lanterman there are only four holdover members, but seven of last year's committee members are no longer in the Assembly.

A spokesman for Unruh said he would have no comment until he talked with Lanterman. There is no provision in the Assembly rules for resignation from a committee, nor any disciplinary action provided.

Willie Mays Is Showing No Signs Of Shaking His '63 Batting Slump

CONNOLLY

It doesn't seem to make sense, but then nothing ever does where Willie Mays is involved.

Why, you ask, should a fellow making better than $100,000 a season be worrying over finances? But he is, according to the grapevine.

Why should Willie be a guess hitter like he's been all season? Those who have watched him carefully think he is "gun-shy," guessing and fearful of getting hit, and showing no signs of shaking the batting "slump."

WHY ARE the opposing base runners "running on Willie"? They never did it in other years and if you listen to the whispering lads, they'll argue his arm has become very erratic.

In the next 15 days the fate of the S.F. Giants is pretty much in the hands of the Say Hey Kid. Willie simply has to get going or else the Giants can't stay on top. It's been that way in other years. Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey have carried the club to date. They can't go on "packing Willie" much longer . . . or can they?

There is no end to the scuttle-butt on Mays but none of it, as I say, makes sense. The L.A. writers here last week think there is much more of a feud between Willie and Orlando Cepeda than appears on the surface.

This I have to emphatically deny. The so-called "jealousy" phrase is a misnomer. It might be "hot rivalry" but I happen to know Mays and Orlando are not spatting. The only jealousy Cepeda is concerned with is not Willie's ability, but his earning capacity. And the longer Cepeda stays with the Giants the harder he is going to try to get closer to the Mays' paycheck. You can't blame Orlando on that score.

MAYS SEEMS utterly happy when he's scoring on hits that Orlando cracks out. No player on the ball club is happier than Mays when the club is going good.

All last week Willie was comforting Chuck Hiller and inquiring when he expected to return to the lineup. Chuck ought to be in the swim within another week.

No little concern blew up since the season started over the off-beat play of Jose Pagan. His biggest asset has always been his throwing and fielding range. But at times since the race began he isn't covering the ground he used to cover and his throwing has been atrocious.

WHEN YOU criticise Pagan on his fielding, you have to give groundskeeper Matty Schwab a minus mark. He allowed the infield grass to grow like hay for the Dodgers and some of the miscues charged to Pagan were due to the way the grass slowed up infield raps that were braked before Pagan could get to them. He looked on several occasions as though he were letting the ball play him. Rather it was the deadening effect of tall infield grass that threw Pagan off stride.

A lot of wind has blown toward Gaylord Perry for his fielding miscue on Sunday when he threw behind the runner and cost the Giants a likely victory. Elementary miscues like that seem foolish but I think Perry will never make another one while he's in the majors. That's how sick he was after the game, apologizing to everybody in the clubhouse.

AS THE SEASON grows and the clubs are bunched together, the pressure has to be more on the front-running Giants than the clubs chasing them. The SF club can't expect any breathers for a long, long while. And the tail-end clubs especially delight in frustrating the leaders.

Tonight the Giants play Cincinnati, a club that is just coming off a donny brook with the Phils, winning only one game. They'll be tougher than picnic eggs to crack in the next three games. After the Reds comes St. Louis for three more; then the Cubs for three; Houston for four games and finally the Dodgers in a two-game setto in LA on June 10 and 11.

With Willie Mays out of his batting slump, I look for the Giants to take at least nine, possibly ten games on the road. Let's see how wrong I can be this time.

Fisher Goes Against Cincinnati Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP)—Righthander Jack Fisher, who has won all his 1963 victories on the road, hurls for the San Francisco Giants tonight as they face the Cincinnati Reds and lefty Jim O'Toole in the first outing of a 15-game trip.

Fisher, who came to the Giants last winter from Baltimore, goes into the game with a 3-4 record but a 3-1 mark in road games.

Cincinnati split with the National League leaders the first time they met this campaign, with O'Toole besting Jack Sanford 7-4 with the Giants taking the second one 4-2 behind Juan Marichal.

Manager Alvin Dark's men aim to maintain their good record of the first road trip when they were 9-4, far above their 1962 pace when they were just one game over .500 away from home.

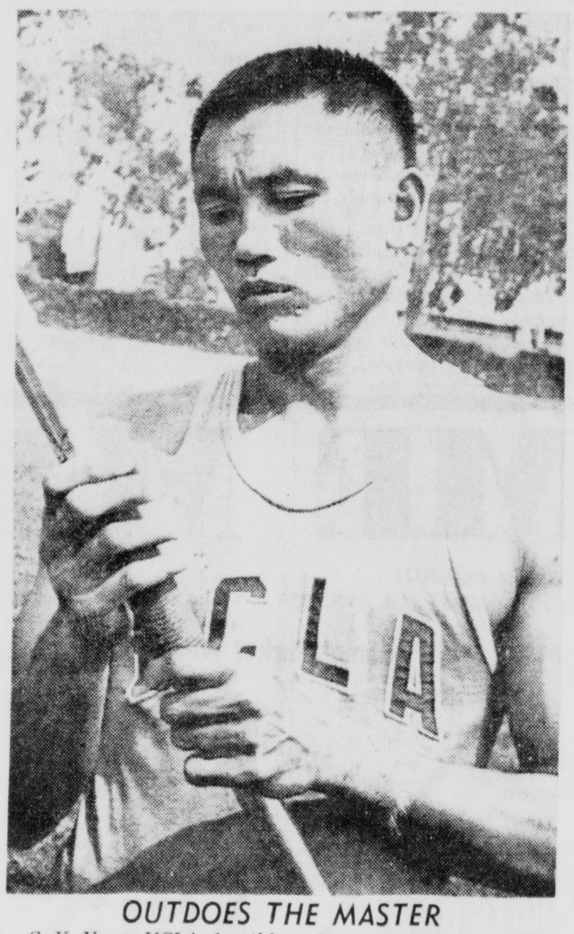
The Reds have been disappointing this campaign, currently in sixth place with a 20-21 record. San Francisco goes into the game with a 28-16 mark and a two-game lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who play at Milwaukee.

Home runs proved the main forte for the Giants at home. They hit 18 in the 12 games. Only two of their nine victories came without benefit of a homer.

Ed Bailey, who started the season as a reserve catcher, has walloped 10 round trippers and driven in 26 runs, although early in the campaign he was used primarily as a pinch hitter.

Although the Giants lost to the Dodgers 4-3 in the finale of the home series when Jose Pagan committed three errors, the club showed some hitting consistency. Felipe Alou, who seems to be out of his slump, had three, including a homer, and Jim Davenport had four, including a double and homer.

Five of the Giants—Bailey, Alou, Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey, are setting a homer pace that could put each of them over the 30 mark this year. Last time the National League had a team with five men hitting 30 or more homers was in 1948 when the Giants had Johnny Mize, Bobby Thompson, Walker Cooper, Sid Gordon and Willard Marshall. The club that year broke a league record with 221 for the season.



OUTDOES THE MASTER

C. K. Yang, UCLA decathlon champion, inspects a javelin like the one he got started with. It was only 10 years ago that the reigning decathlon king, Bob Mathias, on a tour of Asia for the State Department, met Yang in Formosa and gave him a few pointers on track and field. Yang has come a long way since that time, scoring a record 9,121 points in the dacathlon. (AP Wirephoto)

Lema Wins Memphis Open

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Tony Lema enjoyed his new status as second leading money winner on the circuit today after winning the $50,000 Memphis Open golf tournament.

The lanky San Leandro, Calif., veteran pocketed $9,000 yesterday after winning a sudden-death playoff with Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga., who drew $4,600.

The victory put Lema in second place in winnings this year behind Jack Nicklaus who won $1,400 in this tournament for 11th place.

Lema won top money on the first hole of the playoff with a par four to Aaron's bogey. The two had ended the regulation 27 holes deadlocked at under par 270.

With Aaron leading by two strokes after 16 holes, Lema tied it up with two straight birdies. The first came when a tee shot fell near the pin on the par three 17th hole. The clincher followed when he reached the green of the 500-yard 18th in two strokes.

Both sprayed their tee shots on the playoff hole. Lema's second shot hit the fringe of the green and he was down in two. Aaron's also hit the fringe but his next one went over the green into a sand trap.

The playoff was the fourth in the tournament's six years. Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., won last year's version in a playoff with South Africa's Gary Player and Gene Littler of Rancho Bernardo, Calif.

It was the first tournament victory for Lema since the Mobile open last November and the third official win of his five years on the tour.

Lema and Aaron entered the last round deadlocked in a tie for second at 202. Each scored 68 on the last 18 holes. Lema's card was 67-67-68-68. Aaron's was 69-67-66-68.

Harold Kneece of Aiken, S.C., finished in a tie for third with Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, at 274. Gary Player was fourth with a 275.

The double round Monday was forced by heavy rains which canceled play Saturday and Sunday.

Marin Gal Helps Set New Record

Diane Congdon, 16, a star track and field athlete of Santa Venetia, has added her name to the national record books.

Diane and three other members of the 440 yard relay team from the Laurel Track Club in San Francisco established a new national record for girls 14 through 17 last weekend at the San Mateo Relays.

The quartet of Diane, Cassandra Brooks, Cylia Hanna and Denise Paschal sprinted the quarter-mile in 49-7, bettering the previous national mark of 50.1.

A student at Terra Linda High School, Diane's next plans are the Junior Olympics June 8 in Oakland where she hopes to place in her best event, the discus.

She will also compete in the AAU nationals July 5 and 6 in Dayton, Ohio—that is if the family can raise enough money to send her there.

FIVE YOUNG BOWLERS WIN STATE TITLE

Five girls who bowl in the Nave Lanes Junior Program, ranging in age from 9 to 12, have won first place in the state in the two-month National Mail-O-Graphic Tournament.

The young keglers are Connie Croker, 11; Nancy Helbing, 12; Dianne Zappetini, 12; Nancy Nave, 11, and Kathi Nave, 9.

The girls totaled 1,540 pins for the two games rolled, plus handicap. They will be awarded trophies at a special awards banquet to be held later at Nave Lanes.

Outstanding Swimmer

Ross Worden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice T. Worden of San Anselmo, won the most valuable player award in swimming at the San Rafael Military Academy's annual spring sports banquet at Taylor State Park.

Pit Stops Will Be Big Factor In '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Drivers were talking more about pit stops than speed today as the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was opened for a last brief practice session before the 500-mile race Thursday.

The conventional Offenhauser-powered roadsters, winners of the last 12 Memorial Day classics, have been making three or more pit stops in recent races.

Colin Chapman of London, who built the chassis of the two Lotus-Fords in the field, is planning one stop apiece for Grand Prix drivers Jimmy Clark and Dan Gurney.

Mickey Thompson of Long Beach, with two unusually light Chevrolet-powered cars in the line-up, hopes to hold veteran Duane Carter and rookie Al Miller to two stops apiece.

There is a possibility that Parnelli Jones, the qualification record holder, may try for only two stops, too. His Agajanian special is lighter than most of the other conventional Offenhousers.

Twenty-three of the 33 starters will ride on a new 15-inch tire developed specifically for the Lotus-Fords. Other drivers and car owners liked the wider tread and shifted to the new tires. Carter's car has tiny 12-inch wheels.

The rest of the field will run on the standard speedway tires, 18-inchers in the rear and 16s in front.

Y. A. Tittle Resting After Operation On Right Elbow

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Giants quarterback Y. A. Tittle was reported resting comfortably today in St. Vincent's Hospital following minor surgery on his right elbow.

The 36-year-old star passer had complained of elbow pains last season after the Giants-Green Bay Packers National Football League title game, and subsequent examinations revealed a swollen bursal sac.

The injury, aggravated every time Tittle was hit by an opposing tackler, had grown to the size of a silver dollar before it was removed yesterday.

Tittle will remain in the hospital a few more days, then rest for about three weeks prior to starting loosening up exercises for the Giants training camp in July.

Rematch In Mile Set For Compton

COMPTON (AP)—Peter Snell of New Zealand and Gary Weisiger, a Camp Pendleton Marine, one-two finishers in the mile race at the California Relays, will meet again at the Compton Invitational June 7, it was announced.

Meet Director Herschel Smith said there was a good chance that Dyrol Burleson, former American record holder, will also participate.

International Soccer

An International soccer match, between Mexico City Select and the San Francisco All Stars, will be held Sunday at 2:15 p.m. at Balboa Stadium in San Francisco. A preliminary game will start at 11 a.m.

Net Tourney Set At Belvedere Club

An invitational state-sanctioned junior tennis tournament is being planned by the Belvedere Tennis Club to be held July 15-19. In addition to the club courts, courts at the Tiburon Peninsula Club, Harbor Point Beach Club and the Tom Fleming home will be used.

A feature of the week will be a doubles tournament in which partners' ages combined total 27. Social activities including a dance for high school students and other parties are being planned.

Charles E. Auerbach is club chairman for the junior program.

Emerson Seeks A Grand Slam

PARIS, France (AP) — Australia's Roy Emerson, seeking only the third Grand Slam in tennis history, has securely nailed down two of the world's four amateur titles.

Emerson, who earlier had won the Australian crown, swept past France's Pierre Darmon 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 Sunday for the French title. The Wimbledon and United States championships remain in his quest of a sweep made previously only by Don Budge in 1938 and Rod Laver of Australia last year.

Dons Of Marin Nine Gets 7-4 Victory

The Dons of Marin baseball team defeated Vaughan's Liquors of San Francisco Sunday 7-4 at Drake High School.

Winning pitcher John Forsythe struck out 10, walked one and allowed nine hits. Hamish Tyler had two runs batted in and Marty Anthony and Kent Chubb each knocked in one to lead the Dons' attack.

Drops Doubleheader

The Country Club Bowl softball team lost a double header yesterday at the hands of the Stan's Sport Shop nine, 12-4 and 10-2 in a game at Albert Park.

Abalone Hunters Strike It Rich; Tender Recipe For Tough Mollusks

STEVENS

An old adage tells us "Like father, like son," but it would seem that Pro Tempore Judge John Burritt doesn't like either of them. Hence he sentenced both father and son to 60-day stretch in the pokey for taking abalones commercially in water less than 20 feet deep. When the father-son violators tossed a flock of abalones overboard on sighting the game warden, they added another 30 days to their sentence. So—the way of the transgressor is getting tougher every day. A guy might as well be honest.

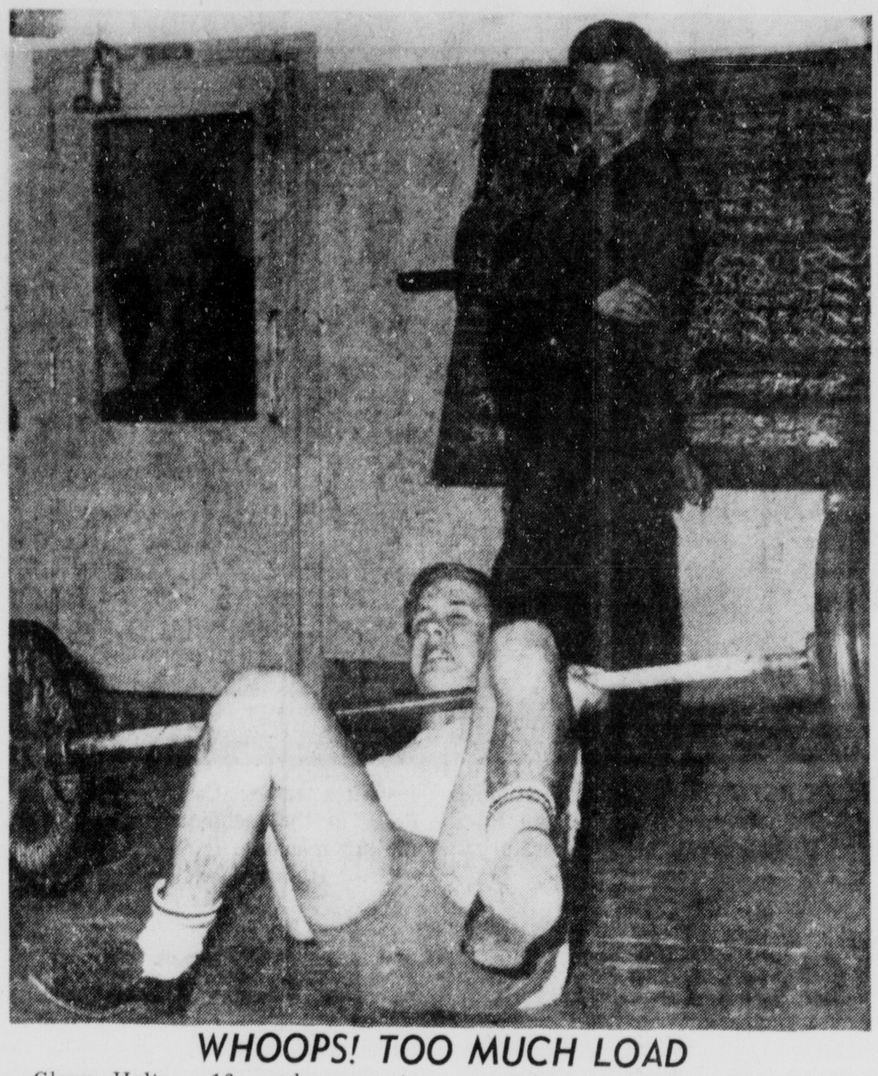
Speaking of abalone hunting, the hardy souls who get a kick from prying off the meaty mollusks from the rocks should be reaping a harvest as this column is being typed. Same thing for the clam diggers. No reports of results are in as yet, but, according to rumor, every stretch of ocean beach where rocks abound was the scene of hectic activity. Which reminds me—always right after a dandy series of minus tides, someone calls to bewail their inability to reduce the abalones they have on hand to fryable condition. "I pounded the poor thing until it was almost in shreds and still when I fried a piece it was tough as leather," is the usual lament.

So, here's a suggestion. If you happen to have one or more abalones left, try this: Clean it—scrape off the brown stuff—and don't slice it. Pound it a bit—just enough to break down the muscles; set it aside while you slice up an onion and mince a piece of garlic. Fry the onion and garlic about five minutes; pour into the skillet a mixture of half white wine and half tomato sauce; lay the whole abalone in the skillet and put it in the oven, let it cook at around 350 degrees for about an hour. (Watch that the sauce doesn't dry up on you—add wine and tomato sauce to keep it moist. Okay, got it?

The finished product will taste differently from the usual fried slices, but it will be delicious, and so tender you can cut it with the handle of your knife.

THE LOCAL dope on fishing? Briefly, bass fishing is very, very slow. High winds have done the angler wrong throughout the Delta. One popular spot I checked reported 17 boats out and a total of three fish taken on Saturday. Sunday was so windy many resorts had few if any boats out. The bright spot in the rather dismal picture is the success being had salmon trolling off the Farallones. On Saturday, the Sea Horse docked with 29 salmon to 17 pounds, the Lucky Day showed 9 limits to 20 pounds and the Wilma H netted 14 salmon to 15 pounds.

A few bass have been taken trolling the Berkeley Flats, but the overall picture is dull and dismal. Sorry!



WHOOPS! TOO MUCH LOAD

Glenn Holton, 16, sophomore at Drake High School and member of the MarVel weightlifting team of San Rafael, shows the strain of holding up too much weight. As he was trying to lift the weights over his head in a recent meet, the strain proved too much and knocked him to the ground. He was not injured.

Treadway, Cox, Sorich Bowl Top Scores At Nave Lanes

Dick Treadway of the 540 Masters Trio League topped the keglers for the week at Nave Lanes with a four-game series of 833 which included lines of 215, 203 and 223.

Close behind was Doug Cox who shot a nice 826 set which included games of 214, 223 and 202. High game was rolled by Russ Sorich, a 267 in the Wy-No's Mixed League. Jim Barnard of the 540 Masters rolled a 240 line.

Grace DeBaun's 547 series topped the women for the week. Her action was in the B.B.B.'s League. Dolly Nave rolled a 526 series for runner-up honors. Theresa Wright's 204 game was the high for the week.

In the Junior Masters League, Bill Johnson rolled a 744 four game set to highlight junior action. His series included games of 233, 172 and 178.

Helen Vincent of San Francisco was the top qualifier in the upper division of the Gold Coast Classic with a 704, including handicap. Fred Butler was the lower division qualifier with a 650. Bill Baioni of the Westlake Gold Coast squad rolled a 278 game after hitting nine straight strikes at Nave.

Results were:

Marin's 7th, 8th-Graders Hold Track And Field Meet

Donald Dawson, eighth grader at Davidson School, and Tony Iacopi, eighth grader at Brookside School, were Class A double winners Saturday at the county-wide track meet for seventh and eighth graders at Novato High School's track.

Dawson won the 50 and 100-yard dashes and Iacopi won the high jump and football throw. The meet drew about 250 athletes in Marin.

Results were:

CLASS A

50—Dawson (Davidson), Vlahos (Dav), Webb (Valecito)—6.1.

660—Piper (Hill), Hardman (Sleepy Hollow), Flautt (Val)—1:38.3.

100—Dawson (Dav), Hardeman (S.H.), Brooks (Richardson Bay)—11.2.

Relay — Davidson, Sleepy Hollow, Valecito—35.7.

High jump—Iacopi (Brookside), Wirth (Dav), Guthrie (Ross) — 5-2.

Shot put—Flautt (Val), Calvin (Santa Venetia), Hickerson (S.H.) —42-2.

Broad jump—Hardeman (S.H.), Piper (Hill), Jordan (San Jose)—16-6.

Football throw—Iacopi (Brook), Crutchfield (R.B.), Flautt (Val)—166-0. (New record.)

CLASS B

50—Wilson (Neil Cummins), Bell (N.C.), Perrichotti (Hill) — 6.0.

660—Davi (Reed), Alvarado (Isabel Cook), Johnson (R.B.)—1:46.0.

100—Bell (N.C.), Murphy (Reed), Turner (R.B.)—11.6.

Relay—Neil Cummins, Richardson Bay, Valecito—36.0.

High jump—Pattalochi (N.C.), Turner (Richardson Bay), Perrichotti (Hill)—5-4⅞. (New record.)

Shot put—Miller (Hill), Hall (Brook), Corona (Val)—40-4.

Broad jump—Wilson (N.C.), Perrichotti (Hill), Lee (Val)—16-9½.

Football throw—Wilson (N.C.), Corona (Val), Chacey (N.C.) — 150-5 (New record).

CLASS C

50—Megarity (N.C.), Houston (Dav), Sigel (Reed)—6.4.

660—MacDonald (Dav), Fernandez (Reed), Stewart (Hill)—1:42.5.

75—Megarity (N.C.), Shafer (Reed), Houston (Dav)—9.2.

High jump—Stewerd (Hill), Adams (R.B.),, tie Megarity (N.C.) and Sather (Ross)—4-10.

Marin Ski Club Lists Officers For Season

San Franciscans have been elected into the top two positions of the Marin Ski Club for 1963-64, the club announced today.

They are Scott Watterworth, president, and Harold Vogel, vice president.

Other newly-elected officers are Dean Greenstreet, Fairfax, second vice president; Dick Kure, San Anselmo, treasurer; Betty Rotermund, Ross, recording secretary; Mary Harman, San Francisco, corresponding secretary, and Barry Evergettis, San Rafael, housing manager.

The club also announced results of its recent championship races. Watterworth won the men's division, followed in order by Evergettis, Walter Stevens, Alan Best, John Kerby-Miller and Greenstreet.

Joy Best won the women's division, followed by Clair Gannon, Joan Chapman, Millie Dunshee, Millie Culbertson and Bonnie Kerby-Miller.

Safety Features Vegas Title Bout

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Added safety precautions will be taken Saturday when world light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson and Willie Pastrano meet in a title bout at Convention Center.

The chief second of either fighter will be able to stop the fight by climbing on the apron of the ring and signaling the referee.

In six full seasons in the majors, Detroit outfielder Rocky Colavito has batted in a total of 600 runs.

Important News About Imported Scotch

How a sea voyage in its original casks from our Distillery in Scotland creates a Whisky with the unique combination of elegant taste and thrifty price

The art of "gentle-ing" came into being centuries ago when wealthy wine merchants used to send their wines on long ocean voyages in their original casks in order to bring them to their point of perfection. And now the same holds true for House of Stuart Scotch Whisky.

House of Stuart is a blend of 30 of the finest Scotch distillations. It is carefully blended and aged in our distillery in Bowling-By-Glasgow, Scotland. Then—like the wine merchants of old—we send our fine Scotch out to sea in its original casks to be "gentled," and imported to America. As a result of this sea voyage, not only is the taste of House of Stuart improved, but the cost is also considerably less.

You see, since it is shipped in its original casks, House of Stuart does not have to pay the taxes and duties paid by other Scotches that are bottled overseas. This means you pay almost $2.00 less per fifth than many other popular brands. Visit your liquor mart or store and ask for House of Stuart. It's elegant in taste, and thrifty in price because it's shipped in its original casks.

It's Smart To Buy Right

$4.99 fifth approximately $2.00 less than comparable brands

Performing Arts Festival Offers Plenty Of Variety

What to choose may be the only problem of this year's Festival of Performing Arts.

Held for the first time at Marin's Art and Garden Center in Ross, it will open Wednesday at 8 p.m. with programs by the Marin Arts Quartet, Marin Pro Musica, and the Winifred Baker A Capella Choir.

Thursday afternoon will offer a wide variety of entertainment. Following the center's Memorial Day service at 11 a.m., the festival programming opens at 11:45 a.m. with a short concert by the Winifred Baker Boys' and Girls' Chorus.

At 12:15 p.m. flamenco dancer Mimi Janislawski and guitarist Gene Malin take center stage for a performance of costumed flamenco dance and classical guitar music.

Scheduled at 1 p.m. is a program of original dance, choreographed and presented in the amphitheater by the young people of the Dick Ford Dance Studio. The trio of Dick Ford, Marguerite Ford and Judith Modell will dance, premiering new works.

At 1:15 p.m. in Northgate the exotic Hindu, Arabic and Turkish dance creations of the Magna Baptiste Dance Troupe will be presented featuring Walt Gurudev Baptiste.

After the dance programs have concluded at 2:30 p.m., the Ross Valley Players will stage in the Barn an hour of excerpts from their latest hit, Vincent Youmans' musical comedy "Hit the Deck."

While this program is under way, the Modern Dance Club of Palo Alto will perform in Northgate with their interpretation of Dylan Thomas' poem "Fern Hill." Janina Novak, Janie Paul and Susan Jurd are featured.

Following the end of this dance concert and overlapping the close of the Ross Valley Players' show, the Stuart Highlanders Pipe Band of San Francisco will play and drill for 30 minutes in the Center's main drive.

At 4 p.m. in the Barn Marin pianist William Clark, considered an outstanding Beethoven and Brahms interpreter, will play works by these composers. Southern California soprano Mia Phoebus, accompanied by pianist Eugene Ramey, will complete this musical program.

Shortly after the start of the Clark and Phoebus concert, Berkeley puppeteer Frank Oznowicz will appear on the Northgate stage. He recently returned from Brussels, where he appeared in a 30-minute film for Belgian national television.

All facilities of the Center will be open throughout the day.

Students Learn Engineering Problems

By JIM WILLWERTH

Do you know how to make a stroboscope or a car which rides on an air cushion instead of wheels?

Perhaps not, but these and other unusual items are common fare in instructor Donald C. Greenfield's pre-engineering metals laboratory at San Rafael High School.

Greenfield, of 114 Sycamore Avenue, Larkspur, greets students the first day with this problem:

"Life has been discovered on another planet. However, the investigating space ship failed to return to earth, leaving only a blurred description of the planet's properties. Deduce and analyze the following information, your illustrated interpretation of the physical appearance of this planet."

The exercise, intended to acquaint the students with creative aspects of engineering design, has no "solution," said Greenfield. It is, however, an appropriate introduction to the unusual course. Its idea was originated for the first time at any high school last year by Greenfield so "theory and practical engineering techniques might meet."

The laboratory, limited to students with "serious intent" to enter the design or engineering field, is divided into four phases.

Phase one teaches basic metallurgy design by a series of experiments from conjecture on alien planet life to designing a metal floor plan for apartment buildings.

Phase two requires the student to design and build a miniature steam engine to operate on less than five pounds air pressure. Greenfield confessed his own model "wouldn't work on less than 10 pounds" the first time.

The lab's third phase requires completion of prescribed design experiments under simulated deadlines.

The fourth, and final phase, allows each student to branch out on his own.

Some students have branched so far that Greenfield admits he sometimes can't keep up with the projects.

One phase four project is built by John Rostoni of 1355 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. It is a stroboscope which student Rostoni describes this way:

"A unit to study stress and strain in vibrating objects which emits flashes of light at 35,000 cycles per second called strobe light. The light, by flashing at precise intervals, can be used to observe and calibrate timing processes in industrial machines."

Sound complicated?

Rostoni, who plans a career in electronic engineering, is 15 years old and a sophomore at San Rafael High. One of his other class projects is a gymbal-mounted gyroscope for study of the earth's rotation.

Easier to understand, but as difficult to construct, is a project of Don Bogdon, 17, of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax. Sometimes mistaken for the proverbial flying saucer, it is a ground effects machine, which will ride over land or water on a cushion of air.

The idea came from an illustration of a similar machine in flight, a British periodical, said Bogdon. The design however, is completely his. The present model, is two feet in diameter, is only a small promise of things to come.

"Next year," said Bogdon, "I plan to build one I can ride, 12 feet in diameter."

The machine, constructed of sheet metal with a small airplane motor, has not yet been tested and is still hopeful conjecture for the future aeronautical engineer.

Other class projects include: a plastic model of a cantilevered house, a machine for slicing lapidary stone, a wind velocity indicator, and a rocket launcher complete with rocket.

One thing the class lacks is students.

"The type of youngster who should be taking this course," said Greenfield, "has a time problem." The class has 18 students, but Greenfield hopes that as word spreads more will enroll next fall.

The unusual course stresses practicality, but one might ask how the individual student acquires know-how to build stroboscopes and flying machines. Greenfield's answer is practical also: "He digs."

15 Seniors To Get On Life Honor Roll

California Scholarship Federation and Honor Society life memberships are being granted 15 graduating seniors from Redwood High School.

Based on membership in the federation for six semesters, life members of C.S.F. include Juliet Banning, Donna Logan, Don Rogers, Beverly Sadler, and Steven White.

Honor Society life members include Christopher Bricca, John Contos, Tom Graefe, William Koons, Stacy Moore, Jane Novacic, John Osborn, Don Rogers, Julie Shew, and Dawn Urbais.

The list is based on first semester grades, and more seniors may be admitted as second semester grades are announced.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Ross Residents Honor Son, Fiancee At Home Reception

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. James Cockburn of Ross gave a reception at their home Saturday for their son, Donald Murray Cockburn and his fiancee, Kathryn Susan Fisher. About 80 friends of the young couple and the hosts attended the reception. Most of the younger contingent remained for a buffet supper and dancing.

Kathy, daughter of Mrs. Gilbert D. Ayron of Sleepy Hollow, San Anselmo and Harold A. Fisher of La Jolla, is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and a sophomore at San Jose State College where she is majoring in art.

Don, a graduate of Drake high school and College of the Pacific, is a physical education teacher and basketball coach at Vallejo High School. He and Kathy will exchange marriage vows at the First Presbyterian Church in Sausalito June 22. The wedding reception will be held at the Alta Mira Hotel.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY Zwagerman became the owners Sunday of a new home at 874 Marin Drive, Mill Valley. Since they were married eight years ago on that date, the Zwagermans have called it an anniversary present. The Zwagermans have two children, Mark, 4; and Paula, 3.

MRS. BETTY DONZEL of Tiburon left Saturday for a two month trip by air, via Quantas Airlines for Athens, Greece. She will visit the Greek Islands, Turkey, spend a few days visting islands in and on the Adriatic Sea, and also go to Dubrovnik, Belgrade, Zagreb and Sarajeo in Yugoslavia. From there she will fly on to Italy to end her vacation, before returning to the United States.

MRS. FRED ENEMARK and Mrs. Berthold Werner Broemmel are entertaining the members of the senior class at Dominican Convent, and their mothers at a tea tomorrow at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. The daughters of the hostesses, Susan Enemark and Dorothy Broemmel, both Dominican seniors will make their debut at the second annual Marin debutante ball

MRS. NELSON SHREVE of Corte Madera entertained at cocktail party Sunday evening for the production staff of Tamalpa, presented at the Mountain Theater on Tamalpais. The performance was the fiftieth anniversary of the mountain play. Lucille Shreve was the assistant producer. After the party Lucille and her guests went to Tiburon for a Mexican dinner at El Borro.

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT K. Stahl of Corte Madera were hosts last week to Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Bouford of Rochester, New York. The Stahls gave a cocktail party and a dinner party for the Boufords. The Stahls also entertained the Boufords at a luncheon at the Spinnager in Sausalito and at dinner at Pietro's in San Francisco.

Linda Poppett Of Tiburon To Marry In July Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Milton H. Poppett of Hill Haven, Tiburon, recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Linda Carol, to Roger John Latif of Manhattan Beach, at a dinner party.

The bride-elect is the sister of Mrs. Raymond M. Grenz of Sacramento. Her maternal grandmother is Mrs. William Clowers of San Bernardino. Carol is a graduate of Stanford University. She was also a graduate from American River College and El Camino High School in Sacramento. Carol made her debut at the Sacramento Camellia Ball in 1958, and was a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma. She is employed at the Santa Clara County Health Department of Palo Alto.

The future bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Latif of Turlock. His brother is Chester Latif of Fresno. Roger was graduated from the University of Colorado and also from the University of California. He attended Turlock High School, and is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity. The future benedict is employed at Space Technology Laboratories, Inc. at Redondo Beach, as an electrical engineer.

A July wedding in Belvedere is planned by the young couple.

SOMETHING OLD...

Something New, Rented And Blue

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

TEANECK, N.J. — A new trend in wedding arrangements indicates a revision of that old saying, "Something old, something new . . ."

Now make it, "Something old, something new, something RENTED, something blue."

That long white gown the glowing bride wears down the aisle might be one she bought. Or, it might be one she hired just for the big day.

"CERTAINLY we're renting wedding gowns," said Zarah Poosikian, 36-year-old president of a firm which specializes in renting formal apparel.

"We also rent the bride's headdress. Every one of our brides also gets that 'something blue' from us—we give each customer a blue garter."

POOSIKIAN said that his firm carries some 300 bridal gown styles, most of them floor length, many with the cathedral train. Some 30 are rented, on the average, each month, but the number goes up in the summer marrying season.

"I DON'T know whether it's because today's bride is less sentimental about her wedding dress, or just more practical," said Poosikian.

"Look at it this way. A bridal gown is a one-occasion dress. For $30 to $40, the bride can rent a gown. To buy one, she will spend anywhere from $100 on up to $400 or $500.

"I think she rents because she would rather put some of the money into the honeymoon or furnishing the new home."

Once in a while, Poosikian said, the bride-to-be or mother makes an excuse for renting—"The one we purchased hasn't arrived," or some such. But most of them are just as candid about renting a wedding dress as other women customers are about renting mink stoles, another facet of Biltmore's business.

THE FIRM RENTS about 80 mink stoles each week. It does not stock mink coats, Poosikian explained, because their wearing season is brief along the eastern seaboard, which the company serves. Nor does it stock bridesmaids' dresses. "Too much of a problem with all the colors," he said.

SHEIK TO CHIC

School Will Stage Summer Stock Ball

Titled "The Summer Stock Ball or Dancing Sheik to Chic," Sausalito Nursery School's annual dance will be held at the Sausalito Cruising Club Saturday from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

The party will include dinner and dancing, with costumes optional, but incentive will be provided in the form of prizes offered in several categories. These are for best man, best woman, best couple, most imaginative, most beautiful and funniest.

General chairman Mrs. John Wellington is being assisted by a committee composed of Mesdames Edward Ripley and Norman Murdoch, reservations; Donald Duncan, donations; A. W. Gallagher and Milton Nadel, dance night; Mary Strebeigh, Charles Ksanda and Ernest Saltmarsh, prizes; and Nora Camp, publicity.

Funds raised by the dance will be used for maintaining the school, which has just been painted bright red by fathers.

Wilkins Unit Plans June Variety Show

"June Is Busting Out All Over" will be the theme for the variety show and dance planned on June 1 by the Wilkins Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. William Ghilotti is general chairman for the show to be held in the American Legion Hall in San Rafael. Mrs. Gimi J. Sessi is co-chairman.

Highlight of the evening will be the dancing chorus composed of Messrs. Paul Bettini, Robert Dodson, William Ghilotti, Joseph Mello, Dave Menary Jr., Mario Pellegrini, Al Re and William Wider.

Committee chairmen include Mesdames Donald Martin, George Silveria, decorations; Pellegrini, tickets; Wider, Louis Robinson, grab bags; Dodson, programs; Richard Rex, publicity; Miss Claudia Dodson, checkroom.

Mesdames Emil Boracchia, mistress of the evening; Wider and Frank Milani, refreshments and Richard Harder, cleanup.

Funds from the show will go to the Girls State program.

Mount Carmel Picnic June 2

June 2 is the date and the place is Boyle Park for the annual picnic sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Group of the Mount Carmel School in Mill Valley.

Faculty, parents and children will arrive at 10 a.m. and stay until 4 p.m. for a day of games, races, contests and plenty of hot dogs and soda pop. The various grades will compete in races for prizes—pre-schoolers will have fun breaking pinatas, and even nuns and mothers will enjoy a game of volleyball.

Milady's Mink To Be Made In Israel

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI)—Milady's mink coat may soon be labeled "made in Israel."

Although the Middle East hardly seems the most conducive climate for a booming fur industry, the Israeli government hopes the country will become a major entry in the world fur fashion market, according to Merrill Lowell, a Beverly Hills fur designer.

To help establish the industry, the Israeli government recently invited Lowell to conduct seminars for that country's fur manufacturers.

"The main purpose of the industry in Israel is to create value from the skills available," Lowell explained. "Immigrants, particularly those from the Baltic states, include some of the finest needleworkers in the world."

Now back from his teaching expedition, Lowell explained that he instructed Israeli craftsmer in the handling of furs from the raw material to the completed garment.

The Israeli furs will be produced mostly for European consumption and for the tourist trade, Lowell said. Tourism is the second largest industry in Israel and the government hopes it will provide an excellent market for the furs.

Although some fur-bearing animals, particularly minks, are raised in Israel, most of the skins are imported.

Tamalpais Assembly To Install Louise White Worthy Advisor

On Friday evening at 8 p.m., at the Masonic Temple, Larkspur, Louise White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles White of Fairfax, will be installed as worthy advisor of Tamalpais Assembly 191, International Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Installing officer will be Linda Walsh, junior past worthy advisor, assisted by Margaret Cowles, marshal; Janice Rhodes, honorary marshal; Norma Pirenian, chaplain; Virginia Brown, recorder; Bonnie Hoag, banner bearer; Andrea Fish, American flag tribute, all past worthy advisors.

Hostess for the evening will be Eva Cowles, and Laura McCourtney will be the musician.

Officers to be installed are Marcia Fish, worthy associate advisor; Janice Hantzsche, charity; Carol Johnson, hope; Jean Thomas, faith; Kathy O'Brien, chaplain; Jill Carlton, drill leader; Marilyn McLean, love; Debbie Snyder, religion; Patty Cosgrove, nature; Karen Brodsgar, immortality; Kathy Burch, fidelity; Lee Ann Nadell, patriotism; Karren Rhodes, service; Joanne Hickman, confidential observer; Jane Berry, outer observer; Kathy Long, musician; Carolyn Philips, choir director.

Choir members are Linda Couch, Dorothy Jamieson, Carol Ecker, Anne Woodward, Kathy Benoit, Nathalie De Krokaloff, Lana McBride, Nanette Hantzsche, Kim Mitchell, Mary Lou Myers, Linda Swift and Tracy Cavit. Banner Bearer is Gloria Kirkland; prompter, Linda Walsh, and reporter, Robin Colthurst. Rick Webb of the Ross Valley Chapter, Order of DeMolay, has been named Rainbow Beau.

A reception and dance will follow the installation.

Hear Ye— On Ear Crues

CHICAGO (UPI) — An ear expert says deafness is rising in the United States as a result of an increased number of older people and various complexities of modern life.

Dr. Francis L. Lederer, of the University of Illinois Medical School, says causes of reduced hearing function "include noisier industries, interest in body contact sports, swimming, hunting and air travel, especially when traveling with a head cold or nasal allergy."

"Hearing problems can often start before birth," he said, "so early detecttion of hearing problems is essential."

A physician must be aware of the psychological, as well as the medical difficulties which may be encountered, said Lederer.

Children with a permanent hearing loss can be taught to communicate "with relative ease in a hearing world," he said.

Guild Plans Peppermint Ball June 8

A rosy glow over the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley on June 8 at 7 p.m. will be cast by Strawberry Guild of Sunny Hills I when it presents a Peppermint Ball.

PINK FLOWERS, pink lanterns, pink topiary trees and pink and white stripes will be used by the decorating committee, headed by Mrs. William Praun, to create a rose-colored effect. Guests will be given a taste of the good old days of the ice cream parlor, band concerts in the park, gazebos and a more leisurely age. Assisting with the decorating will be Mesdames Jack Glasner, Robert G. Smith, John Nelson, Reginald Fischer and Arno Rayner.

OTHER committees are: Mrs. Stanley Gallagher and her co-chairman Mrs. Charles Partridge assisted by Mrs. R. R. McGaugh, table settings; Mrs. Meyer Rabin with helpers Mesdames Anshall Nelson, Ernest Brugger, James Sullivan, James Watson, Arnold H. Deckman and John Abney, food; Mrs. William Moschetti assisted by Mesdames Eddie Bodine, B. P. Lelich and Russ Lloyd, refreshments. Mrs. James Warnock is in charge of tickets and reservations and Mrs. Charles Gay, prizes.

Mrs. George Fay, guild president, and Mrs. Charles Crowell, dance chairman will welcome guests at a patio party preceding the dinner and dance with Mrs. Fred Andress and Mrs. Erland Koski presiding at the hors d'oeuvres table.

Proceeds from the dance will be used to buy materials for the candy leis and bracelets which the guild members make to sell at their booth at the Grape Festival, which is held in October to benefit the Sunny Hills home.

'Clean Room' Has Pure Air

ALBUQUERQUE (UPI) — Although it is normal for healthy persons to breathe air which contains three to 10 million particles of matter larger in diameter than 0.3 micron per cubic foot, surgeons prefer much cleaner air when they operate.

At the nation's first "clean room conference" held recently in Albuquerque, Dr. W. R. Lovelace, a leader in space surgery, said the clean room is one of the most important medical advances he has seen.

The clean room, developed by the Sandia Corp. of Albuquerque, employs a system of intake filters and exhausts which reduces the number of 0.3 micron-size particles to from 100 to 1,000 per cubic foot.

The new cleansing technique was developed primarily for work in the missile and space fields. Some equipment used in space exploration is so delicate and precise that the smallest particle of dust could have the same effect on it that a boulder would have if it thundered on an automobile engine.

Lovelace said the clean room will be invaluable in eliminating infection if used as an operating room, recovery room, incubating room for premature babies and centers for burn patients.

In the new clean room process, invented by John Whitfield of Sandia, air is run through filters which extract most impurities. Then the clean air sweeps through the room at about one mile per hour, carrying all particles larger than 0.3 micron out an exhaust in the floor.

Water flows beneath the floor exhaust to help wash the particles from the room.

DOMINICAN HOMECOMING DATE SET

The Dominican College Alumnae Homecoming weekend will be held on June 7 and 8.

Mrs. Paul Enright and Mrs. W. J. Talbot, co-chairmen for the event, have planned many activities for the alumnae returning to the college grounds.

Friday evening will be dinner and activities for those staying overnight. Saturday, a mass for the deceased members of the alumnae followed by a continental breakfast at Pennafort Hall is planned. At Caleruega, beginning at noon, will be a social hour and the homecoming luncheon. A general business meeting and election and installation of officers will follow.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. James Madden Jr. of Orinda.

Research Chases Ills In The Laundry Room

GREENVILLE, S. C. (UPI) — The washing machine clogs—and you want to chew logs.

A wash-and-wear shirt falls apart. You wonder how come? The maker's supposed to be smart.

Or—expensive linoleum starts cracking and it sets you to yapping, "they make things so poorly these days."

When such crises occur on the homefront, the best course is to clear yourself before glaming a manufacturer, says Dr. Frederick T. Lense.

Research and development director of a firm that makes cleaning and laundry products, he maintains that what you use to take care of your possessions has a lot to do with their life span.

THE DEVELOPMENT of bleaches, fabric softeners and cleaners of all kinds that prolong the life of articles is more than a laboratory job for the scientists from Texize Chemicals Inc.

In the course of testing, he does homework — washing dishes and walls, cleaning floors. He's even done the family laundry as part of his research.

His wife, a bacteriologist before marriage, is an expert in the distinfectant field.

"WHEN I TEST in this area at home," Dr. Lense said, "I don't pooh-pooh her suggestions."

Dr. Lense noted that ideas for new products are based on necessity.

Women, according to the scientist, must be ready to accept a new concept in a product.

Although controlled - suds laundry detergents have been on the market for 18 years, for example, many women still resist them.

San Francisco Bay Council Organization Meet Tomorrow

More than 50 Marin adult Girl Scouts will participate with 800 Bay Area adult Girl Scouts in the organizational meeting of the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council in the Terrace Room of the Fairmont Hotel, tomorrow.

Election of the first officers and adoption of the by-laws for the new organization, which consolidates Girl Scout Councils of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo Counties, are on the morning's agenda. Mrs. Carl Flegal of Fremont, chairman of the organization committee, will preside.

Following the business meeting, members and friends of Girl Scouting will celebrate the birth of the new council at a luncheon in the hotel. Mrs. Herbert Schuckle, a member of the Girl Scout National Board of Directors of Baltimore, Md., will address the luncheon. Mrs. Schuckle is chairman of the Senior Girl Scout Roundup for 1965.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Tempest in a teapot — fortunately that's all most toddler tantrums amount to. Most toddlers have an occasional temper storm because the very business of growing up is bound to bring frustrations. Tantrums may also result if a child is overtired or overstimulated.

To fight anger with anger, hardly ever works. Good ways to calm an overwrought child who's not old enough to reason with:

• Try to distract him tactfully. A quick hug 'n' kiss often smooths away the sore spot.
• If he's failed at something, try to show him the way and be quick to praise new attempts.

P.S. It's unwise to bribe or threaten a toddler back to good behavior. Bribes beget bad habits . . . threats beget bigger tirades.

Mealtime tantrums almost never happen when you spark your toddler's menus with something extra-special. Like Gerber Junior High Meat Dinners . . . famous for savory flavor interest. That's because they have 3 times as much meat (and therefore much more protein) as regular vegetable and meat combinations. Add to this extra meat the goodness of selected garden vegetables and you get the tastiest dishes that ever perked up a palate. Strained too, for pre-toddler tykes. 5 varieties.

Nutrition bulletin from Dan Gerber. Every mother knows that excessive cooking reduces the nutritive values of food. Gerber Strained and Junior Fruits are cooked in just a few seconds to retain the highest degree of natural food values possible. Flash-cooking does a lot for baby's eating pleasure, too, because it helps preserve the true-to-nature colors and flavors so appealing to little ones. The development of modern processing methods is just one of Gerber's many continuing research projects. Gerber Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

South took the first trick in dummy and tried an immediate finesse with the queen of clubs.

SHAKE HEAD

Yes, you may shake your head sadly. The queen of clubs was gobbled up by the king, and South could win only eight tricks.

If South had lived a clean life he wouldn't have been in such a hurry with his queen of clubs. The correct play at the second trick is a low club rather than the queen.

East returns the queen of hearts to the ace. Does South go over to dummy for a club finesse? Tsk, tsk, young man. There are ladies present.

JUST SUPPOSE

South should lead the ace of clubs from his hand. As it happens, the king drops. South can make the queen of clubs at leisure.

Just suppose the king of clubs fails to drop so obligingly. South leads a spade to dummy's king and returns a club.

If East has the king of clubs, South will eventually win a trick with the queen of clubs. Even if West has the king of clubs, a 3-3 break will allow South to win a trick with his last club.

SOUTH FAILS

South fails only if West has four clubs headed by the king.

In that case, no finesse would work, so South's clean-living play costs him nothing.

The point is that South does not need the first two club tricks; he is satisfied with any two.

He must not risk his lovely queen of clubs until he has given the king every chance to fall.

Today is Tuesday, May 28, the 148th day of 1963 with 217 to follow.

The moon is approaching first quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1892, a budding comedienne, Marie Dressler, made her debut in New York in the comic opera, "The Robber of the Rhine."

In 1905, Imperial Russia's fleet suffered a disastrous defeat under the guns of the Japanese navy commanded by Admiral Togo.

A thought for the day—George Washington said: "To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

We Back Fair Housing But It Won't End Discrimination

The position of the Independent-Journal on integration and the equality of man has been stated so many times we thought it was well established by this time.

We have fought for the rights of all nationalities to buy homes in Mill Valley, in Madera Gardens, in Terra Linda and in numerous other parts of the county. We have deplored racial restrictions in Fair Hills property deeds, even though they are meaningless.

We were under the impression we had given support and encouragement to the Marin Committee For Fair Play In Housing, although the committee seems to feel differently. (See letter in adjoining column.)

We are accused of "condescension" in that letter apparently because we believe the law should apply equally to both whites and Negroes. Admittedly, the "riots and burnings" to which we referred were brought on by two bombings. But in our eyes, the fact that there was something to incite the riots didn't make them any more lawful, any more democratically responsible.

We don't think a man maimed by a Ku Klux Klan bomb is a bit better or worse off than a taxi driver pulled from his cab and stabbed by a mob. Mob action is reprehensible, particularly because it is seldom directed at the people really responsible for a situation.

The Fair Play Committee urges us to support Assembly Bill 1240, the so-called Rumford Fair Housing Bill, before Senate committee tomorrow. Of course we support it. Our assemblyman, William T. Bagley, has already supported it. Our senator, John F. McCarthy, has indicated he too will support it.

But let's be clear about this. The Rumford Bill isn't going to bring the end of discrimination in California. To begin with, the bill itself isn't the same bill Assemblyman Byron Rumford introduced. If it passes the Senate, it will be altered further, probably drastically.

No law is going to end discrimination; it can only provide a legal atmosphere in which men and women can learn to live together on equal footing. This can, must and will be done.

But the law must be fair and equal, not giving the majority nor the minority the advantage. Then it is up to men; it is between and among men that the true brotherhood of nations will be reached.

We think that government by law with individual freedom, as we have here in the United States, is the best place to reach it, slow though it sometimes seems.

Season Of Road Maps And Romance

Now that warmth is in the air, ideas of travel which have lain dormant in mental seeds for the cold, wet months suddenly germinate and begin to sprout into trip plans.

Many Marinites have their heads full of road maps and romance with the approach of vacation time. Whether one contemplates a quiet weekend in Carmel or a cross-country drive to Cape Cod, the enthusiasm for a change from the hum drum and enlarging one's vistas on life are the same.

The French say, "Bon voyage."

The Chinese say, "Go with the wind."

We say, "Good luck and drive carefully."

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Marin Is Spending More Than Anyone On Schools; Worth It?

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

A disturbing statistic, referred to briefly yesterday on this page in Bryce Anderson's Reporter's Notebook, is the high cost of governmental services in Marin County when compared with other counties of the state. The figures on average tax rate, just released for 1962-63 by the State Board of Equalization, show that although the total Marin tax rate is high, most of it is going into schools and the actual cost of government here is well down compared to other counties.

Marin's total assessed valuation is $294,928,000, including the utilities roll, and locally-assessed secured and unsecured rolls.

Marin taxes levied during the year, including city, county, school and other districts, come to $26,736,000.

This means that the average tax rate is 9.07 per cent of the assessed valuation.

That percentage puts Marin County the third highest in the state's 58 counties. It was in the same position a year earlier. Only Alameda County, at 9.50 per cent, and San Francisco City and County, at 9.21 per cent, are higher.

But here is an amazing factor. Of the $26¾ million in taxes, slightly more than $15¾ million is going into Marin public schools. That's about 60 per cent of the total and more than twice the size of the second highest.

County government has the second highest total, $6,613,000; cities next, $2,361,000, and all other districts together just $2,004,000.

THERE IS NO OTHER county in the state using such a high proportion for schools. And, conversely, there are few counties indeed using as little of their tax dollars for city and county government.

Greatest and closest example, of course, is the City and County of San Francisco. With an assessed valuation of $1,530,625,000, slightly more than five times that of Marin, city-county government costs total $104,581,000, nearly 10 times Marin County's total cost for all city, county and special district government combined.

On the other hand, San Francisco spends a mere $36,291,000 on schools, not quite two and a half times what Marin does.

COMPARED WITH some of the other counties of about equal size, Marin has high school expenditure and low governmental costs. Sonoma County, for example, only slightly less in assessed valuation than Marin, spends $1,100,000 more on county government and $5,100,000 less on schools.

We spent approximately the same amount on schools as Santa Barbara County did. But Santa Barbara has an assessed valuation of $422 million, nearly double Marin's $295 million.

Tulare County with $348 million assessed valuation, spent $2 million less on schools and $4 million more on county government. Stanislaus County, with a $257 million assessed valuation, spends $2.5 million more on the county government and $5 million less on schools.

So it is quite clear what we are spending our money on. The only question remaining, then, is:

Are we getting our schools dollar's worth?

Birmingham Hurt U.S. Irreparably

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Tuesday evening (May 14), as I was having coffee with a group of foreign students in San Francisco, I asked the question, "Has Birmingham affected the image of the U.S. in your respective countries?"

Most of the students, representing emerging African nations as well as Iraq, Sudan, and some European lands, immediately responded with the single word, "irreparably."

The lad from Sudan asked, in response, "Why Birmingham?" He went on to assert that, in his opinion, the U.S. had lost prestige beyond measure with Clinton, Little Rock and Ol' Miss long before this point.

While these students made it clear that they were representing their own opinions, they felt that they were expressing mildly—"almost academically"—what their countrymen are feeling about the U.S. racial strife in general and U.S. failure to secure to Negroes' civil rights in particular.

I was reminded of that conversation when I read your May 17 lead editorial ("9 Years After Desegregation Rule No Time For Violence").

The editorial contained some worthwhile statements about "the Negro people . . . wanting real freedom," and about the Independent-Journal's hope that it has "been of some assistance to them in establishing an atmosphere in which they actually are becoming equal citizens."

The general tone of the ediorial, however, struck the ear with the familiar ring of condescension. Upon reading that "The Negro must remember that the 14th Amendment . . . guarantees to all persons safety for their lives and property," one wondered what else might the Independent-Journal have in mind as having been responsible for precipitating the "direct action which has led to riots and burnings," things which you remind us, "give ammunition to the bigots."

One was reminded, and almost wearied at having been reminded, that the bigots you correctly single out have not needed such direct action as you speak of for ammunition these long, agonizing years — years during which American Negroes have been engaged in the most sustained and frustrating struggle for human dignity ever waged by a people from whom their past had infamously been stripped.

The Negro certainly does not need to be reminded of the guarantees of the 14th Amendment. Daily he lives under the burden which denial of those guarantees by a vast segment of our population inflicts on him.

I wish to congratulate the Independent-Journal for stating in that same editorial that "We support (Negroes') efforts to break down intolerable discrimination (in Birmingham), in California, Marin and everywhere."

May I join with all fair-minded citizens in "Marin and everywhere" to urge you editorially to implement that statement by supporting the currently pending Assembly Bill 1240, the so-called Rumford Fair Housing Bill.

This, it seems to me, would be a desirable way to let the Negro know that the Independent-Journal does not mean to support the intolerable housing discrimination which still persists in "California, Marin and everywhere."

College Needs Community Aid

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The Executive Council of the Associated Students of College of Marin would like to extend its appreciation to the Independent-Journal for its generous and recent support given to the college and our "A Day at Marin's College." Through the articles on the college in two of your Saturday magazine sections, information concerning our superior faculty, our high-rated scholastic standing, and many richly diversified college programs and activities was communicated to the citizens of Marin County.

Our open house, "A Day at Marin's College," which was held on May 11 was an invitation to the community to visit the college and see the above-mentioned information in action for itself.

The function was a wonderful success so far as student spirit went. However, the participants, including both faculty and students, were a bit disillusioned about the small community turnout. Those parents and friends that did come enjoyed themselves and were highly impressed by our able young adults.

We, speaking for the entire student body, wish we could impress upon the public how much their support is needed. Monetarily they are supporting us through taxes, but the college additionally needs the community's support in spirit and attitude. What would happen to a child who whenever he asked for money was given it by his parents, but who received little or no love along with the money?

In effect, College of Marin students are the children of community. We are the ones who one day soon will be taking the roles of our present councilmen, chairmen of boards, lawyers, doctors, bankers, etc., the leaders of our county. We also need the community's support.

A town in South Dakota was in the process of electing a new mayor and board of advisors, and Mrs. Hubbard thought it would be educational to take her 7-year-old daughter with her to the polling booth. On the way home the daughter asked, "Mom, do you always vote for the men you love most?" "Whatever put an idea like that in your mind?" wondered Mrs. Hubbard. "Well," said the daughter, "I saw you put kisses next to their names."

Colonel James Cokesbury Albright, the pride of Dallas, says that when it comes to gallantry, Texans cannot be beat. He cites as an example a rough old gaffer from the oil fields who was just preparing to dig into a succulent piece of roast pig at a barbecue when someone careened into him from behind and knocked his plate to the ground. In a rage he bellowed, "You hawg! You want all the space there is?" and then he perceived the offender was the dignified wife of his host. Wtihout a second thought he amended his statement. "Lady hawg, that is, ma'am."

Guess Why New Concrete Floor Of Plumbing Firm Was Torn Up?

One of the big new additions to the Novato business district is the Locke Plumbing Co.'s new building on Sweetzer Avenue. John Novak is building it. The concrete floor was poured and the framing put up last week.

And then—one would expect it of a government operation, but not in private business where there is efficiency—they had to tear up the new concrete floor. The concrete had no more than set than a man was put to chipping out an area about a foot wide and four feet long.

You guessed it—to install plumbing!

ALONG THE SAME line, what Mill Valley termite exterminator company had the bed of their truck break through the other day—eaten out with termites?

AT A RECENT Novato City Council meeting, there was a neighborhood delegation to see the council.

After that council discussion, they lingered in the lobby of the Community House, to talk over the problem. The noise came back into the council chambers so loud that proceedings of the meeting could scarcely be heard.

Councilman Everett Pozzi asked if the council had not once ordered a new latch so that the glass doors would remain closed, and not partially open. The door stands partially ajar all the time.

City administrator J. Julien Baget said that he did not remember any such order, but would try to get the door fixed.

The council should have realized then that the sound that can go through a door in one direction, can go through in the other. It was through the same door that two reporters heard the discussions during a closed "executive" session of the council.

Those doors just are not sound proof!

AT THE SAME council meeting, the question came up about trucks breaking up the city streets during heavy construction.

Heavy dirt and rock trucks are raising havoc with Novato's streets. The streets just can't take the added loads put on them, especially since the ground underneath them has been saturated by this wet spring.

Pozzi reminded the council that the trucks are not illegal.

"They are within their legal weight limits," he said.

Quick on the comeback, Councilman Howard Schoof answered:

"Then they are legally breaking up the streets."

DURING THE paying of the bills, the council members were questioniing why Wade Lackey, street foreman, should be getting $3 to $5 each month for phone calls.

"Are these local calls or long distance?" Pozzi asked.

Baget told him that they were local. He said that Lackey had to phone into city hall several times a day to see if there were any orders.

For a few moments the council debated whether it was cheaper to have him come into the city hall to get orders, or phone in. They quickly decided that at the hourly rate of pay and the mileage, it was a lot cheaper to use the phone.

Baget told the council that the phone calls could be eliminated by installing a two-way radio, costing $1,000, which he had proposed in the budget for next year.

"Spend $1,000 to save $3 or $4?" the council echoed together.

"Well, there goes the two-way radio I asked for," Baget said philosophically.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Aid To Egypt, Algeria Face Slash In House

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Large-scale U.S. aid to two turbulent Middle East countries is the major target of a bipartisan group in the House Foreign Affairs Committee bent on cutting more than $1 billion from President Kennedy's $4.9 billion foreign assistance program.

In private sessions with administration officials, these committeemen have singled out for budget slashes around $250 million in aid for Egypt and Algeria in the form of surplus farm commodities, loans and outright grants.

The lawmakers bluntly told Administrator David Bell that aid to these two pro-Castro "neutralist" countries should be drastically cut, as it is being used to counter U.S. interests in the Middle East.

"AS I CHECK some of these countries we are helping," Representative Edward Derwinski (R-Ill.) informed Bell, "I find that our money is being put to work at cross-purposes of our own national interests. Our aid to the United Arab Republic is working against funds we are supplying to Jordan and Israel."

"It is our judgment we should assist all these countries on the assumption that our aid will mitigate tensions among them," contended Bell.

"If that is the basis of our policy," retorted Representative Leonard Farbstein (D-N.Y.), "how can we justify aid to Egypt when it goes to help build up an armament industry for use against Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Israel, all friends of the U.S.?"

"IF WE WERE persuaded that Egypt was planning to destroy its neighbors, we obviously wouldn't be giving aid," replied Bell.

"What do you think they are trying to do to Jordan and Israel?" demanded Farbstein.

After not one member of the committee said a word in support of aid to Egypt, Representative Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) observed, "Maybe it is time we try to influence events in the Middle East by cutting off all aid to Nasser."

Representative H. R. Gross (R-Iowa), long-time champion of economy in government spending, raised the issue of large-scale aid to Algeria, noting particularly Premier Ben Bella's warm ties with Fidel Castro.

"BEN BELLA is another Castro," declared Gross. "He came to this country and then went directly to Cuba and pledged his undying support for that Communist regime. Now Castro is going to Algeria, and both are training guerrillas for the invasion of Portuguese Angola and Latin America. Why are we giving a single thin dime to Algeria under the circumstances?"

"Ben Bella is seeking economic progress for the people of his country, and we are helping him achieve that with our aid," replied Bell.

"That is what Khrushchev and Castro say they are doing," snapped Gross.

Both Gross and Derwinski will seek to write specific restrictions against Egypt and Algeria into the foreign aid program.

Other members are planning to seek substantial reductions in aid allocations proposed by the administration for India, Indonesia, Yugoslavia, Poland and South Vietnam.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Life In Bomb Shelter Is Not Pleasant Even For A Short Time

VAN DELLEN

Life in a bomb shelter is not pleasant, even for short periods. In one survey, lack of water for washing was the chief complaint, followed by the monotony of eating the same food, over-crowding, dirt, and the behavior of others. These draw-backs need not exist but they were the major sources of psychologic discomfort among a group of 100 volunteer Navy personnel who spent two weeks during the summer and again in the winter in a Navy shelter at Bethesda, Md.

ACCORDING TO John E. Rasmussen of the institute, the men were handpicked and the shelter routine was followed to the letter. No limit was placed on the amount of water for drinking but none was available for washing or shaving.

Two meals were served daily. The first consisted of survival ration crackers, served with a variety of jellies. The same crackers were served for the second meal in hot soup or topped with peanut butter. Several kinds of soup were available to provide variety. Instant coffee and water were provided for both meals.

THE WINTER group also found the shortage of water for bathing the main cause of discomfort. Complaints about the food were lengthy and the survival crackers were the prime target of criticism. The summer group had the same gripe about water for washing but the heat and humidity were next on the list of objections. Dirt was third and food was fourth. The sailors lost appetite because of the heat.

Various lessons can be learned from this experiment. The project showed that the psychologic or emotional needs are as important as the nutritional value, storage, and selection of food. These men were young and healthy. What happens when the sexes are mixed and some of the shelter inhabitants are elderly, injured, or sick? It is obvious that building a shelter — no matter how expensive—is only half the story.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

FAILING HEART

J. B. writes: I've been told heart failure does not show up on an electrocardiogram or the stethoscope. How, then, does a doctor make this diagnosis?

REPLY

The patient tells of being short of breath, having to sleep with two or more pillows, swelling of the ankles, and indigestion. In addition, examination shows enlargement of the heart and liver, and congestion is noted at the base of the lungs.

A LAUGHING DRINKER

S. F. writes: A 52-year-old man drinks a lot of beer and some whisky. He is deaf and doesn't talk much but he laughs aloud to himself on the job as a dishwasher. What do you think is the matter with him?

REPLY

Being deaf, he may not realize he is making these sounds. But a person need not be hard of hearing to do this, especially after drinking.

EXCESSIVE RED CELLS

L. J. P. writes: Last year, after recovering from a strep throat and walking pneumonia, I developed polycythemia. Could either of these infections have caused the bone marrow to start manufacturing too much blood?

REPLY

No. In most cases, the cause of polycythemia rubra vera cannot be determined.

THE ITCH MITE

L. M. writes: Could a clean person get scabies?

REPLY

Yes, when the dirty associate with the clean. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on scabies, or the seven year itch.

Convent Building Permit Is Sought

Architectural supervision for a convent building on King Street near Magnolia Avenue for nuns teaching at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church School will be asked of the Larkspur Planning Commission at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

Plans for the building, across King Street from the church, were drawn by Architect Francis Arnold Constable.

Lee Brothers ask a variance for two signs totaling more than the permitted number of square feet to advertise the Value World, the market the firm is constructing in Larkspur Plaza.

Tennis Lessons Slated At Club

Four two-week sessions of tennis lessons for students from eight to 17 years old will be given this summer at the Marist Fathers Swim and Tennis Club in San Rafael.

Coordinator Father John McDonald said Herb Clark of the Belvedere Tennis Club and Dennis Van Der Meer of the Berkeley Tennis Club will lead the classes. A maximum of 50 applications will be accepted. The first session starts June 17.

The program will be run as a day camp, and will include swimming and other supervised recreation in addition to the tennis lessons.

Postal Carriers Need Drive Test

Applicants for jobs as substitute postal carriers for six post offices in Marin County now have to meet driving requirements as well as the written test.

The Post Office Board of Civil Service Examiners in San Francisco announced the requirements yesterday.

It applies to applicants for substitute carrier jobs at the Belvedere-Tiburon, Corte Madera, Fairfax, Mill Valley, Novato and San Rafael post offices.

They must submit a safe driving record, pass the Civil Service road test and have a valid driver's license.

Leadership Medal Goes To Marinite

Mark F. Cory III of 7 Robertson Terrace, Mill Valley, has been awarded a medal for leadership and academic achievement at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H., by the Green Mountain Chapter of the Retired Officers Assn.

Cory is a cadet lieutenant colonel with the Army ROTC unit at the college. His father is a retired Army colonel.

WEST COAST PREMIERE

'Moby Dick' Will Open In Sausalito June 12

Rehearsals are under way at Sausalito's Gate Theater for the West Coast premiere of "Moby Dick," actor-manager Jack Aranson said today.

The play, adapted from Herman Melville's book by Orson Welles, is to open June 12 and will run Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

Captain Ahab will be played by Aranson, who directed the same play two years ago at his Gate Theater in Dublin, Ireland. Others in the cast include Donald Spencer of Tiburon, playing Ishmael; Mary Rose McMaster, Aranson's wife, as Pip the cabin boy; George Ede as Starbuck; Russel Ernest as Stub; Henry Lysen as the carpenter; Bob Slattery as Peleg, and Bill Catanese as Flask, the third mate.

Dr. Earle Marsh of Mill Valley will handle lighting and sound effects.

Twin Cities Recreation Aide Quitting, Going To Hawaii

William Gordon of Corte Madera, director of the Larkspur-Corte Madera joint recreation commission for nine years, has submitted his resignation to take a job in Honolulu.

He will remain on the job until June 15 after which he and his wife will leave Marin. He has been hired as assistant to the president of Rex Tire Co.

The commission will meet June 6 at Larkspur-Corte Madera School conference room to discuss the resignation and consider a successor.

The commission has sent copies of its fiscal 1964 budget of $14,750 to the Corte Madera town council and Larkspur city council, asking $6,500 from each, said Commissioner Curtis Kamai, who drafted the budget.

The commission has named two Corte Madera residents to prepare for the July 4 fireworks at Neil Cummins School grounds: Mrs. David E. Swanson, chairman, and Charles W. Kopf, in charge of obtaining donations.

Rec Commission Requesting Money

A request for $1,750 from the Larkspur - Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission will be discussed by the Larkspur School District board at 7:30 p.m. today in district headquarters, 20 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur.

The request from the school district, itself seeking funds in an election next Tuesday, is for recreation activities for fiscal 1964.

An offer by pupils of $50 for shrubs for Larkspur-Corte Madera School will be discussed.

Scouting On TV

"This is Girl Scouting," a television presentation designed to explain the new program in Girl Scouts, will be shown on Channel 9 (KQED) on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Commercial Exhibitors Booking Marin, Art, Garden Fair Space

Commercial exhibitors have booked up space for the Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross early this year. Only a few booths remain untaken and even those may be rented by the time this is in print. About 40 firms will be represented.

A number will be repeat exhibitors from previous years, apparently feeling that the show has proved its worth with its average of 30,000 visitors, many of whom might not otherwise be exposed to their goods and services. Displays will include: Beef sausages, bonsai plants, craft and do-it-yourself materials, jewelry and lapidary equipment, foods and novelties, lighting equipment, massage devices, sewing machines, shells, stone planters, shoes, sportswear and numerous other products.

Three encyclopedias will be represented—Americana, Britannica and World Book. Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. has booked its usual four booths; insurance, service and political organizations have also entered displays. Sherman Clay and Co. will feature its Hammond Organs.

Eight new exhibitors are: Broilitzer (smokeless broilers) of Mill Valley; Aide Co. of Van Nuys, providing handwriting analysis by electronic machine; American Field Service with information on exchange students; L. C. Smith Co. of San Rafael with a display of building supplies. Other exhibitors include the Marin Bay Co., Niagara Therapy Manufacturing Co., Morse Bros. Paint and Waterproofing, and Annette Hamann of Larkspur with a line of handwoven rugs.

The show opens Wednesday night, July 3 and will extend through the following Sunday.

JUST RECEIVED at Wellen's San Rafael Typewriter Co., 1113 Fourth Street, is Smith-Corona's new electric portable typewriter, outfitted with transistors and a very practical graduation present. It's made to use any place and has a power pack that will give eight continuous hours of typing, says Fred Wellen. Plug it in overnight for recharging and it's ready to start off again the next day. Can be supplied with pica or elite type in various styles.

GENE HILLER, Sausalito men's clothier, has been presented the "Fashion Authority" award by Gentlemen's Quarterly Magazine, nationwide authority on the latest in male attire.

DAVID SEDERQUIST JR. of Belvedere, Bay Area manager of General Fireproofing Co., has been elected vice president of the San Francisco chapter of the National Office Management Assn. for the 1963-64 term.

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE representatives Russell C. Troop and J. Edmund Williams of San Rafael have returned from New Orleans where they received national honors for outstanding insurance production and service to policyholders.

ALL BUILDING SUPPLIES, trucks and equipment of C and and R Builders Supply Co. and Bret Harte Lumber Co. at 607 Irwin Street, San Rafael will be sold at public auction on June 4, 10:30 a.m. The auction will be conducted by David Weiss Co. of San Francisco.

Redwood Yearbook Available Saturday

Redwood High School students will pick up their 1963 Log, the school's yearbook, Saturday, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the boy's gymnasium.

A signature dance, from 8:30 to 11 p.m., will be held in the girls' gym with live music.

Pope John Weathers New Crisis

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Death brushed close to Pope John XXIII today, but he weathered the crisis.

The Vatican disclosed he is suffering from gastric heteroplasia—a growth in the stomach. This could be a cancer or a tumor, either benign or malignant.

The diagnosis, published by the Vatican newspaper, L'Osservatore Romano, was the first specifically defining the illness of the 81-year-old Roman Catholic pontiff.

The dictionary definition of heteroplasia is formation of abnormal tissue or of normal tissue in an abnormal locality.

Through tense hours this morning, three doctors were at the Pope's bedside and worked to stem hemorrhaging. Vatican sources reported.

It was the worst crisis of the illness which felled him briefly last fall and has since recurred intermittently.

Medical personnel rushed in and out of the papal apartment.

It is possible the doctors have not determined the exact kind of growth involved. In the past, surgery had been considered for exploratory purposes —and been rejected as too dangerous for the pontiff because of his age and condition.

Until today, the Vatican had said only that the Pope had a stomach disorder.

L'Osservatore said the hemorrhages, "caused by the gastric heteroplasia, which has affected the Holy Father for about a year, after being arrested for several months, have had an accentuated resumption in recent days."

"They have now been attenuated, and the organic consequences linked to them are, through today, limited and compensated by the curative measures adopted," it added.

Aside from disclosing the growth, the statement also disclosed for the first time that the Pope had been ill for a year. Until now, his illness had been dated to last November.

The doctors were Piero Mazzoni of Rome, who has remained almost constantly at the apostolic palace for a week; Antonio Gasbarrini, the Pope's personal physician; and Pietro Valdoni, one of Italy's leading surgeons.

A Vatican source said the difficulty in halting the internal bleeding brought deep concern.

Sortly after noon, Gasbarrini and Valdoni departed. Mazzoni apparently was continuing to stand by, as he has for seven days and nights.

In the past, the Pope has rallied after receiving blood transfusions and blood clotting aids.

Apprehension was relieved only in part by the departure of Gasbarrini and Valdoni. It was believed that the hemorrhaging may have been at least temporarily controlled. But it was noted the attacks were becoming more frequent.

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Two classes at Marin City's Manzanita School next fall will use the new ungraded program or "individualized learning" concept.

Sausalito School District trustees approved the plan for one year trial last night. In addition they agreed that Manzanita, now a kindergarten through third grade school, will add two fourth grade classes.

Recommendations were made to the board by teacher George H. Gregg, chairman of the curriculum study committee of 16 teachers, and Supt. Marcus F. Davis.

It is believed that Sausalito will be the first district in Marin to experiment with the ungraded program, said Morris Brown, Manzanita principal. It is also called non-graded and multi-graded. Contrary to ability grouping, which works on conformity, the ungraded program works on differences, Brown said.

The program "will benefit the immature and slow moving as well as the average and fast-moving child," said Rose

Negro Is Beaten At White Lunch Counter

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—A Negro student was kicked and beaten today at a white lunch counter where he and two Negro coeds sought service to start promised civil rights demonstrations in this rigidly segregated Mississippi capital.

Five other young Negroes were arrested for picketing outside downtown department stores.

Russia Fires Rockets To Mid-Pacific

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union, in tests designed to boost its manned space program, has fired rockets nearly 7,500 miles into the central Pacific Ocean, Tass said today.

The Soviet news agency said the final stages of the rockets hit their target areas "with a high degree of accuracy."

The tests were carried out May 18 and 25, Tass said. It did not say how many rockets were fired.

It identified the rockets as "perfected variants of carrier rockets for outer space objects."

The test firings followed the launching of another Cosmos satellite, the 18th in a series of unmanned Sputniks designed to pave the way for another manned space flight—possibly by a woman.

The announcement said the Pacific test area, which earlier was "closed" for foreign ships and airplanes, "is now free for sea traffic and flights."

School Aide Says Staff 'Scapegoat'

Hollis Denies Charges By 11th To Quit

By LOREN MacARTHUR

Staff members end up as scapegoats when the Marin County Schools office is criticized, the 11th person to quit his job with the office in the past month said in his letter of resignation to Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

There is "deep trouble" in the office, said Harold J. Simpson, who has worked for the county superintendent for two years as a psychologist.

"For most part," wrote Simpson, "all criticism (of the staff) is seen as threatening and is responded to with almost panic, a lack of support for the staff member and sometimes an attack on the staff members for errors. Of course errors will be made by the staff if top direction is confused."

CHARGE DENIED

But Hollis denied the charge. "I listen to criticism all the time," he said. "This is one thing I pride myself on. We don't panic at criticism."

Simpson also cited an "atmosphere of distrust" in the office. The staff, he said has had the uneasy awareness that the performance of their jobs, or their very jobs themselves, might at any time be attacked for reasons that were vague or irrelevant to the job.

"On one hand, the staff is told in exaggerated terms what a splendid job is being done, but not why; or on the other hand, one is criticized or fired for hard to recognize reasons.

TOBACCO FLAVOR

"In my case, conventional dress and the flavor of my pipe tobacco seemed to be important."

"Right from the beginning there were some comments made about him," recalled Hollis. "I can see how his disappointment at not being kept on the staff may turn into bitterness. But this hasn't been my feeling toward him. He's a most loyal employee and an outstanding man."

Hollis said Simpson had been asked to resign because Larkspur School District, which contracts with the county for the psychologist's services four days a week, has not renewed the contract. The district plans to hire its own full-time phychologist.

The administration had "little" interest" in various jobs in the schools office, Simpson wrote Hollis. "A result seems to be that administrators give conflicting orders or that the staff is expected to ferret out its responsibilities and is penalized if wrong guesses occur.

"As a result of your own uncertainty as to what you should expect from yourself and staff effort, you find it too easy to find scapegoats as an answer to this uneasiness. The scapegoat then finds he is shifted to another job or his job terminated."

"He just doesn't know the problems," Hollis retorted. "I don't work directly with him. I leave it to his immediate superior, Edward Credell." Credell is assistant superintendent.

HARRY ALBERT, 70, DIES IN SLEEP IN SAN RAFAEL

HARRY ALBERT
In familiar pose in his office in the Albert Building

He Led As Merchant And Philanthropist

Harry Albert died in his sleep last evening at his home at 50 Fairway Drive, San Rafael.

Death came quietly but without warning to the 70-year-old philanthropist and former merchant, of whom it could be said more than of any other man that "he built downtown San Rafael."

Albert lay down for a nap before dinner and never awakened. His heart had been troubling him for years. He planned last year to tour the Soviet Union with the Marin Executives Tour but decided against it on advice of his physician.

Albert's monuments line Fourth Street. Most well known of them is the Albert Building at Fourth and B streets, highest in San Rafael although its height will be exceeded by the Kaehler-Farrar Building under construction a block away.

Much of the "face lifting" of the downtown district in the past few years has been because of Harry Albert, who was in the forefront in remodeling properties to improve San Rafael's business climate, even buying old buildings to have them completely remodeled.

Two of his projects are still under way: Combined Services Building at 874 Fifth Avenue and the Arcade Building at 874 Fourth Street. The former already houses the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce and Marin County Development Assn., with the Marin Visitors Bureau to move in June 1. The latter is to be occupied by a group of shops.

Macy's, which was Albert's until its sale in 1952, is still remembered by that name by older residents, as are Kaufman's in San Anselmo and Mayer's Ltd., in Mill Valley, which were branch Albert's stores until Albert turned them over to his sons-in-law.

ACTIVE WORKER

There are other, less visible, monuments. Albert was always in the forefront in any effort for improvement of downtown San Rafael. Chamber of Commerce committees consistently sought his membership. And he was known to tenants in his downtown buildings as a most liberal landlord, eager to keep his properties attractive and in good repair.

He was active in the Marin County Society for Crippled Children and Adults, heading the Easter Seal campaign in 1959; was a member of the Marin Boy Scout Council, a director of the Community Chest, and active in the Rotary Club. He was a director of Temple Rodef Sholom.

'A GREAT MAN'

"He was a great man; he really reserves to be called 'great,'" declared Everett Murphy, contractor on some of Albert's projects.

"He was like a father," said Robert W. F. Severin, architect of several of Albert's most recent building and remodeling projects.

Albert was good to the city to which he was brought as a child by his father, pioneer merchant Jacob Albert. And the city was good to him.

He was reputed to be a millionaire—although a most unassuming one. When his father died in 1946, he was appointed to the city council in the senior Albert's place, serving until 1953. He was honored by the Chamber of Commerce last

Brown Renews Tax Plan Plea —Denies Swearing At GOP

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown pleaded anew today for bipartisan support to push his embattled tax plan through the legislature in its closing weeks.

The governor offered new figures which he said showed that "business is good" — and showed, too, he said, that new taxes can be avoided.

He announced that California's personal income in the first quarter of 1963 increased 954 million to 12.5 billion dollars. This, he said, is "an outstanding demonstration of California prosperity."

By contrast, New York's increase was given as 414 million dollars.

The Democratic administration has encountered trouble in both Democratic - controlled houses in winning acceptance of Brown's proposal to accelerate tax payments and install the withholding system to collect income taxes.

With these revisions, the governor contends he can balance the next two or three budgets without additional taxes. The Republican caucas voted last week to block Brown's budget until the Democratic majority rejects the withholding bill.

Brown told his news conference today that he had talked with three or four unidentified Republican leaders who, he said, reported they didn't attend the GOP caucus and have made no commitments on the tax controversy.

He said the Republicans came to see him about things they want. He said they were good things but that he told the callers they can be carried out only if the state has the money.

The governor denied he used intemperate language when he summoned Assembly Minority Leader Charles Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks) and GOP Caucus Chairman Don Mulford (R-Piedmont) to his office last week and criticized the caucus stand as "blackmail."

Mulford later said that Brown cursed his own party's leadership. Brown said "I may have used a rough word but not a profane word."

In any event, he said he wasn't referring at the time to the Democratic leadership.

"I may have said, 'Don't blame me for what those

Belvedere Planners Against Annexation

The Belvedere Planning tCommission last night voted unanimously against proceeding with annexation of portions of Tiburon.

It will so recommend to the Belvedere City Council.

The commissioners cited the following reasons for their decisions:

1. The border between Belvedere and the new City of Tiburon should be set after advice from a technician in the planning field. It should be set "on the basis of sound planning, not for commercial reasons."

2. Annexation would have possible adverse effect on Tiburon.

They further felt the city should consider annexing the rest of the Boardwalk Shopping Center which is now in Tiburon, providing the offer was made by the Belvedere Land Co., owner of the property.

Commissioner Frederick Jandrey said: "The area must develop together. Piecemeal development will have repercussions for both cities."

Robert Moor, a spectator, asked for confirmation of a rumor that David W. Allen had told the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce board that he would withdraw Belvedere Land Co. property from the annexation area.

At this point William H. Rafter presented a resolution from the chamber board opposing annexation.

"Will the land company withdraw?" Moor persisted.

"Allen wrote the resolution," replied Rafter.

Kennedy Signs Recreation Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy signed today a bill to promote and develop outdoor recreation programs.

Congressional passage of the bill was described by the president as recognition "of the vital need to protect and wisely administer this nation's great heritage of outdoor recreation resources."

Signing the bill in his White House office, with about a dozen pens, the president noted that those about him had been instrumental in getting the bill through Congress.

Film Turned Down

NEW YORK (UPI)—Twentieth Century-Fox Film Corp. announced today that the Moscow Film Festival has turned down a showing of "The Longest Day," a film recounting the D-Day invasion of France in World War II, because "it does not involve the Soviets in any way and is removed from their interest."

Anti-Bias Committee Activated

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today ordered the reactivation of Marin County Committee on Racial Discrimination.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman was dissenter in the 4-1 vote to reestablish the committee, which has been inactive for two years.

Suggestion for reactivation of the committee came from two members of the Citizen's Advisory Committee on Development of Marin County. In a letter to the board, two advisory committee members, Helen R. Anderson and Ernest Schallinger, urged the committee again be set into action to "coordinate groups working for equal housing opportunities for all Marin citizens."

Supervisor Peter Behr moved for the committee's reactiv-

Dies After Liver Transplant

DENVER (AP)—William Grigsby, 47, a janitor, died last night, 22 days after he received the liver of a dead man in a rare transplant operation.

Physicians said Grigsby contracted pneumonia Sunday but the exact cause of death has not been determined.

Grigsby, who had cancer of the liver, received X-ray treatments and drugs to aid his body in accepting the substitute organ.

Food After 136-Pound Loss

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A 39-year-old woman who lost 136 pounds in a record 117 days on a diet of water and vitamin injections was back on food today — and not so sure she likes it.

Mrs. Johnson

"I guess I haven't had enough to eat yet to activate my appetite," said Mrs. Elaine Johnson.

Mrs. Johnson, five-foot, six-inch former wave, weighed 315 pounds when she entered Wadsworth Veterans Administration Hospital to take part in a research project into severe obesity.

Her first meal since Jan. 28 was a spoonful of cottage cheese and about one-fourth cup of eggnog.

"I couldn't eat it all," she said. "It was too much."

Artist Has New 'Petty Girl'

MONTEREY (UPI)—George Petty, the creator of the shapely cuties who inspired the pre-war generation of American males, has selected a new "Petty Girl."

She's 58, has graying hair, wears glasses and a motherly smile.

Petty, now 68, married the former Elizabeth Hetzler May 10, it was revealed here today. Both the bride and groom will continue to live at Hacienda Carmel, a senior citizen community on the Monterey Peninsula.

Petty's first wife, who served as model for the first Petty Girl in Esquire Magazine in 1935, died five years ago.

Surgeon Saves Severed Arm

DIJON, France (AP)—Alain Vachey, 22, was back at his job as a truck driver today three months after his right arm was nearly cut off in an accident.

All but a narrow band of flesh was severed off his upper arm by a falling beam. A Dijon surgeon operated for three hours mending the bone and re-attaching blood vessels and nerves.

Vachey has recovered almost full use of the arm.

Little Test Ban Hope Seen

GENEVA (UPI) — Neutral delegations to the 17-nation disarmament conference today welcomed the initiative of American senators for a partial nuclear test ban but expressed little hope it would succeed.

The delegates said privately the new initiative is a further indication of the mounting American desire for a quick test ban.

Senators Thomas J. Dodd (D-Conn.), and Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), called yesterday for the offering to the Soviets of a partial test ban treaty banning tests in the atmosphere and under water.

Meningitis Death

SAN LUIS OBISPO (AP)—Meningitis caused the death yesterday of A. D. Williams, 38, an inmate at the San Luis Obispo County honor farm, the county health department said today.

Williams was found in a coma at the farm and died in a hospital here.

Dr. George Harper, county health officer, directed that all prisoners at the honor farm be treated with sulpha drugs as a precautionary measure.

Williams was serving a year's sentence for robbing a Grover City cafe.

Inquiry Into Sulphur Queen Ends—Fate Of Ship Unknown

NEW YORK (AP) — A Coast Guard board of inquiry has ended 37 days of public hearings stymied in its effort to find out how the tanker Marine Sulphur Queen disappeared with 39 crewmen.

The ship, carrying molten sulphur, was last heard from on Feb. 4, off the coast of Florida in rough seas. There was no distress signal.

Rear Adm. James D. Craik, who headed the board of inquiry, said yesterday that in the absence of any survivors or conclusive evidence the exact cause for the disappearance could not be ascertained.

He said the only conclusion that could be drawn was that the ship sank in or near the Straits of Florida. Study of evidence and testimony will continue.

The Marine Sulphur Queen sailed Feb. 2 from Beaumont, Tex., bound for Norfolk, Va. She was a converted tanker fitted with special tanks for sulphur, kept molten by steam pipes.

The testimony dwelt mainly on construction details of the ship and analysis of the debris found some time after she disappeared.

Laboratory reports said there was no indication of any fire or explosion. Specialists testified that molten sulpur is not normally considered dangerously explosive.

The testimony also considered whether there was a structural breakdown. The sulphur tanks were attached to the hull with bolts that slid back and forth to allow for expansion and contraction of the tanks as the temperature varied.

Cmdr. Albert S. Frevola, recorder of the inquiry board, noted that another sulphur tanker, not identified, experienced an "explosive-like report" last June 27 and its tanks bulged about 10 inches on each side.

Witnesses testified that the condition of Marine Sulphur Queen life-jackets found later indicated that some of the men may have left the ship alive. The jackets had been used, they said, and some were torn as if a shark had bitten them.

Thirty-seven witnesses testified here and in Beaumont.

Syria, Iraq Reportedly In New Anti-Nasser Move

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Syria and Iraq were reported today planning new moves of bilateral unity aimed against Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Reports reaching here said Iraq may send a token military force to Syria to show Nasser that Baath socialist leaders of the two countries are determined to remain closely aligned in a campaign for Arab unity on their own terms.

The neighboring countries signed an agreement with Nasser April 17 to form a new United Arab Republic that would link them with Egypt by September.

But events since indicate the agreement is close to a total breakdown.

The Iraqi and Syrian regimes are controlled by the Baath party, a group pledged to Arab unity. The party has fought an almost ceaseless struggle against pro-Nasser elements within the countries since April 17.

ELECTRICAL AMPLIFIER CAUSED SPACE FAILURE

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Expert scientific detective work has determined that troubles with an electrical amplifier caused the failures which forced astronaut Gordon Cooper to steer his space craft manually back to earth.

Moisture, perhaps from Cooper's perspiring, corroded a connection on the small electronic box called an Amp Cal—for amplifier calibration—and wiped out all spacecraft automatic controls down to a certain re-entry point.

An electrical short in an Amp Cal solder connection, probably because of faulty insulation, knocked out the remainder of the automatic re-entry controls and left Cooper on his own with the manual system.

These results of exhaustive tests were reported last night by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Amp Cal is designed to change electrical signals received from various spacecraft sensors, such as gyroscopes and infrared horizon scanners, into firing commands which ignite small jets in the capsule's automatic system.

The streams of hydrogen peroxide gas shooting from the jets maintain the spacecraft's proper position and angle in relation to the earth.

As Cooper whirled on the 19th of his 22 orbits two weeks ago, a green light labeled .05g suddenly flashed on and indicated erroneously that he might be re-entering the atmosphere early. Then two inverters which transform alternating to direct current to support certain automatic functions did not work.

Electronics Industry Future Held Promising

PALO ALTO (AP)—The booming electronics industry of the San Francisco Peninsula faces an even greater future, Dr. Frederick E. Terman, Stanford University provost, predicted yesterday.

The scientist-educator spoke as a "bona fide old-timer" of electronics at a joint luncheon meeting of the Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club.

He traced the area's electronics developments, recalling that "the old Federal Telegraph Co. of Palo Alto" gave Ernest O. Lawrence in 1931 an enormous magnet he needed for a big cyclotron at the University of California.

"If Lawrence (inventor of the atom smasher) had not been able to go from his baby cyclotron to the mammoth 42-inch cyclotron in one step," Dr. Terman said, "the development of nuclear physics would have been delayed by years.

"This would have almost certainly meant that there would have been no atomic bomb in World War II."

SHE'S BEING 'PROMOTED'—Mrs. Eva Longley, who has taught 20 of her 31 years in the teaching profession at San Rafael's West End School, a block from her home, will put away chalk and ruler with the close of school next month. Handbag on desk as she talks with two of her third grade pupils was given her as a retirement gift.

END OF 31-YEAR CAREER

Her Pupils Believe Teacher Is 'Promoted To Retirement'

Mrs. Eva Longley, a teacher for 31 years, is retiring next month, but as far as her pupils are concerned she is being "promoted."

When she told her third grade pupils at West End School in San Rafael that she was leaving, they assumed that she was being "promoted to retirement."

When she showed them a handbag she had received as a retirement gift, one pupil said, "It's just like Christmas."

Mrs. Longley is receiving her "promotion" after a teaching career that started at the since-abandoned Point Pierce School on the Point Reyes Peninsula.

She is officially credited with 28 years of teaching, all of them in Marin County and 20 of them at the West End School. But she has kept at the teaching task continuously for 31 years; filling in the years when she was not a fulltime teacher by substituting and tutoring at her home.

"I never stopped," she said. "If you enjoy it, you never give up entirely."

The teaching materials have improved through the years, but the children are still children, she said. "You have to enjoy children."

When she started at the Point Pierce School she had 15 pupils and taught all grades. "I didn't mind it. I was used to the country," she said.

After two years at Point Reyes, she began the first of three stints at the West End School, working there for a year. After a year of substituting in various districts she returned to the West End School for a three-year stay from 1936-39.

"This is my second time to retire," she said. "I had to retire in 1939 because they had a rule that married teachers couldn't hold the job. There were only a few jobs then."

For the next three years, she concentrated on tutoring and substituting.

During World War II her husband, Floyd, was called into the service and she became what she describes as a "pioneer teacher" at the Marin City School in 1942-44.

"There were shipyard workers and families from all over," she said. "We had schools in old duplexes."

In 1944 she transferred to the Sausalito Central School and stayed there until 1947 when she "got tired of commuting" from San Rafael. The Longleys live at 1945 Fifth Avenue, just a block from West End School. For the last 16 years she has been on the job at her home neighborhood school.

"Teaching is a fulltime job, and I want a little leisure. I want to go to Europe," she said, explaining her reason for retiring.

On teaching methods, she said: "You still need drill. They say we don't teach phonics, but we do."

She said she has enjoyed the "atmosphere and the teamwork" at the West End School and described the Parent-Teacher Assn. at the school as "outstanding."

Tam High Junior Will Work At Park

Donald Kaufmann, a Tamalpais High School junior, has been chosen to be a member of the student conservation program group at Olympic National Park from June 27 to July 17. Kaufmann is son of Nona O. Kaufmann of 82 South Knoll Road, Mill Valley.

The group will assist in building shelters and camp facilities for park visitors, rehabilitating over-used areas, and constructing trails.

Lawrence Grad

Glenn Athearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Athearn, 146 Cascade Drive, Mill Valley, will be graduated from Sarah Lawrence College, Bronzville, N.Y., Sunday with a bachelor of arts degree.

East Blithedale Plan On Mill Valley Agenda

Mill Valley planning commissioners will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. tomorrow on City Engineer Stanley M. Bala's proposal to make East Blithedale Avenue four lanes from the Alto Interchange to Camino Alto.

Sidewalks, asked for by both Mill Valley Elementary School, and bicycle trails will be part of the proposal. The hearing is first on the agenda of the commission meeting.

WHICH AUTO TOW SERVICE CALLED?

Which tow truck service tows your car away in San Rafael after an accident if you do not belong to the National Automobile Club or California State Automobile Assn. or request a specific garage?

The situation is confusing.

It is so confusing that San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa has called for a meeting of garage owners in his office, tentatively set for 10 a.m. Thursday.

The confusion lies in the fact that of the seven garages on the police's "rotating" accident call list:

1. At least three garage owners are not aware there is such a list.

2. Some garages do not want to respond at night.

3. At least one garage refuses to pick up abandoned cars.

4. And one garage will tow only its customers' cars.

For April and May, through last Saturday, two tow truck services have received the bulk of the wrecked car business.

Police officers, in their reports, do not always note if a tow truck was called. But in those reports where it was noted, D and S Garage towed 12 cars and Rossi's Garage, 11.

D and S Garage is the National Automobile Club agent in San Rafael, while Rossi's Garage is the California State Automobile Assn. (AAA) towing service.

Of the other garages, Duffy Brothers and Milani's Garage each got two wrecked cars and Dot-Sons Garage got one. Key Body and Fender Works and Jack L. Hunt got none.

Asst. Chief Joseph J. Brusatori, speaking for Chief Chiesa, said the police distributed towing of wrecked cars among the seven garages on a "rotating basis," similar to the California Highway Patrol system.

He said that a new list was being worked on and that the chief had called the meeting so "all garages can get an equal amount of everything." Brusatori added that a uniform rate schedule would be discussed.

Besides cars needing towing from accident scenes, Brusatori said the new rotation schedule would include towing of abandoned cars and cars blocking driveways.

At present, Brusatori said, "Some garages will not go out at night and some won't take abandoned cars." He pointed out that only D and S and Rossi's garages are open to 1 a.m.

Recreation Due Study In Marin

The future of outdoor recreation in Marin will be discussed at a special meeting June 5 at 8 p.m. in the Civic Center.

Sponsored by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission, the discussion, called "the many faces of recreation," will consider the "improvement of existing services and possible new services."

A panel to be led by county parks and recreation director Kelvin J. Nelson will include Richard Conzelmann, Terra Linda recreation district director; Roger Allin, field representative of the Department of Interior; Gladys Snyder, recreation specialist of the State Division of Beaches and Parks; Duane Mattison, Contra Costa County Director of Parks, and Grant Mainland, director of recreation for the city of Alameda.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis will talk about regional planning of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

Nelson said more than 150 representatives of conservation groups and homeowners associations have been invited to the discussion, to be held in the Board of Supervisors room.

Acree To Seek A New Trial

William Arthur Acree, 20, of Mill Valley, convicted of misdemeanor manslaughter in the traffic death of a Kentfield youth on New Year's Eve, will argue for a new trial on June 3.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, sitting in Marin Superior Court, set 3 p.m. June 3 to hear the arguments by defense lawyer William O. Weissich.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety prosecuted the case. A car driven by Acree hit two pedestrians near Marin City on New Year's Eve. Robert T. McMullen, 19, of Kentfield, died the next day, and William R. Costello Jr., 19, of Larkspur, was severely injured.

On Honor Roll

Susan Lang, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph D. Lang, 110 San Pedro Road, San Rafael, has been named to the honor roll for sophomores at Scripps College, Claremont.

Fire Prevention Winners Named

Five Redwood High School students and one from Fairfax Central School were named for cash awards ranging from $5 to $25 in a poster contest on forest fire prevention.

Named for awards by the Redwood Region Conservation Council in the senior age classification were Lonnie Briggs and Georgine Lemme, both from the Larkspur high school. Also winning checks in the junior high classification from Redwood were Anne Nicholson, Marilyn Graham and Carol Abrams.

Carrie Schriebman, Fairfax Central, placed in the junior high competition.

Development Association Nominates

Nomination of Rex T. Silvernale for presidency of the Marin County Development Assn. starting July 1 was announced today by Daniel C. Davis, present president whose term expires on that date.

Silvernale, who is vice president of Hutchinson Co. construction aggregate suppliers of Greenbrae, has been a vice president of the development association for two years.

His other civic activities including 10 years on the San Rafael Board of Education with two as president; several years on the board of managers of the YMCA in Marin and two as president, various committees as well as vice president of United Crusade, and for a number of years on the board of directors of the Sub- and Material Contractors Assn. of Marin.

Nominated to serve as officers of the development association with Silvernale were: Eugene A. Ostaggi, private investments, Ross, first vice president; Irving D. Chapman, Chapman's Shoes, San Rafael, second vice president; Peter J. Ferrarese, manager, Crocker-Anglo National Bank, Novato, secretary, and Lee R. Ceccotti, president, Ceccotti and Son of Marin, Inc., general contractors, Corte Madera, treasurer.

Names of all nominees will be submitted to members of the association at its annual meeting at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club on June 20. They were selected by a nominating committee composed of Fred F. Enemark, chairman, Walter R. Castro Sr., Ray Muir, Ostaggi, and Burt C. Wheeler.

Rowland Boulevard On Novato Agenda

Repair of Rowland Boulevard where it was broken by construction trucks will be taken up by the Novato City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. today at the Community House.

The council will also consider the future of the John Novak swimming pool in St. Francis Heights. This is the unfinished pool in which a small boy almost drowned two weeks ago.

New, Lively Texts Will Help Spark Interest In Math

By LOREN MacARTHUR

Students learn mathematics better with brightly colored textbooks and an interesting arrangement of mathematical explanations in the texts, Marin math teachers agree.

For this reason, high schools in the county are choosing commercially published textbooks featuring the "new math" rather than continuing their use of the pioneer "new math" textbooks, published by the School Mathematics Study Group (SMSG).

"We are using the SMSG texts now in our three high schools," said Robert Torrey, assistant superintendent of Tamalpais Union High School District. "They were just about the only books available when we began teaching the new math. We selected them because we thought they were the best of what we could get.

"It's a fact, however, that the SMSG, which is sponsored by the National Foundation, was organized to prepare new math programs to be tried out. It was always with the idea that commercial publishers would use the groups' work as a basis for their own texts. The SMSG was always conceived as a temporary publishing program."

The study group's texts are available to fourth graders through high school students from Yale University Press.

"Algebra: a Modern Approach," by Peters and Schaaf, published by Van Nostrand in 1963, is the book chosen by the Tamalpais district to be used this fall for its first year algebra course.

"The SMSG texts we've been using are paperback books, besides being mimeographed. They are not books in format, make-up or durability compared with regular commercially bound and published textbooks," Torrey said.

"Our students have shown interest in the new math. We expect more interest with the new books, which have a good use of color and print."

Torrey said there was "no question" whether the new math is a success with the students. "We're teaching modern math to the same students who learned it the old way. Ideas that were formerly introduced only in college are now being taught and understood in high school," he said.

Paul Mobley, director of curriculum for Novato Unified School District, said the new math has had a "spotty" introduction in Novato High School.

"We've been using a semi-traditional book," he said. "The SMSG books came only in paperback and are extremely costly since they have to be replaced so often."

Mobley said commercial new mathematics texts for use in the district will be chosen by July. "Our (the high school's) choice of texts isn't limited to the free books distributed by the state," he said. High schools pay for their texts with district funds; only the elementary schools receive free books."

Three mathematics classes of 42 at San Rafael High School have been using the SMSG texts, according to F. Ewing Bone, head of the mathematics department at the school.

"The SMSG books are not worth using permanently," Bone said. "The format is rather uninteresting, and they are paperback. I don't consider them as good learning tools as the modern texts."

A teacher's committee studied 11 "new math" algebra texts for use in San Rafael High School and decided on one called "Modern Algebra" by Dolciani and published by Houghton-Miflin, Bone said. The book will be used in the fall, he said, at the same time a new geometry text, still to be chosen, is put into use.

Should you buy your child a Life Insurance policy?

There are many worthwhile benefits when a child has a policy of his (or her) very own. It has the lifetime advantage of a low premium rate. It encourages thrift and lays the foundation for a growing personal estate.

But a note of caution—there are more important questions to answer first. Have you, the father, adequate insurance on your own life? Is there enough to guarantee the family their food, clothing, shelter and education requirements for as long as needed?

If you would like competent guidance on this problem the Man from Manufacturers is a good man to talk to. He'll put first things first—help you establish objectives for all-round family security. He'll give you a realistic plan for the future that will take the "hit and miss" out of buying life insurance. Why not call him today!

PISTOL CHAMPS HEAD FOR INDIANA

Three-time state champions, these five "top guns" from the Marin sheriff's office will leave Thursday morning to try for the national pistol title in Bloomington, Ind. The trip is financed by funds received from a dinner sponsored by Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos two Saturdays ago. The team will drive two new station wagons, donated free by Ames Ford Sales of San Rafael. They hope to arrive in Indiana on Sunday, shoot Tuesday through Saturday, and return to Marin on June 11 or 12. Left to right, they are: Sgt. Edward Levine, Capt. Sid Stinson, Lt. Carl Sears, Deputy William Johansen, and Deputy Ernest Nielsen. (Independent-Journal photo)

Accounting Asked For Student Fund

The San Rafael Board of Education tonight will be asked to spend $750 to set up an accounting system for San Rafael and Terra Linda High Schools' student body funds, amounting to some $69,950 during the 1961-62 school year.

The board will consider a request it pay $750 to Weiser, Dreiman & Weseman, auditors for the San Rafael schools, to establish a "standardized and efficient district accounting procedure for student body funds." The board meets at 7:30 p.m. in the administration office.

The state laws governing accounting of student body funds are so complicated it will take 40 to 60 hours of an accountant's time to set up an accounting system, said Charles L. Condrotte, business manager for San Rafael schools.

Management of the funds, which is now handled jointly by students and teachers, came under fire last fall when money from one student account was temporarily borrowed for another account.

"The state laws say this borrowing from one account to another can only be done under certain conditions," said Condrotte. "Since the auditors are the ones who have been finding fault with the way the accounts are kept, we think they ought to set up the system." He said he checked with a local bank, which said it was not set up to organize such an accounting system.

Funds in the student accounts were $5,196 at San Rafael high and $3,381 at Terra Linda high when the auditors checked last June. But Condrotte said total amounts handled during the year by the various student groups were $43,490 at San Rafael High School and $26,400 at Terra Linda High School.

ation, saying: "The board of supervisors should take the leadership in this matter. . . . Equal opportunities obviously don't exist in housing in this county. Everybody knows this. There is a conspiracy among real estate brokers to prevent fair housing. This is admitted by them."

Fusselman said he voted against the reactivation because "the state is now doing something and we can speak only for the unincorporated area of the county. If all 10 cities were to concur in fair housing, I would go along with their action."

The board of supervisors has twice rejected proposed fair housing laws for the county, once in 1960 and again in 1962.

The committee was set up in 1959 on recommendation of several church leaders. Its studies lead to the board's first hearing on proposed fair housing.

Supervisor George Ludy, who seconded Behr's motion, suggested, however, that some of the development advisory committee's other recommendations should be "swept under the rug."

Anderson and Schallinger also recommended a transportation study, plans for completion of the Civic Center, control over small lot splitting, and further Marin City development studies.

Ludy said "we're doing everything we can on most of these things."

At chairman Walter R. Castro's suggestion, the board decided to reconsider its appointments to the advisory committee, established in 1957, because Anderson and Schallinger reported poor attendance at meetings.

OBITUARIES

Frank Bordenave Rites Set

Requiem Mass for Frank Bordenave, owner of Bordenave's San Rafael French Bakery at 1553 Fourth Street, will be celebrated at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church.

Bordenave, 72, died in a San Francisco hospital yesterday after a long illness.

The funeral cortege will leave Keaton's Mortuary at 10:15 a.m. Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. today at Keaton's.

Bordenave came to Marin County in 1910, bringing with him from France the formula for French bread which has been used ever since by his bakery. He leaves his wife, Honorine, and a daughter, Mrs. Gabrielle Gillette of San Rafael.

Burial will be in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael.

MRS. HENRY

Memorial services for Mrs. Lucretya Smith Henry of Sausalito will he held at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow at Cathedral Grove in Muir Woods.

Mrs. Henry, 55, died Saturday night after a piece of lettuce and tomato stuck in her throat and blocked her respiratory system. She and her husband, Theodore, were aboard their boat, which was docked at the Sausalito Yacht Harbor.

The family prefers tributes be contributions to the City of Hope or the Natural Wildlife Federation.

LUIGI MARENCO

Requiem Mass for Luigi Marenco of 78 Domingo Avenue, Fairfax, will be said tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at Saints Peter and Paul Church in San Francisco.

Marenco, 67, a native of Italy, died Sunday in a local hospital after a short illness. A resident of Marin County for 22 years, Marenco was a retired janitor.

He is survived by his wife, Anna; a son, Louis Marenco, and one grandchild, all of Fairfax.

The Rosary will be recited today at 8 p.m. at Valente-Marini-Perata and Co. Mortuary, 649 Green Street, San Francisco. Entombment will be in Holy Cross Mausoleum, Colma.

MRS. DISMUKES

Mrs. Harriett W. Dismukes, who had been living in Novato with her daughter since March, died yesterday in a San Francisco hospital after a short illness.

A native of Elmo, Mo., she had come to Novato from her home of 27 years in Spokane, Wash.

She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Genevieve Sewell, 1291 Parkwood Drive, Novato, five grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral is scheduled for 11 a.m. Friday at Smith Funeral Home, Spokane.

MRS. FULLER

Private memorial services were held today for Mrs. Crescentia Fuller, who died Friday in a local hospital after an illness of several years. She had lived in San Rafael since 1892.

She had been living in a convalescent hospital for three years before her death.

Mrs. Fuller, 88, was born Crescentia Smith in Rochester, N.Y., and came to Marin County with her family. The original family home in San Rafael stood where the Independent-Journal Building is now.

Several of Mrs. Fuller's sisters graduated as nurses in San Francisco, and the house on B Street was often used for surgery by early physicians in the area, because there was no hospital in the area.

She was married in 1903 to Stuart C. Fuller, the marriage lasting 60 years until his death in March.

Before her illness Mrs. Fuller was active in San Rafael school affairs, and helped organize the High School Mothers Club, later to become the Parent-Teacher Association.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Eunice Shafer, 145 Barber Avenue, San Anselmo; a son, Dr. George S. Fuller, 1116 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, and a greatgranddaughter, Mrs. Joan C. Hare, San Jose.

Postoffice Stamp Window Is Licked

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The bronze-barred postoffice stamp window is going the way of the four-cent stamp.

There are now just four stamp windows left in Richmond, and all are in the main post office. A postal spokesman estimates the post office can save $10,000 a year by changing to "multipurpose counters."

But long-time postal workers still eye the old stamp windows nostagically.

Harry Albert Dies At 70 In His Sleep

January as the man who did the most for downtown San Rafael in 1962.

Albert was born in Carbondale, Pa., on Aug. 6, 1892, son of Jacob and Annie Albert, who had immigrated to the United States from Palestine via Russia.

The family settled in Marin by chance, according to Albert. The father, heading west to "the land of opportunity" with a peddler's pack, reached San Francisco with a single dollar in his pocket. He paid it for a ticket to take him "as far north as it will go." It took him to Tocaloma.

The senior Albert peddled household goods from house to house for several years, then set up a store, the Wonder, at Fourth and B streets in San Rafael—across the street from the present Albert Building.

Harry Albert learned his father's business from the bottom up, beginning as delivery boy while attending San Rafael High School. In the 1920s, he took over. In succeeding years, the interests of Albert's firm extended from Marin south to Los Angeles County, and included department stores in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Mill Valley and Richmond.

The San Rafael and Richmond stores were sold to Macy's in 1952, and those in San Anselmo were turned over to Albert's sons-in-law, Mozart Kaufman and Lawrence A. Mayer. But Albert remained active in management of his many properties.

He introduced several "firsts" in San Rafael. The Albert Building had the town's first elevator. The first—and still only—roof parking is on a building Albert erected at Fifth Avenue and C Street.

As he left no son, the name of Albert will vanish from the San Rafael business community. But it will remain in the Albert Building, which he built, and in Albert Park, which was given the city by his father.

His marriage to Rose Marylander in Chicago in 1918 followed service in the Army in World War I, as an infantry sergeant in the 363rd Regiment of the 91st Division and then as a second lieutenant in the Quartermaster Corps.

Surviving are his wife; his daughters, Mrs. Lois Kaufman and Mrs. Betty Mayer both of Kentfield; two sisters, Mrs. Alice (Charles) Marcus of San Rafael and Mrs. Bertha Grossman of Napa, and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at 3 p.m. Thursday at Sinai Memorial Chapel, Divisadero Street at Geary, San Francisco. Entombment will be in Portals of Eternity, Colma.

BROWN

(pause) do.' I don't want to say it on TV."

The word, he said, was used more as a term of endearment.

Brown said he talked later with his young daughter, a student at a private high school in Monterey, and quoted her, "Daddy, you don't swear, do you?"

"I said, 'Well, you know I do sometimes.' I left it at that."

The governor brushed off as "a very small conformity tax" a bill passed by the Assembly to lower the exemptions on the state gift tax. Republicans said the administration measure, involving $500,000 in additional income, violated Brown's no-new-tax pledge. Brown said it was designed to fit state regulations to federal.

As for a proposed 70-million-dollar boost in motor vehicle taxes, he said "I put that in another category." He again refrained from saying he would veto it if it wins final passage.

CLASSES

Petersen, Manzanita teacher.

"If a third grade child can read fifth grade level," she explained, "the teacher lets him read it. . . . It does not put the pressure on the slow or immature child."

Both Brown and Mrs. Petersen stressed that parents must be advised. Mrs. Petersen said "it should be purely voluntary on the part of the parents."

Trustees voted 3-0 to adopt the system, with Trustees Juanita Cobb and Dr. Stanley Wolfe absent.

Other recommendations in the committee report were taken under consideration.

One is a suggestion that Bayside be changed from a third through sixth grade to a third-fourth grade school; Richardson Bay now fourth through eighth, become fifth through eighth, and Central School, now kindergarten through second grade, remain as it is. These changes, Davis said, revolve around whether many pupils leave the fort areas as has been hinted.

POPE

leto Cardinal Cicognani, Vatican secretary of state.

Gasbarrini told newsmen the Pope's condition was stationary.

That statement was enough to cause concern. It contrasted with Vatican statements yesterday that the Pope was slightly improved.

Hundreds of persons called the Vatican to inquire about the Roman Catholic ruler's condition.

The switchboard operator told them yesterday: "A little better."

Today they were told: "Stationary."

Desegregation Order Refused

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge refused today to order city schools desegregated, but he warned that a state pupil placement law must be applied without discrimination.

U.S. District Judge Seybourn H. Lynne denied a requested injunction against school segregation. He ruled that Negro complainants in a 1960 suit had not exhausted remedies afforded by the 1956 statute which gives school boards wide authority in assigning pupils.

Hinging his decision on the law's validity, Lynne said if the state is unconstitutionally applied, then he would be "compelled to order the submission of a desegregation plan."

Despite clear evidence of a segregated school system, Lynne said Supt. Theo R. Wright and board members had assured him they stood ready to comply with the law.

"This court will not sanction discrimination by them in the name of the placement law, but it is unwilling to grant injunctive relief until their good faith has been tested," Lynne held.

Adequate time remains before the fall term for the processing of assignment or transfer applications in behalf of interested individuals, he said.

Lynne ruled in the case of James Armstrong's four children. He dismissed from the same suit two other parents and threw out a 1962 suit of similar nature by Rev. T. N. Nelson because their children no longer attended Birmingham schools.

Relying on decisions of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upholding a similar North Carolina law, Lynne held that the Alabama statute must be tested. It has been upheld on its face by the U.S. Supreme Court, which warned it could be unconstitutionally applied.

Judges of the Fifth Circuit, which includes Alabama, have never considered the Alabama law, Lynne said.

He said the initiative in integration lies with the pupil, not school authorities. The uncontroverted evidence, Lynne said, was that no Negro child has sought transfer to a white school "and pursued the remedies afforded by such statute."

Lynne said his course had been staked out by a 1958 decision of a federal judge panel which held the law "furnishes the legal machinery for an orderly administration of the public schools in a constitutional manner by the admission of qualified pupils upon a basis of individual merit without regard to their race or color."

Originally aimed at preserving segregation, the law was drafted by former Lt. Gov. Albert Boutwell, now mayor of Birmingham.

The U.S. Supreme Court said yesterday it will not tolerate avoidable delay in the carrying out of its 1955 order for all deliberate speed in school integration cases.

Both suits before Lynne requested injunctions barring the operation of segregated schools in Birmingham.

The first suit was filed in June 1960 by Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, James Armstrong and Vann English on behalf of their children. The second was brought in June 1962 by T. N. Nelson for his two children.

Nelson's suit said he made no request for transfer of his children to white schools under Alabama's pupil placement law because "the remedy there provided is inadequate."

Two white women, Mrs. John Fuller and Mrs. L. W. Fiquett, said yesterday they had met repeated failure in efforts to gain support for peaceful school desegregation.

"Everybody is afraid to a degree that is absolutely fantastic," said Mrs. Fuller. "There are still too many people who are afraid to do anything active toward peaceful desegregation."

Mrs. Fiquett said a group she headed met once, then disbanded because of "so much opposition and denunciation."

In Montgomery, U.S. marshals attempted to serve papers on Gov. George C. Wallace formally notifying him of a suit seeking to prevent the governor from carrying out his promised intervention when two Negroes try to enroll at white units of the University of Alabama for the June 10 summer term.

The heavily guarded governor eluded the marshals, however, and they handed the papers to a Negro maid at the mansion. They told her: "Be sure he gets them."

A court ruling may be necessary to determine whether acceptance of the papers by the servant constitutes legal service on Wallace.

Elsewhere on the racial scene:

The Congress of Racial Equality extended for 24 hours a temporary halt to racial demonstrations at Greensboro, N.C. Trials of 81 Negro demonstrators charged with trespassing were postponed to June 10.

Thirteen Negro leaders presented Mayor Allen Thompson of Jackson, Miss., a list of eight desegregation goals for the city. The mayor then asked for discussions to work out the situation but the majority of the conferees left when other Negroes attempted to present their views. The goals included the hiring of Negro policemen; removal of segregation signs on public buildings; upgrading of Negro employee salaries; forming of a biracial committee; and voluntary desegregation of eating places, public facilities and eventually schools.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told owners of Southern movie theaters they should anticipate desegregation problems and try to solve them on a town by town basis. A spokesman said owners of about 80 per cent of all movie houses in the South were represented at the Justice Department meeting.

MARINITE LEAVES $300,000 ESTATE

Bank deposit books, stocks and bonds worth $287,000 were discovered yesterday in the Kentfield home of Edward Elijah Bower, 74, who was found dead in his bed yesterday morning at 4 Acacia Avenue.

Asst. Coroner William Bradley, who discovered the cache of stocks and bonds tied in bundles in a trunk, said an autopsy performed yesterday showed Bower had died of a ruptured artery in his stomach.

"The sale of his property should bring his estate to $300,000," said Bradley. "He left all of it to his brother, Sidney Howard Bowers of Stalwart, Province of Sasketchewan, Canada."

Bower, a bachelor, was a retired passenger agent for Canadian National Railways and had lived in Marin County for 25 years. He was known as "a good neighbor" to nearby residents.

"He was a quiet person who never said much to anybody," said Louis Cheesewright, who lives at 6 Acacia Avenue. "He was a very respectable man. He minded his own business and was a good neighbor."

Cheesewright yesterday called the sheriff's office because he had not seen Bower. Deputies found the body.

Marinwood Fire Budget Session Set

Marinwood Fire Commission will hold a special meeting tonight to complete work on the budget for recommendation to directors of the Marinwood Community Services District at an adjourned meeting tomorrow night.

The commissioners met last night but adjourned before final totals on the budget were determined. Commission Chairman James McElhattan said, however, fire protection in Marinwood will cost about $28,000 next fiscal year. Of this some $18,300 will be for salaries.

Last night also the commission recommended hiring of the third fulltime fireman, Frank J. Galvin, 32, of Kenwood, Sonoma County. Galvin will start June 1 at $400 a month if the CSD directors approve. He has previous experience in Citrus Heights Fire Department.

Tonight's meeting will start at 8 o'clock at the firehouse. Tomorrow's CSD directors meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the Mary E. Silvera School.

YMCA Aide Gets Going-Away Party

About 50 persons attended a surprise dinner last night honoring Louis M. Albrecht, executive secretary of the Marin County Young Men's Christian Assn., who leaves June 1 to become camp executive for the San Francisco YMCA.

Albrecht, who lives at 506 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, came to the Marin YMCA as program secretary in 1953. He was named executive secretary in 1960.

Leland H. Jordan, chairman of the board of managers, was host at the dinner at Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera.

Donald Porter, program secretary, will be acting executive secretary until an appointment is announced.

Clerk To Enter Plea In Till Tapping Case

A San Rafael store clerk accused of tapping the till at Henrietta's Children's Shop where she worked, will enter her plea next Monday afternoon.

She is Mrs. Margaret McKay, 62, who faces a charge of petty theft. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court yesterday continued the case for a week at request of Mrs. McKay's attorney, D. K. MacDonald Jr.

Salesman Fined $166 For Drunken Driving

Thomas Alden Tolman, 29, San Francisco salesman, paid $166 fine yesterday for drunken driving on the Waldo Grade last Saturday.

Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court also put Tolman on six months probation.

Missouri Grad

John Harold Anderson of 574 Blackberry Lane, Lucas Valley, was graduated from the Missouri School of Mines and Metallurgy Sunday with a master of science degree in geology.

Faith Of Famed Triplets Alone After Sister Death

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP)—Only Faith—one of the famed Faith, Hope and Charity triplets—survived today.

Charity died at Cushing Hospital yesterday, following her sister, Hope, in death by little more than a year.

The three sisters once were the nation's oldest living triplets.

Faith is Annie Faith McDonnell. Charity was Nora Charity Murphy, widow of Edward Murphy, a former Boston and Worcester newspaperman. Hope was Ellen Hope Daniels.

The triplets were born in 1868 at North Brookfield to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Coughlin, natives of Cork County, Ireland. Their fame began early—at the age of a few weeks when they won a baby show prize.

Over the years they received birthday greetings from all parts of the world. Presidents, royalty and church leaders had extended congratulations to them.

April Living Costs Unchanged —Still Up 1% Over Last Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living remained unchanged during April at its record March level, the Labor Department said today.

The consumer price index remained at 106.2 per cent of the average for 1957-59. This was 1 per cent above the level of April, 1962.

The figure means it costs $10.62 now to buy what $10 would buy a year ago in the average family's budget.

Ewan Clague, director of the bureau of Labor Statistics, said that a reduction in prices for food and gasoline during April was offset by price increases for housing, used cars, newspapers and clothing.

Prices for meat, poultry and fish dropped 2 per cent during April to the lowest level since 1957.

Clague said this was mainly due to a dip in prices for beef and pork. Both went down 3.5 per cent.

So far, Clague said, there has been no major effect on the consumer price index from the soaring price of sugar. He said this price rise probably would have a gradual effect over a period of months.

Four Graduating From Willamette

Four students from Marin County will graduate from Willamette University, Salem, Ore., with bachelor of arts degrees Sunday.

The graduates are Charles Henry Evans Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Evans, 15 North Ridgewood Road, Kentfield; Anthony Howard Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Good, 243 Poplar Drive, Kentfield; Geoggrey Bruce Rutkowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Rutkowski, 4 Southridge East, Tiburon and Elaine Lyons, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Lyons, Morrison Road, Ross.

EVERY ONE A QUEEN, BUT . . .

Interpol Won't Take Jewelry Theft Case

Interpol, the international police organization, will not take the case of an alleged $300,000 jewel swindle in Brazil involving two former Marinites.

Private Detective Harold Lipset of San Francisco, representing the victim, Jules R. Sauer of Brazil, was in the position today of having a seeming crime with no agency to prosecute it.

He said it would be very difficult, if not impossible, to have Bernard E. deSenan, formerly of Kentfield, and Percy Herman, formerly of Sausalito, extradited to Brazil.

"Our only hope now is getting some agency in Hong Kong to file a complaint," Lipset said. It was in Hong Kong where the jewels were received. The two men allegedly gave Sauer two $125,000 checks drawn on an account in a San Francisco bank. There was only $48 in the account. Payment on the checks was stopped before they reached the bank. Meanwhile, the jewels were sent to Hong Kong, Lipset said.

Neither deSenan nor Herman has been located.

KEEPING BREATH OF LIFE

A machine to save the life of polio victims and persons suffering chest injuries is demonstrated at the day-long workshop on respiratory diseases sponsored by the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. at Sabella's Restaurant today. E. F. Carson of L. N. Curtis and Sons, Oakland, makers of the Ucyclit respirator, demonstrates it to Sandra Truex (left), a nurse at Marin General Hospital, and Mrs. Paul Looper, director of vocational nursing education at College of Marin who served as program chairman. The "patient" is Albert Carpenter, surgical technician at Marin General Hospital.

PERSIS A. STANLEY

Legion Post Elects First Woman Head

A Mill Valley woman, who wore the crossed quills of a yeoman in World War I, last night made history by becoming the first female commander of Mill Valley Post 284 of the American Legion in the post's 37-year history.

Elected without opposition, Mrs. Persis A. Stanley said today: "I thought I would be beaten out by some of the young veterans. I'm very complimented because I have been in the post 15 years." She was past chaplain.

In 1919 Mrs. Stanley served as a yeoman with the Naval Reserve at the Naval Supply Depot in Boston.

Mrs. Stanley, who will succeed Francis W. Mosher Jr., works for Donald Geddes Realty in Kentfield.

Other new officers, all of whom are to be installed June 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, are Porter M. Griffith of Sausalito, first vice commander; Sgt. Marion E. Waldron of the 666th Radar Squadron atop Mount Tamalpais, second vice commander; Ross J. Benson of Mill Valley, finance officer; Herbert Norris of Sausalito, historian; C. F. Thompson of Mill Valley, chaplain, and James Sharpe, sergeant-at-arms.

The executive committee consists of Harry E. Fitzgibbon and Malcolm C. Piper of Mill Valley and Norman G. Boyd of Sausalito.

Crewman Faces Hearing In Ex-Marinite's Death

Andras John Pedersen, 46, of Crescent City today faced a preliminary hearing in Juneau, Alaska, on a first degree murder charge resulting from the shotgun death of a former San Rafael resident.

Pedersen's fellow crew member, Lawrence Judson Tabor, 35, of Eureka, died in Juneau May 20. He was shot in the abdomen while aboard the fishing vessel Sitka, anchored in Kelp Bay off Baranof Island.

Pedersen was jailed Friday and held in lieu of a $25,000 bond pending today's hearing.

Pedersen and Jack Jenkins, 22, of Stockton, who also was aboard the Sitka, claimed that Tabor was accidentally shot with a shotgun as the men were climbing into a dory to go hunting on shore. They said the shotgun was discharged as it was passed to them, with the charge hitting Tabor.

Tabor was flown ashore by a Coast Guard aircraft and taken to a Juneau hospital where he died.

Tabor had lived in San Rafael with his sister, Mrs. William Currie of 145 Woodside Drive, in 1958-59. He and Pedersen had purchased the boat, Sitka, in San Rafael early this year, had it outfitted in Sausalito, and sailed for Alaska.

Funeral services for Tabor will be conducted at 11 a.m. tomorrow at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Not Enough Park Land In State, Democrats Told

The number of parks in the state has doubled since 1958, but it is still not keeping pace with population growth, the director of the state Resources Agency told Marin Democrats last night.

Former State Sen. Hugo Fisher of San Diego, now director of the Resources Agency, spoke at the home of Mrs. Ruth Lederman in Kent Woodlands. Ross Valley Democratic Club sponsored the talk.

Fisher described California's master plan for water as the largest water project in the world. "After the Oroville Dam project is finished, the next step will probably be the middle fork of the Eel River," he said.

The agency headed by Fisher also handles such matters as water pollution, fish and game, and oil and minerals.

San Rafael Fire Budget $486,020

The San Rafael Fire Commission last night approved a budget of $486,020 for the next fiscal year which includes purchase and preparation of a site for a new firehouse in East San Rafael.

The commission also approved purchase of 200 feet of pipe and other materials for putting the city's fire alarm system underground on Third Street from Union Street to Embarcaderao.

The newest thing in weed killers is an old weapon—fire. An agricultural research center at Plainview, Tex., is experimenting with a "flame cultivator," a huge spiderlike machine which spouts fire through metallic lines into low-lying weeds without damaging the

2,000 Books Collected For Library

"Roughly 2,000" books have been collected for the Marin County Library in a county-wide children's book drive, it was reported last night at a meeting of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, which sponsored the drive.

Mrs. Virginia Keating, county librarian, reported to the council, according to Ann Heyer: "Not a book has been wasted. They were all in good condition, a high percentage had usable titles, and many were classics." Sixty schools participated. Books are still being received.

The board elected N. Robert Heyer of Mill Valley as chairman to succeed Harold Stockstad. Also elected for one-year terms were Robert Mertle, vice chairman, and Milen C. Dempster, treasurer.

Introduction of enabling legislation in the state legislature for a Marin Transit Authority was reported upon by Mrs. Margaret Azevedo, chairman of the metropolitan affairs committee.

Vandals Take Radio From Pastor's Office

Vandals broke into the Lutheran Church at 1100 Las Gallinas Avenue in Terra Linda and stole a transistor radio, Rev. Norman Bangert reported this morning.

He said windows were broken for entry and the radio taken from his office. However, other valuables like typewriters were not disturbed. The burglary was discovered about 9 this morning.

Tioga Pass To Open On Memorial Day

YOSEMITE (AP) — The Tioga Pass road which crosses the crest of the Sierra in Yosemite National Park, connecting with highway 395 at Lee Vining, is scheduled for opening to traffic Memorial Day.

Park rangers said crews have been working overtime to clear huge snow drifts from the scenic route.

Sign Painting Firm Pulls Out

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —Foster and Kleiser has closed down its sign painting shop here rather than agree to the demands of 40 striking sign painters.

From now on, Foster and Kleiser said yesterday, Northern California signs will be painted in its Los Angeles offices and shipped here.

Despite the company action, sign painters continued picketing Foster and Kleiser offices here. They struck Bay Area billboard firms April 26.

Stolen Car Found

Mill Valley police reported today that the 1954 Ford, reported stolen on May 16 from Carol Newton of 105 La Pasado, San Rafael, while parked at Purity Store in Mill Valley, has been recovered in San Francisco.

Reading Classes Credited

Remedial reading classes in Mill Valley School District are credited with increasing the reading level of many students by one-half year, Dr. Logan T. Miles, project director, told district trustees last night.

The classes are for students in fourth through sixth grades in all seven schools. There are on the average of four to five pupils per class and this small group instruction has been most helpful, Miles reported.

"Most frequent comment made by teachers," he continued, "was that the special attention to children's reading difficulties has helped them to overcome a persistent sense of failure."

The board was told by Michael Healy, district guidance consultant, that Mill Valley elementary school children rank with the top 10 per cent in intelligence.

Resignations were accepted from Blanche Jackson, Park School fourth grade, who is retiring after 40 years of teaching; Mrs. Gene Milkey, Old Mill first grade, who has been married; Mrs. Robert Tribsch, Alto fourth grade, whose husband has been transferred, and Constance Elsasser, science teacher, Edna Maguire, who will teach in Switzerland.

Complains Of Back Pain After Crash

Dora Mae Busby, 23, of Golden Gate Baptist Seminary, Strawberry, complained of back pain and was to see her doctor after her car collided with another on College Avenue near Stadium Way in Kentfield at 12:28 p.m. yesterday.

Gregory Ian Jennings, 20, of Una Way, Mill Valley, driver of the other car, was cited by the California Highway Patrol for making an unsafe turn.

Sausalito Group Sets Foundation Night

The Sausalito Foundation will hold its annual foundation night on Nov. 4, Trustee John W. Davis said today. It will be at the Alta Mira Hotel and at one other location to be selected.

The foundation is a non-profit organization created to help preserve the natural beauty of Sausalito.

Boyd Museum Receives $2,500 Gift To Help With Its Debts

Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael today received a $2,500 contribution, the second largest in its history, as the result of the sale of four old-time circus wagons.

The contribution was made by George Whitney, president of Whitney's Playland at the Beach in San Francisco, to David N. Plant, museum president, at the museum this afternoon.

Whitney had four circus wagons, 1904 models, at his ranch in Gridley. They were loaned to the museum at one time for use as animal cages.

Recently he found a buyer for the wagons and decided to contribute money from the sale to the museum.

Plant said the contribution will go toward reducing the indebtedness of the museum.

"We have to pay off our creditors first rather than start on improvements."

Two-and-one-half years ago, the museum owed $15,500. It now owes $6,100, he said. "We hope to be debt-free before the end of the year," he said.

Agreement Is Seen In Fire Dispute

A fire protection agreement between Marin Hospital District and Kentfield Fire District is expected to be worked out by representatives of the districts.

Harold F. Riede, attorney for the hospital district, today said it has been proposed that he work out an agreement with Lawrence F. Kuechler, assistant secretary of the fire district. At first it was proposed that the boards meet jointly.

The hospital district has been without a fire protection contract for a year, but Kentfield firemen have been answering fire calls.

The hospital board is scheduled to meet tonight and the fire district board tomorrow night.

Strawberry Backstop Overhang Is Approved

Strawberry Recreation District directors last night authorized installation of an overhang for the little league baseball backstop at Hammond Field to prevent foul balls from popping down on people in the vicinity of the swimming pool.

The overhang, to be installed by Able Fence Co., San Rafael, will cost $788, according to Patricia M. Gowen, secretary.

Arizona, our sixth state in size, experienced a population increase of 111 per cent from 1946 to 1960.

Officers Elected By Hub Legion

Chester Smith of San Anselmo was elected last night as commander of San Anselmo Post 179 of the American Legion, succeeding Walter Berta.

Other officers elected are: Alexander J. Rzepiela, first vice president; Ralph Lewis, second vice president; Kenneth Wilson, sergeant-at-arms; Howard DuPree, chaplain; Andy Klapak, historian, and Gene Lestanguet, finance officer.

Serving on the executive board will be Joseph Picinich, Patrick Pollock, and Alec Thomas. Delegates to the state convention to be held in San Bernardino June 26-30 will be Richard Brown, Donna Hatcher, Smith, Lestanguet, Pollock, Picinich, Thomas, Lewis and Berta.

Barbecue In Novato

The Novato Volunteer Firemen's Assn. will hold its annual barbecue from noon to 4 p.m. June 9 on the Silviera Ranch north of Novato on Highway 101, Frank Manzoni, committee chairman, announced today. There will be games for both children and adults, Manzoni said.

UNITED CRUSADE AIDES NAMED FOR CAMPAIGN

Six vice chairmen have been named to lead sections of the Marin County 1963 United Crusade campaign in October. Crusade President Byron Leydecker made the announcement.

Sidney Braverman, San Anselmo, has been picked to head the advance gifts and residential divisions of the drive. A veteran Crusade worker, he was county campaign chairman in 1948 and a longtime member of the Board of Directors.

James G. Bunker, Novato superintendent of schools, is vice chairman for the educational and public employees divisions in the county.

Hugh Cassidy, secretary-treasurer of the Marin County Labor Council, will lead the labor participation drive. He is superintendent of mails for the San Rafael post office and was formerly on the Board of Governors of the United Bay Area Crusade.

D. M. Christiansen, president of D. M. Christiansen Construction Co., will supervise the construction, commerce and industry divisions of the drive.

Victor E. Hecht, executive secretary of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, will head the business and professional divisions. He previously was in charge of the industrial division collection for Southern Marin.

The Rev. Sumner Walters Jr., headmaster of San Rafael Military Academy, will lead the Marin County Church Cooperation drive.

Five Teachers From Tam High Given Grants

Five teachers at Tamalpais High School will study in Europe and in the United States this summer on grants.

Henri Boussy, art and French teacher, will study in France on a National Defense Education-Act Grant. Erwin Peterson, French and Latin teacher, will study at the college of St. Teresa in Winona, Minn., also on an NDEA grant. Lenore Bercovich, teacher of biology and Russian, will study Russian at San Francisco State College on an NDEA grant.

Ted Mitchell, work experience coordinator as well as counselor and English teacher, will study techniques of counseling at Colorado State University under an NDEA grant.

Given a National Science Foundation grant, Gerald Vanoni, biology and arithmetic teacher, will study molecular biology at University of California at Berkeley.

Development Of Turkey To Be Topic

Turkey will be traced in its development as a modern nation since becoming a republic in 1924 by Dr. Louis Wasserman at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

Money from admissions will go toward rebuilding Brown's Hall, which was partially destroyed by fire March 14. Tickets are available at Strawbridge's Camera and Stationery Store and from Mrs. Ursula Gealey, 317 La Verne Avenue.

Wasserman, who resides in Mill Valley, is professor of philosophy and government at San Francisco State College. He has made three visits to Turkey, in 1952, 1956 and last year. On those occasions he conferred with political leaders, journalists, editors and student leaders.

Service Station Plan Turned Down In Corte Madera

Plans for a service station on the northeast corner of Corte Madera and Redwood avenues were unanimously disapproved last night by the Corte Madera Board of Design on grounds that four entrances and exits would add too much to existing traffic congestion.

Douglas Oil Co., Santa Clara, will appeal the decision to the town planning commission June 10.

The board unanimously approved plans for the Uplands, 342 apartments on the south side of Paradise Drive east of Marin Country Day School.

Computer Positions Open In Bay Area

Applications are being accepted for jobs as digital computer systems analysts and digital computer programmers at Hamilton and Travis Air Force Bases and in San Francisco and Alameda counties.

Applications can be obtained from the Army and Air Force Board, Civil Service Examiners, 180 New Montgomery Street, Room 109, San Francisco 5, or any post office.

Marcucci Stepping Down

By WAT TAKESHITA

Most people look forward to retirement with pleasant anticipation. But not so with veteran Fire Chief Nello Eugene Marcucci, who will become 65 on June 17.

"I don't know what I'll be doing after retiring," says Marcucci, who has been chief of the San Anselmo Fire Department for 33 years and a fireman for 46 years. "It's something that worries me. I'm afraid it's going to be a letdown."

Until about a year ago, his pride and joy was a 32-foot cruiser he had been repairing and improving. But the cruiser blew up in a yacht harbor in San Rafael. "I don't have a boat now but I'm looking around," says Marcucci hopefully.

His other hobbies are growing orchids and gardening at his home at 160 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, where he lives with his wife Helen.

Chief Marcucci, now drawing $821 per month, will retire on July 1. He is on a state retirement system, which should give him a retirement pay of "about $500." Marcucci said he does not know the exact amount: "I won't know until all the papers are filled out."

His retirement plans are nebulous at this point, except for one thing. "The fire chiefs are having a convention in Honolulu in September and I sure hope to make it," he beamed.

The Marcuccis have two sons, Robert, 24, and Marty, 23. Both are following in their father's footsteps. Robert is with the San Rafael Fire Department and Marty with San Anselmo Fire Department.

Chief Marcucci plans to continue living in San Anselmo. He has purchased two lots at Drake's Beach Estates, but says he has no plans to build a home there.

Born in Italy in 1898, he came to San Francisco with his family in 1900. In 1916, Nello and his buddies rented a home in San Anselmo, next to his present residence on San Francisco Boulevard. He married Helen Locati, a San Anselmo girl, in 1926.

Marcucci joined the San Anselmo Volunteer Fire Department in 1917 and has been chief since 1930.

Redwood Teacher Heads For Russia

Robert Baugh, German and Russian instructor at Redwood High School, will go to Russia this summer along with 24 language teachers from throughout the nation in an exchange program between the United States and the Soviet Union.

The program is the result of the agreement on exchanges in the scientific, technical, educational, and other fields, concluded by representatives of the two countries.

In exchange for the 25 American teachers, half of whom teach at the college level and half at the high school, 25 Russian teachers of English will come to the United States.

The Americans will study 10 weeks, June 10—Aug. 17, at University of Moscow. The Russians will attend Cornell University in New York.

Basic intention of the exchange for the Americans is language learning, but another is to let teachers hear lectures by specialists in the fields of contemporary Russian language.

Marin Girl To Graduate At Whittier

Beverly Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Barnes, House 102, Marin City, will be graduated from Whittier College with a bachelor of arts degree June 8.

Miss Barnes, a graduate of Tamalpais High School, will teach social studies at Sir Francis Drake High School starting next September.

While at Whittier, she majored in history, and was a member of the Ionian Society, Delta Phi Upsilon, a childhood education honorary society, and a sophomore women's service group.

During the spring semester in 1962, she was an exchange student to Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.

While a student at Tamalpais High School Miss Barnes was sent to Norway as an exchange student under the American Field Service program. A singer, Miss Barnes won a talent contest while in Norway.

At Tamalpais High School, she won the school music award and the National Arion medal for her singing. She also is a violinist.

Miss Barnes was secretary of the student body at the high school and was selected by students and teachers for the good citizenship award given by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Upon graduation from high school she won two scholarships, one from the Marin City Socialites Club and one from the Marin City Drug Store.

Building Firms Due Licenses

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The contractors' state license board announced it plans to issue licenses to two San Rafael firms if no protests are received by June 12.

Northgate Electric Co., 33 Joseph Court, will be issued a general electrical contractors' license. The firm listed its officers as Kenneth W. Larson, president; Stanley R. Barrass, vice president and manager, and Raymond F. Schmidt, secretary-treasurer.

Marley E. Tavenner, Tavenner and Sons, 157 Humboldt, will be issued a license for excavating, grading, trenching, paving and surfacing work.

Sergeant Ted Zink Honored At Academy

Sausalito Police Sgt. Ted Zink was honored Saturday at graduation ceremonies of the California Police Academy in Concord as having scored third in his class of 56. The event took place at the state academy in Concord.

Zink, vice president of the five-week training class, presented a plaque to the school on behalf of the 31st class. City Councilman Jan Paul Dyk, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and Police Chief Howard Goerndt attended.

196 Take Exams For Glaucoma

One hundred and ninety-six persons were examined for glaucoma in the recent Mill Valley Lions Club clinic, Joseph C. Brewster, chairman, said today.

Of these 18 were referred to family doctors for further checkup and five were determined to have glaucoma.

One of the world's biggest sight-seeing bargain is a 56-cent two hour double decker London bus trip covering almost every major sight in the city.

Kuchel Assured Of Moderates Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) said today the response to his attack on extremist "fright peddlers" reassures him moderates will retain control of the Republican Party.

Kuchel, the assistant Senate Republican leader, said in an interview he has received thousands of letters and hundreds of telegrams supporting his May 2 Senate criticism of the right-wing Birch Society and others.

He had declared in his speech that "fright peddlers" were attempting to scare Americans into believing the Communists are about to take over the country.

"The mail I have received and the editorials that have supported my position reassure me that the vast majority of Americans—and this certainly includes members of the Republican party—are moderates and do not support either right or left extreme," he said.

"Only about one fourth of the messages were critical and many of these were unsigned," he said.

Kuchel said in a prepared Senate speech that he is "greatly heartened" by the response.

Kuchel's vigorous attacks have marked him as a target for right-wing retaliation from within his own party in California.

RECIPES OF THE WEEK

Shish Kebab*
(Serves 4)

2 lbs. lamb
1 clove garlic
8 peppercorns
3 tablespoons olive oil
4 teaspoons oregano
1 tablespoon Star wine vinegar
1½ cups red wine
Armours Star Bacon
Whole mushrooms.

Cut lean, boneless lamb in 1-inch cubes. In large bowl, mash garlic and peppercorns, add oil and vinegar. Add lamb and stir. In a saucepan, heat the wine and oregano, but do not boil. Pour over the lamb. Marinate overnight. When ready to cook, thread the meat on skewers with a tiny piece of bacon and a whole mushroom after each piece of meat. Grill over charcoal or under broiler, basting frequently with the marinade approximately 30 minutes. Serve (with a well-chilled rose', of course!)

*Lebanese Salad
Wash, peel, and slice 6 small, very ripe tomatoes into chilled bowl. Add 12 scallions, sliced. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste. Pour ½ cup wine vinegar over this and sprinkle with ½ cup finely cut fresh mint. Delectable.

AND THE PILOT WALKED AWAY

This is the charred wreckage of a light plane that crashed into the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Strom of Billerica, Mass., yesterday. The pilot, Kenneth Johnson, 19, also of Billerica, escaped with a cut chin. Police said the pontoon-equipped plane had just taken off for the Concord River, which runs parallel to the five-room home. Mill Valley Merchants Strike Back

Mill Valley merchants continued today to hit back at a charge of "fuddy duddyism" leveled against them Saturday by City Councilman Michael Wornum.

Declared James H. Swearingen, owner of Mill Valley Furniture:

"In all my 38 years as a merchant, I have never seen such a spectacle as elected officials downgrading such an important segment of the community as their merchants. I suggest the mayor would do well to repair some of the damage by issuing a public apology."

Wornum, at a budget session Saturday at which the chamber of commerce requested an increase of $1,000 in its budget, said, "I think the Mill Valley merchants are a lot of fuddy duddies."

"I think the merchants do a good job," Swearingen said. "We don't have a lot of cheap merchandising. A lot of people come from out of town just for that reason."

Other merchants declared, too, their displeasure with the "fuddy duddy" accusation.

Leonard Blakely, president of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, said a subcommittee of the chamber and city council worked out a tentative scale for business licenses yesterday. The scale is to be announced at a meeting to which all merchants will be invited, Blakely said. No date has been set.

The council is considering a hike in business license fees to add to the tax revenues.

Bay Filling Moratorium Bill Backed

The Junior Chamber Bay Region Council, at a meeting in Marin County Civic Center, voted to support a bill now before the State Legislature which would provide a four-year moratorium on most filling of San Francisco Bay for tideland development.

During the moratorium, a regional plan for the Bay would be developed.

The junior chamber council met first at Sam's in Tiburon Saturday noon. Marin Supervisor William Gnoss spoke about Marin County problems. Next council members visited the model operated by the Army Corps of Engineers in Sausalito. Then the group met at the Civic Center.

Marin Miller Heir Due 'Only' $5 Million

Because a judge's ruling went against her and others on her side in a lengthy trust battle, a San Rafael woman will receive "only" five million dollars.

Mary Nikel Lobardi of 25 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, is a great-granddaughter of Henry Miller, California cattle king, who established a trust in 1913 three years before his death.

The trust did not spell out how the stock in Miller and Lux, Inc. should be divided. Yesterday, Judge Joseph Karesh of San Francisco Superior Court ruled that the 40 million dollar trust should be split equally between two families.

Members of the Bowles family will divide their half of the estate three ways, while members of the Nickel family will have a smaller share because they have a four-way split.

The Nickel heirs had contended through their attorneys that the stock should be split seven ways with each of seven heirs getting an equal share. The Nickel attorneys said yesterday that the judge's ruling would be appealed.

Each Bowles share, under yesterday's ruling, will be $6,666,667, each Nickel share five million dollars. If the seven-way split had been approved, it would have taken about $950,000 each from the Bowles heirs and added about $700,000 each for the Nickels.

Taken To Napa

William Spaniel was treated at Marin General Hospital at 2 a.m. today, then transferred to Napa State Hospital, after he was reported to have cut his wrist with a razor blade at his home at 207 Caledonia Street, Sausalito. He was taken to the Marin Hospital by Sausalito Ambulance.

Kentfield Board Hires 4 Teachers

Four teachers for next year were hired by the Kentfield School District board last night.

They are: Mrs. Nancy Reinhardt Chinn, sixth grade, at $5,200 a year, and Mrs. Alyce Reyburn, third grade, $6,400, both at Wolfe Grade School; and Mrs. Betty M. Heilig, home economics, $6,325, and Mrs. Karen Yore, second grade, $5,200, both Adaline E. Kent School.

Four teachers were honored in a ceremony on their attainment of tenure: Robert Cadwallader, Mrs. Margaret Robertine and Ronald Van Winkle, Kent School, and Mrs. Marie Clemons, Greenbrae.

Trustees hired 18 teachers for summer school June 20-July 19 at Kent School.

Administrative Asst. Anthony G. Bachich presented a group of teachers who outlined the reading program at various levels.

Building Firm's License Revoked

License of a San Rafael contracting firm has been revoked by the State Contractors' License Board because of a remodeling job at Lake Tahoe three years ago in which about $8,000 is still owed to sub-contractors.

Revoked was the license held by Wilson and Wedekind of 54 DeLuca Place. The partnership was dissolved in June, 1961, and a new license issued to one of the partners, Warren W. Wedekind of 28 Ridgewood Drive, San Rafael.

But the state board has ordered a year's suspension of Wedekind's license. The action will take effect in 60 days unless the state's order to pay the sub-contractors is complied with or unless Wedekind appeals.

Deputy Registrar Frederick Brumm of the state licensing board's San Francisco office said today that the job was to remodel a large home into a restaurant at Tahoe Vista. The work started in June of 1960 and was never completed.

The client was Mrs. Harold Forde. She has since divorced and remarried. Brumm said the contractors had difficulty in getting her to pay for the job.

Brumm said the non-payment to sub-contractors was the main reason for the revocation and suspension order. However, the job showed some non-compliance with electrical and plumbing codes, he reported.

William A. Wilson of 35 Curtis Avenue, San Rafael, still working with Wedekind, called the whole matter "ridiculous."

He and Wedekind have been building homes and other buildings in Marin County since 1952. Current project is a medical-dental office in Tiburon for Fred and George Montegani.

Wilson did not know what action would be taken regarding the suspension order. But he said court action would probably be avoided if possible.

"You can't build houses in court," he said.

Indian Rock Subdivision Plan Revealed

Plans for a 113-lot subdivision to be known as Indian Rock were presented to the San Anselmo Planning Commission at a special session last night.

The proposed subdivision area is at the upper end of Oakland Avenue, extending to The Alameda. John W. Hill of the George S. Nolte engineering firm, representing Del May Investment Co., said only single family homes are planned.

Ronald R. Hill, commission chairman, said that two parks with playground facilities will be dedicated to the city.

About 35 residents of the area attended the meeting devoted to discussion of the proposed subdivision.

Thomas W. Stoddard, co-chairman of the San Anselmo Homes Assn., said residents are concerned about drainage, access and density of population.

The meeting was continued to Monday to allow commissioners further study before considering approval of the tentative map, Hill reported.

Two Teen Girls Held In Burglary

Two San Rafael girls, 15 and 17, were cited last night by San Rafael police on burglary charges after liquor, cigarette lighters, gum, a transistor radio and $82.81 were stolen from the residence of Donald Labbe of 5 Warner Court, San Rafael.

The girls admitted the burglary, police said, but claimed they did not take four $20 bills which Labbe said were missing. They were caught when one of them returned to Labbe's residence after he had returned home at 7:30 p.m.

Police said entry was made through a kitchen window at about 7:15 p.m. The girls were turned over to the county probation department.

Planner Quits In Belvedere

E. K. Allison, chairman of the Belvedere Planning Commission, announced he was resigning from the commission as of this week because of the press of business matters.

He indicated he would have resigned before but waited until the Tiburon annexation recommendation was made by the commission.

Allison has served on the commission three years. He was secretary two years and has been chairman for the past year.

ALBERT GOODWIN
New Rotary Club president

Al Goodwin President Of Rotary

Albert Goodwin of 37 Ridgecrest Road, Kentfield, has been elected president of the San Rafael Rotary Club, it was announced today.

Goodwin, manager of the Rafael Theater, has lived in Marin County since 1945. Installation of Goodwin and the board of directors will be held on June 27 at the Meadow Club in Fairfax.

Officers and members of the board of directors are: Dr. Edward F. Healey, vice president; William P. Murray Jr., treasurer; Col. Robert S. Nourse, secretary, and board members are: Fred F. Enemark, Bryan McCarthy, Peter Cazassa, Pat Hetherton, and R. O. Scott. Retiring board members are John H. Campion and Alfred D. Quilici.

Hamilton Airman Injured In Crash

S/Sgt. Jack M. White, 22, of the 78th Supply Squadron, who was taken to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital unconscious after his car overturned in Petaluma yesterday morning, regained consciousness yesterday and is in satisfactory condition today, according to Hamilton officials.

Commission last night voted suffered many bruises and a brain concussion, according to Hamilton officials. The accident happened on Petaluma Boulevard south of Petaluma Creek about 5 a.m., according to the California Highway Patrol.

RETARDED PUPILS PLAN EXPLAINED

It is "highly possible" mentally retarded pupils in the Sausalito School District, although transferred to the county program, will go to school in the Sausalito District this fall.

Daryl A. Hopkins, director of special education under the County Superintendent of Schools, explained this to Sausalito District trustees last night, saying whereas the county program has lost two classrooms in the Dixie School district and one in San Anselmo, Sausalito has unfilled rooms.

He said that before children may be transferred to the county program they must be completely re-evaluated and their parents counselled individually.

Hopkins said the county's admission committee, consisting of a district psychologist, school principal, teacher, school nurse, county psychologist and either Hopkins or a representative, will determine whether a child should be put into the county program.

He said he could not answer specific questions on what will happen to the Sausalito pupils in September but will have a team working on it during the summer.

Perry Howell of Marin City asked the board to rescind its action transferring the program to the county. "I feel you are passing the buck," Howell said.

The board refused, but on urging of Howell and Evelyn J. Schoenfeld, who was recently fired as Richardson Bay special education teacher, trustees agreed to ask for a state representative to come to Sausalito to give advice.

Sausalito School District trustees also:

1. Voted to continue operation of the child care center in Marin City for six months provided there are sufficient funds.

2. Heard a report from Dorothy Tolpegin, district librarian, recommending a 1963-64 budget of $6,580.

3. Heard a report by Supt. Marcus F. Davis going over point-by-point recommendations from Miss Schoenfeld to better her program in her class.

Lodge Hall Plan Granted In Novato

The Novato Planning Commission last night granted permission to the Masonic Lodge to build a hall on the south side of Novato Boulevard, 200 feet west of McClay Road.

Permission was given with the condition that architectural approval be given to the plans by the commission before construction and enough land be dedicated to the city for the widening of Novato Boulevard.

The tentative map of Sequoia Savings and Loan Assn.'s Holiday Park Unit One, consisting of 37 lots on 14 acres northeast of Forest Park Unit Three, as approved by the commission.

The Novato Planning Commission also:

1. Approved plans by Harte Construction Co. to divide property on Hayden Avenue into two lots.

2. Granted a zoning change from limited agricultural to apartments to Edgar J. Garavatti. The property is on one and one-half acre on Dusel Court, west of Hamilton Air Force Base.

3. Rezoned from administrative-professional to general commercial one acre on Diablo Avenue, south of Court Road, as requested by George Schilling.

4. Approved the grading plan for Rancho Village Unit Eight, west of the Methodist and Baptist churches.

5. Continued to June 10 the requests of McGillicuddy Inc. for approval of the tentative map of Jade Gardens Subdivision on Vallejo Avenue, and of L. J. Peterson to subdivide property at 725 McClay Road.

Three basic minerals cattle must have the year 'round are salt, phosphorus and calcium.

HALF A LOAF?

Mrs. Helen Nelson of Mill Valley, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's consumer counsel, points to two loaves of bread manufactured by the same company. Testifying yesterday in Sacramento before the Senate Business and Professions Committee, she said the loaves have similar dimensions, but the one on the left is 15 ounces in weight and sells for 31 cents, the other weighs 22.5 ounces and sells for 37 cents. Mrs. Nelson contends the one marked 31 cents is blown up with air and water to defraud the public. (AP Wirephoto)

GOP Assemblyman Quits Muni Unit

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman Frank Lanterman (R-La Canada) quit the Assembly Municipal and County Government Committee last night with blasts at Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and the League of California Cities.

Lanterman handed his resignation to Chairman John T. Knox (D-Richmond) and walked out of a hearing at which the committee approved a series of bills aimed at controlling urban sprawl.

He told a reporter that Governor Brown's office had worked out the bills with the League of California Cities, and that Unruh had "rigged" the committee membership to get them approved.

Lanterman called the bills a "package of oblivion for people in the unincorporated territories."

He said he has been on a "crusade" for 13 years to protect the people in unincorporated areas, and that "with this package of bills this all goes down the drain."

Lanterman said Unruh had loaded the committee with "a bunch of freshmen who have no knowledge and no background."

The committee was expanded from 12 to 15 members this year. Counting Lanterman there are only four holdover members, but seven of last year's committee members are no longer in the Assembly.

A spokesman for Unruh said he would have no comment until he talked with Lanterman. There is no provision in the Assembly rules for resignation from a committee, nor any disciplinary action provided.

Willie Mays Is Showing No Signs Of Shaking His '63 Batting Slump

CONNOLLY

It doesn't seem to make sense, but then nothing ever does where Willie Mays is involved.

Why, you ask, should a fellow making better than $100,000 a season be worrying over finances? But he is, according to the grapevine.

Why should Willie be a guess hitter like he's been all season? Those who have watched him carefully think he is "gun-shy," guessing and fearful of getting hit, and showing no signs of shaking the batting "slump."

WHY ARE the opposing base runners "running on Willie"? They never did it in other years and if you listen to the whispering lads, they'll argue his arm has become very erratic.

In the next 15 days the fate of the S.F. Giants is pretty much in the hands of the Say Hey Kid. Willie simply has to get going or else the Giants can't stay on top. It's been that way in other years. Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey have carried the club to date. They can't go on "packing Willie" much longer . . . or can they?

There is no end to the scuttle-butt on Mays but none of it, as I say, makes sense. The L.A. writers here last week think there is much more of a feud between Willie and Orlando Cepeda than appears on the surface.

This I have to emphatically deny. The so-called "jealousy" phrase is a misnomer. It might be "hot rivalry" but I happen to know Mays and Orlando are not spatting. The only jealousy Cepeda is concerned with is not Willie's ability, but his earning capacity. And the longer Cepeda stays with the Giants the harder he is going to try to get closer to the Mays' paycheck. You can't blame Orlando on that score.

MAYS SEEMS utterly happy when he's scoring on hits that Orlando cracks out. No player on the ball club is happier than Mays when the club is going good.

All last week Willie was comforting Chuck Hiller and inquiring when he expected to return to the lineup. Chuck ought to be in the swim within another week.

No little concern blew up since the season started over the off-beat play of Jose Pagan. His biggest asset has always been his throwing and fielding range. But at times since the race began he isn't covering the ground he used to cover and his throwing has been atrocious.

WHEN YOU criticise Pagan on his fielding, you have to give groundskeeper Matty Schwab a minus mark. He allowed the infield grass to grow like hay for the Dodgers and some of the miscues charged to Pagan were due to the way the grass slowed up infield raps that were braked before Pagan could get to them. He looked on several occasions as though he were letting the ball play him. Rather it was the deadening effect of tall infield grass that threw Pagan off stride.

A lot of wind has blown toward Gaylord Perry for his fielding miscue on Sunday when he threw behind the runner and cost the Giants a likely victory. Elementary miscues like that seem foolish but I think Perry will never make another one while he's in the majors. That's how sick he was after the game, apologizing to everybody in the clubhouse.

AS THE SEASON grows and the clubs are bunched together, the pressure has to be more on the front-running Giants than the clubs chasing them. The SF club can't expect any breathers for a long, long while. And the tail-end clubs especially delight in frustrating the leaders.

Tonight the Giants play Cincinnati, a club that is just coming off a donny brook with the Phils, winning only one game. They'll be tougher than picnic eggs to crack in the next three games. After the Reds comes St. Louis for three more; then the Cubs for three; Houston for four games and finally the Dodgers in a two-game setto in LA on June 10 and 11.

With Willie Mays out of his batting slump, I look for the Giants to take at least nine, possibly ten games on the road. Let's see how wrong I can be this time.

Fisher Goes Against Cincinnati Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP)—Righthander Jack Fisher, who has won all his 1963 victories on the road, hurls for the San Francisco Giants tonight as they face the Cincinnati Reds and lefty Jim O'Toole in the first outing of a 15-game trip.

Fisher, who came to the Giants last winter from Baltimore, goes into the game with a 3-4 record but a 3-1 mark in road games.

Cincinnati split with the National League leaders the first time they met this campaign, with O'Toole besting Jack Sanford 7-4 with the Giants taking the second one 4-2 behind Juan Marichal.

Manager Alvin Dark's men aim to maintain their good record of the first road trip when they were 9-4, far above their 1962 pace when they were just one game over .500 away from home.

The Reds have been disappointing this campaign, currently in sixth place with a 20-21 record. San Francisco goes into the game with a 28-16 mark and a two-game lead over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who play at Milwaukee.

Home runs proved the main forte for the Giants at home. They hit 18 in the 12 games. Only two of their nine victories came without benefit of a homer.

Ed Bailey, who started the season as a reserve catcher, has walloped 10 round trippers and driven in 26 runs, although early in the campaign he was used primarily as a pinch hitter.

Although the Giants lost to the Dodgers 4-3 in the finale of the home series when Jose Pagan committed three errors, the club showed some hitting consistency. Felipe Alou, who seems to be out of his slump, had three, including a homer, and Jim Davenport had four, including a double and homer.

Five of the Giants—Bailey, Alou, Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey, are setting a homer pace that could put each of them over the 30 mark this year. Last time the National League had a team with five men hitting 30 or more homers was in 1948 when the Giants had Johnny Mize, Bobby Thompson, Walker Cooper, Sid Gordon and Willard Marshall. The club that year broke a league record with 221 for the season.

OUTDOES THE MASTER

C. K. Yang, UCLA decathlon champion, inspects a javelin like the one he got started with. It was only 10 years ago that the reigning decathlon king, Bob Mathias, on a tour of Asia for the State Department, met Yang in Formosa and gave him a few pointers on track and field. Yang has come a long way since that time, scoring a record 9,121 points in the dacathlon. (AP Wirephoto)

Lema Wins Memphis Open

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Tony Lema enjoyed his new status as second leading money winner on the circuit today after winning the $50,000 Memphis Open golf tournament.

The lanky San Leandro, Calif., veteran pocketed $9,000 yesterday after winning a sudden-death playoff with Tommy Aaron of Gainesville, Ga., who drew $4,600.

The victory put Lema in second place in winnings this year behind Jack Nicklaus who won $1,400 in this tournament for 11th place.

Lema won top money on the first hole of the playoff with a par four to Aaron's bogey. The two had ended the regulation 27 holes deadlocked at under par 270.

With Aaron leading by two strokes after 16 holes, Lema tied it up with two straight birdies. The first came when a tee shot fell near the pin on the par three 17th hole. The clincher followed when he reached the green of the 500-yard 18th in two strokes.

Both sprayed their tee shots on the playoff hole. Lema's second shot hit the fringe of the green and he was down in two. Aaron's also hit the fringe but his next one went over the green into a sand trap.

The playoff was the fourth in the tournament's six years. Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., won last year's version in a playoff with South Africa's Gary Player and Gene Littler of Rancho Bernardo, Calif.

It was the first tournament victory for Lema since the Mobile open last November and the third official win of his five years on the tour.

Lema and Aaron entered the last round deadlocked in a tie for second at 202. Each scored 68 on the last 18 holes. Lema's card was 67-67-68-68. Aaron's was 69-67-66-68.

Harold Kneece of Aiken, S.C., finished in a tie for third with Bruce Crampton of Sydney, Australia, at 274. Gary Player was fourth with a 275.

The double round Monday was forced by heavy rains which canceled play Saturday and Sunday.

Marin Gal Helps Set New Record

Diane Congdon, 16, a star track and field athlete of Santa Venetia, has added her name to the national record books.

Diane and three other members of the 440 yard relay team from the Laurel Track Club in San Francisco established a new national record for girls 14 through 17 last weekend at the San Mateo Relays.

The quartet of Diane, Cassandra Brooks, Cylia Hanna and Denise Paschal sprinted the quarter-mile in 49-7, bettering the previous national mark of 50.1.

A student at Terra Linda High School, Diane's next plans are the Junior Olympics June 8 in Oakland where she hopes to place in her best event, the discus.

She will also compete in the AAU nationals July 5 and 6 in Dayton, Ohio—that is if the family can raise enough money to send her there.

FIVE YOUNG BOWLERS WIN STATE TITLE

Five girls who bowl in the Nave Lanes Junior Program, ranging in age from 9 to 12, have won first place in the state in the two-month National Mail-O-Graphic Tournament.

The young keglers are Connie Croker, 11; Nancy Helbing, 12; Dianne Zappetini, 12; Nancy Nave, 11, and Kathi Nave, 9.

The girls totaled 1,540 pins for the two games rolled, plus handicap. They will be awarded trophies at a special awards banquet to be held later at Nave Lanes.

Outstanding Swimmer

Pit Stops Will Be Big Factor In '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Drivers were talking more about pit stops than speed today as the Indianapolis Motor Speedway was opened for a last brief practice session before the 500-mile race Thursday.

The conventional Offenhauser-powered roadsters, winners of the last 12 Memorial Day classics, have been making three or more pit stops in recent races.

Colin Chapman of London, who built the chassis of the two Lotus-Fords in the field, is planning one stop apiece for Grand Prix drivers Jimmy Clark and Dan Gurney.

Mickey Thompson of Long Beach, with two unusually light Chevrolet-powered cars in the line-up, hopes to hold veteran Duane Carter and rookie Al Miller to two stops apiece.

There is a possibility that Parnelli Jones, the qualification record holder, may try for only two stops, too. His Agajanian special is lighter than most of the other conventional Offenhousers.

Twenty-three of the 33 starters will ride on a new 15-inch tire developed specifically for the Lotus-Fords. Other drivers and car owners liked the wider tread and shifted to the new tires. Carter's car has tiny 12-inch wheels.

The rest of the field will run on the standard speedway tires, 18-inchers in the rear and 16s in front.

Y. A. Tittle Resting After Operation On Right Elbow

NEW YORK (AP)—New York Giants quarterback Y. A. Tittle was reported resting comfortably today in St. Vincent's Hospital following minor surgery on his right elbow.

The 36-year-old star passer had complained of elbow pains last season after the Giants-Green Bay Packers National Football League title game, and subsequent examinations revealed a swollen bursal sac.

The injury, aggravated every time Tittle was hit by an opposing tackler, had grown to the size of a silver dollar before it was removed yesterday.

Tittle will remain in the hospital a few more days, then rest for about three weeks prior to starting loosening up exercises for the Giants training camp in July.

Rematch In Mile Set For Compton

COMPTON (AP)—Peter Snell of New Zealand and Gary Weisiger, a Camp Pendleton Marine, one-two finishers in the mile race at the California Relays, will meet again at the Compton Invitational June 7, it was announced.

Meet Director Herschel Smith said there was a good chance that Dyrol Burleson, former American record holder, will also participate.

International Soccer

An International soccer match, between Mexico City Select and the San Francisco All Stars, will be held Sunday at 2:15 p.m. at Balboa Stadium in San Francisco. A preliminary game will start at 11 a.m.

Net Tourney Set At Belvedere Club

An invitational state-sanctioned junior tennis tournament is being planned by the Belvedere Tennis Club to be held July 15-19. In addition to the club courts, courts at the Tiburon Peninsula Club, Harbor Point Beach Club and the Tom Fleming home will be used.

A feature of the week will be a doubles tournament in which partners' ages combined total 27. Social activities including a dance for high school students and other parties are being planned.

Charles E. Auerbach is club chairman for the junior program.

Emerson Seeks A Grand Slam

PARIS, France (AP) — Australia's Roy Emerson, seeking only the third Grand Slam in tennis history, has securely nailed down two of the world's four amateur titles.

Emerson, who earlier had won the Australian crown, swept past France's Pierre Darmon 3-6, 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 Sunday for the French title. The Wimbledon and United States championships remain in his quest of a sweep made previously only by Don Budge in 1938 and Rod Laver of Australia last year.

Dons Of Marin Nine Gets 7-4 Victory

The Dons of Marin baseball team defeated Vaughan's Liquors of San Francisco Sunday 7-4 at Drake High School.

Winning pitcher John Forsythe struck out 10, walked one and allowed nine hits. Hamish Tyler had two runs batted in and Marty Anthony and Kent Chubb each knocked in one to lead the Dons' attack.

Drops Doubleheader

The Country Club Bowl softball team lost a double header yesterday at the hands of the Stan's Sport Shop nine, 12-4 and 10-2 in a game at Albert Park.

Abalone Hunters Strike It Rich; Tender Recipe For Tough Mollusks

STEVENS

An old adage tells us "Like father, like son," but it would seem that Pro Tempore Judge John Burritt doesn't like either of them. Hence he sentenced both father and son to 60-day stretch in the pokey for taking abalones commercially in water less than 20 feet deep. When the father-son violators tossed a flock of abalones overboard on sighting the game warden, they added another 30 days to their sentence.

So—the way of the transgressor is getting tougher every day. A guy might as well be honest.

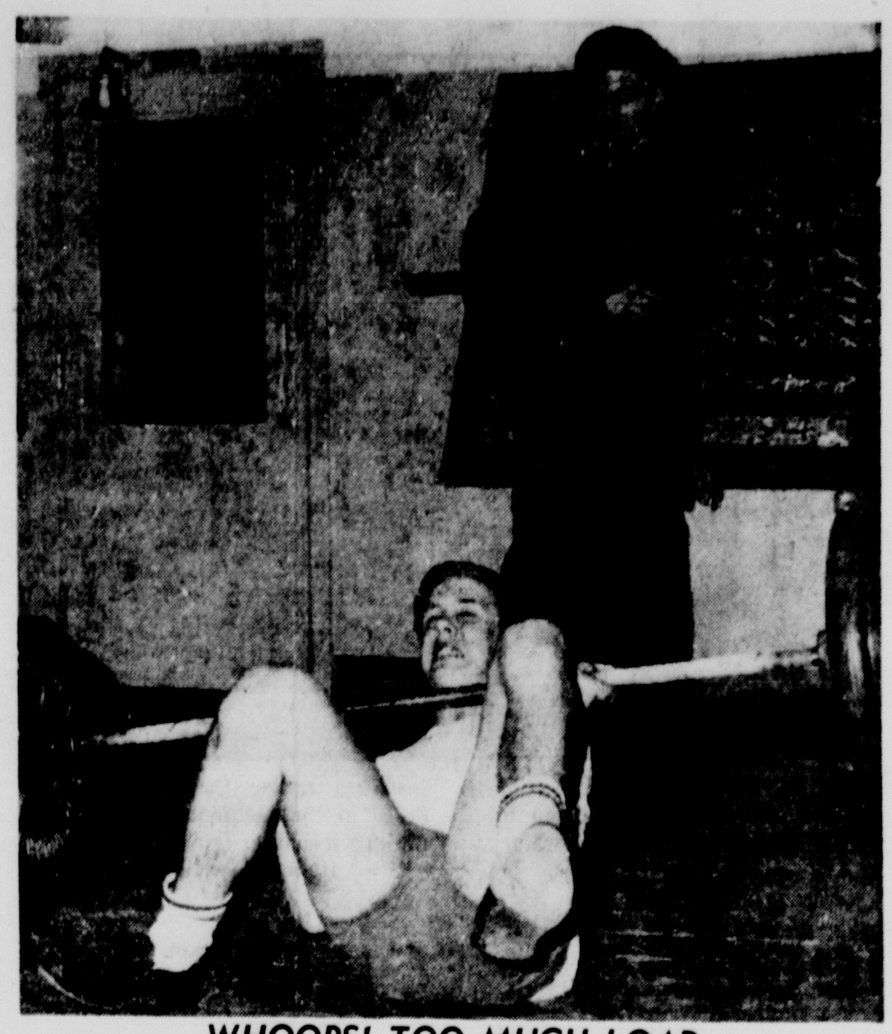
Speaking of abalone hunting, the hardy souls who get a kick from prying off the meaty mollusks from the rocks should be reaping a harvest as this column is being typed. Same thing for the clam diggers. No reports of results are in as yet, but, according to rumor, every stretch of ocean beach where rocks abound was the scene of hectic activity. Which reminds me—always right after a dandy series of minus tides, someone calls to bewail their inability to reduce the abalones they have on hand to fryable condition. "I pounded the poor thing until it was almost in shreds and still when I fried a piece it was tough as leather," is the usual lament.

So, here's a suggestion. If you happen to have one or more abalones left, try this: Clean it—scrape off the brown stuff—and don't slice it. Pound it a bit—just enough to break down the muscles; set it aside while you slice up an onion and mince a piece of garlic. Fry the onion and garlic about five minutes; pour into the skillet a mixture of half white wine and half tomato sauce; lay the whole abalone in the skillet and put it in the oven, let it cook at around 350 degrees for about an hour. (Watch that the sauce doesn't dry up on you—add wine and tomato sauce to keep it moist. Okay, got it?

The finished product will taste differently from the usual fried slices, but it will be delicious, and so tender you can cut it with the handle of your knife.

THE LOCAL dope on fishing? Briefly, bass fishing is very, very slow. High winds have done the angler wrong throughout the Delta. One popular spot I checked reported 17 boats out and a total of three fish taken on Saturday. Sunday was so windy many resorts had few if any boats out. The bright spot in the rather dismal picture is the success being had salmon trolling off the Farallones. On Saturday, the Sea Horse docked with 29 salmon to 17 pounds, the Lucky Day showed 9 limits to 20 pounds and the Wilma H netted 14 salmon to 15 pounds.

A few bass have been taken trolling the Berkeley Flats, but the overall picture is dull and dismal. Sorry!



WHOOPS! TOO MUCH LOAD

Glenn Holton, 16, sophomore at Drake High School and member of the MarVel weightlifting team of San Rafael, shows the strain of holding up too much weight. As he was trying to lift the weights over his head in a recent meet, the strain proved too much and knocked him to the ground. He was not injured.

Treadway, Cox, Sorich Bowl Top Scores At Nave Lanes

Dick Treadway of the 540 Masters Trio League topped the keglers for the week at Nave Lanes with a four-game series of 833 which included lines of 215, 203 and 223.

Close behind was Doug Cox who shot a nice 826 set which included games of 214, 223 and 202. High game was rolled by Russ Sorich, a 267 in the Wy-No's Mixed League. Jim Barnard of the 540 Masters rolled a 240 line.

Grace DeBaun's 547 series topped the women for the week. Her action was in the B.B.B.'s League. Dolly Nave rolled a 526 series for runner-up honors. Theresa Wright's 204 game was the high for the week.

In the Junior Masters League, Bill Johnson rolled a 744 four game set to highlight junior action. His series included games of 233, 172 and 178.

Helen Vincent of San Francisco was the top qualifier in the upper division of the Gold Coast Classic with a 704, including handicap. Fred Butler was the lower division qualifier with a 650. Bill Baioni of the Westlake Gold Coast squad rolled a 278 game after hitting nine straight strikes at Nave.

Results were:

Marin Ski Club Lists Officers For Season

San Franciscans have been elected into the top two positions of the Marin Ski Club for 1963-64, the club announced today.

They are Scott Watterworth, president, and Harold Vogel, vice president.

Other newly-elected officers are Dean Greenstreet, Fairfax, second vice president; Dick Kure, San Anselmo, treasurer; Betty Rotermund, Ross, recording secretary; Mary Harman, San Francisco, corresponding secretary, and Barry Evergettis, San Rafael, housing manager.

The club also announced results of its recent championship races. Watterworth won the men's division, followed in order by Evergettis, Walter Stevens, Alan Best, John Kerby-Miller and Greenstreet.

Joy Best won the women's division, followed by Clair Gannon, Joan Chapman, Millie Dunshee, Millie Culbertson and Bonnie Kerby-Miller.

Safety Features Vegas Title Bout

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Added safety precautions will be taken Saturday when world light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson and Willie Pastrano meet in a title bout at Convention Center.

The chief second of either fighter will be able to stop the fight by climbing on the apron of the ring and signaling the referee.

In six full seasons in the majors, Detroit outfielder Rocky Colavito has batted in a total of 600 runs.

Important News About Imported Scotch

How a sea voyage in its original casks from our Distillery in Scotland creates a Whisky with the unique combination of elegant taste and thrifty price

The art of "gentle-ing" came into being centuries ago when wealthy wine merchants used to send their wines on long ocean voyages in their original casks in order to bring them to their point of perfection. And now the same holds true for House of Stuart Scotch Whisky.

House of Stuart is a blend of 30 of the finest Scotch distillations. It is carefully blended and aged in our distillery in Bowling-By-Glasgow, Scotland. Then—like the wine merchants of old—we send our fine Scotch out to sea in its original casks to be "gentled," and imported to America. As a result of this sea voyage, not only is the taste of House of Stuart improved, but the cost is also considerably less.

You see, since it is shipped in its original casks, House of Stuart does not have to pay the taxes and duties paid by other Scotches that are bottled overseas. This means you pay almost $2.00 less per fifth than many other popular brands. Visit your liquor mart or store and ask for House of Stuart. It's elegant in taste, and thrifty in price because it's shipped in its original casks.

Students Learn Engineering Problems

By JIM WILLWERTH

Do you know how to make a stroboscope or a car which rides on an air cushion instead of wheels?

Perhaps not, but these and other unusual items are common fare in instructor Donald C. Greenfield's pre-engineering metals laboratory at San Rafael High School.

Greenfield, of 114 Sycamore Avenue, Larkspur, greets students the first day with this problem:

"Life has been discovered on another planet. However, the investigating space ship failed to return to earth, leaving only a blurred description of the planet's properties. Deduce and analyze the following information, your illustrated interpretation of the physical appearance of this planet."

The exercise, intended to acquaint the students with creative aspects of engineering design, has no "solution," said Greenfield. It is, however, an appropriate introduction to the unusual course. Its idea was originated for the first time at any high school last year by Greenfield so "theory and practical engineering techniques might meet."

The laboratory, limited to students with "serious intent" to enter the design or engineering field, is divided into four phases.

Phase one teaches basic metallurgy design by a series of experiments from conjecture on alien planet life to designing a metal floor plan for apartment buildings.

Phase two requires the student to design and build a miniature steam engine to operate on less than five pounds air pressure. Greenfield confessed his own model "wouldn't work on less than 10 pounds" the first time.

The lab's third phase requires completion of prescribed design experiments under simulated deadlines.

The fourth, and final phase, allows each student to branch out on his own.

Some students have branched so far that Greenfield admits he sometimes can't keep up with the projects.

One phase four project is built by John Rostoni of 1355 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael. It is a stroboscope which student Rostoni describes this way:

"A unit to study stress and strain in vibrating objects which emits flashes of light at 35,000 cycles per second called strobe light. The light, by flashing at precise intervals, can be used to observe and calibrate timing processes in industrial machines."

Sound complicated?

Rostoni, who plans a career in electronic engineering, is 15 years old and a sophomore at San Rafael High. One of his other class projects is a gymbal-mounted gyroscope for study of the earth's rotation.

Easier to understand, but as difficult to construct, is a project of Don Bogdon, 17, of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax. Sometimes mistaken for the proverbial flying saucer, it is a ground effects machine, which will ride over land or water on a cushion of air.

The idea came from an illustration of a similar machine in flight, a British periodical, said Bogdon. The design however, is completely his. The present model, is two feet in diameter, is only a small promise of things to come.

"Next year," said Bogdon, "I plan to build one I can ride, 12 feet in diameter."

The machine, constructed of sheet metal with a small airplane motor, has not yet been tested and is still hopeful conjecture for the future aeronautical engineer.

Other class projects include: a plastic model of a cantilevered house, a machine for slicing lapidary stone, a wind velocity indicator, and a rocket launcher complete with rocket.

One thing the class lacks is students.

"The type of youngster who should be taking this course," said Greenfield, "has a time problem." The class has 18 students, but Greenfield hopes that as word spreads more will enroll next fall.

The unusual course stresses practicality, but one might ask how the individual student acquires know-how to build stroboscopes and flying machines. Greenfield's answer is practical also: "He digs."

15 Seniors To Get On Life Honor Roll

California Scholarship Federation and Honor Society life memberships are being granted 15 graduating seniors from Redwood High School.

Based on membership in the federation for six semesters, life members of C.S.F. include Juliet Banning, Donna Logan, Don Rogers, Beverly Sadler, and Steven White.

Honor Society life members include Christopher Bricca, John Contos, Tom Graefe, William Koons, Stacy Moore, Jane Novacic, John Osborn, Don Rogers, Julie Shew, and Dawn Urbais.

The list is based on first semester grades, and more seniors may be admitted as second semester grades are announced.

Performing Arts Festival Offers Plenty Of Variety

What to choose may be the only problem of this year's Festival of Performing Arts.

Held for the first time at Marin's Art and Garden Center in Ross, it will open Wednesday at 8 p.m. with programs by the Marin Arts Quartet, Marin Pro Musica, and the Winifred Baker A Capella Choir.

Thursday afternoon will offer a wide variety of entertainment. Following the center's Memorial Day service at 11 a.m., the festival programming opens at 11:45 a.m. with a short concert by the Winifred Baker Boys' and Girls' Chorus.

At 12:15 p.m. flamenco dancer Mimi Janislawski and guitarist Gene Malin take center stage for a performance of costumed flamenco dance and classical guitar music.

Scheduled at 1 p.m. is a program of original dance, choreographed and presented in the amphitheater by the young people of the Dick Ford Dance Studio. The trio of Dick Ford, Marguerite Ford and Judith Modell will dance, premiering new works.

At 1:15 p.m. in Northgate the exotic Hindu, Arabic and Turkish dance creations of the Magna Baptiste Dance Troupe will be presented featuring Walt Gurudev Baptiste.

After the dance programs have concluded at 2:30 p.m., the Ross Valley Players will stage in the Barn an hour of excerpts from their latest hit, Vincent Youmans' musical comedy "Hit the Deck."

While this program is under way, the Modern Dance Club of Palo Alto will perform in Northgate with their interpretation of Dylan Thomas' poem "Fern Hill." Janina Novak, Janie Paul and Susan Jurd are featured.

Following the end of this dance concert and overlapping the close of the Ross Valley Players' show, the Stuart Highlanders Pipe Band of San Francisco will play and drill for 30 minutes in the Center's main drive.

At 4 p.m. in the Barn Marin pianist William Clark, considered an outstanding Beethoven and Brahms interpreter, will play works by these composers. Southern California soprano Mia Phoebus, accompanied by pianist Eugene Ramey, will complete this musical program.

Shortly after the start of the Clark and Phoebus concert, Berkeley puppeteer Frank Oznowicz will appear on the Northgate stage. He recently returned from Brussels, where he appeared in a 30-minute film for Belgian national television.

All facilities of the Center will be open throughout the day.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Ross Residents Honor Son, Fiancee At Home Reception

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mr. and Mrs. James Cockburn of Ross gave a reception at their home Saturday for their son, Donald Murray Cockburn and his fiancee, Kathryn Susan Fisher. About 80 friends of the young couple and the hosts attended the reception. Most of the younger contingent remained for a buffet supper and dancing.

Kathy, daughter of Mrs. Gilbert D. Ayron of Sleepy Hollow, San Anselmo and Harold A. Fisher of La Jolla, is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and a sophomore at San Jose State College where she is majoring in art.

Don, a graduate of Drake high school and College of the Pacific, is a physical education teacher and basketball coach at Vallejo High School. He and Kathy will exchange marriage vows at the First Presbyterian Church in Sausalito June 22. The wedding reception will be held at the Alta Mira Hotel.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY Zwagerman became the owners Sunday of a new home at 874 Marin Drive, Mill Valley. Since they were married eight years ago on that date, the Zwagermans have called it an anniversary present. The Zwagermans have two children, Mark, 4; and Paula, 3.

MRS. BETTY DONZEL of Tiburon left Saturday for a two month trip by air, via Quantas Airlines for Athens, Greece. She will visit the Greek Islands, Turkey, spend a few days visting islands in and on the Adriatic Sea, and also go to Dubrovnik, Belgrade, Zagreb and Sarajeo in Yugoslavia. From there she will fly on to Italy to end her vacation, before returning to the United States.

MRS. FRED ENEMARK and Mrs. Berthold Werner Broemmel are entertaining the members of the senior class at Dominican Convent, and their mothers at a tea tomorrow at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club. The daughters of the hostesses, Susan Enemark and Dorothy Broemmel, both Dominican seniors will make their debut at the second annual Marin debutante ball

MRS. NELSON SHREVE of Corte Madera entertained at cocktail party Sunday evening for the production staff of Tamalpa, presented at the Mountain Theater on Tamalpais. The performance was the fiftieth anniversary of the mountain play. Lucille Shreve was the assistant producer. After the party Lucille and her guests went to Tiburon for a Mexican dinner at El Borro.

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT K. Stahl of Corte Madera were hosts last week to Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Bouford of Rochester, New York. The Stahls gave a cocktail party and a dinner party for the Boufords. The Stahls also entertained the Boufords at a luncheon at the Spinnager in Sausalito and at dinner at Pietro's in San Francisco.

SOMETHING OLD...

Something New, Rented And Blue

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

TEANECK, N.J. — A new trend in wedding arrangements indicates a revision of that old saying, "Something old, something new . . ."

Now make it, "Something old, something new, something RENTED, something blue."

That long white gown the glowing bride wears down the aisle might be one she bought. Or, it might be one she hired just for the big day.

"CERTAINLY we're renting wedding gowns," said Zarah Poosikian, 36-year-old president of a firm which specializes in renting formal apparel.

"We also rent the bride's headdress. Every one of our brides also gets that 'something blue' from us—we give each customer a blue garter."

POOSIKIAN said that his firm carries some 300 bridal gown styles, most of them floor length, many with the cathedral train. Some 30 are rented, on the average, each month, but the number goes up in the summer marrying season.

"I DON'T know whether it's because today's bride is less sentimental about her wedding dress, or just more practical," said Poosikian.

"Look at it this way. A bridal gown is a one-occasion dress. For $30 to $40, the bride can rent a gown. To buy one, she will spend anywhere from $100 on up to $400 or $500.

"I think she rents because she would rather put some of the money into the honeymoon or furnishing the new home."

Once in a while, Poosikian said, the bride-to-be or mother makes an excuse for renting—"The one we purchased hasn't arrived," or some such. But most of them are just as candid about renting a wedding dress as other women customers are about renting mink stoles, another facet of Biltmore's business.

THE FIRM RENTS about 80 mink stoles each week. It does not stock mink coats, Poosikian explained, because their wearing season is brief along the eastern seaboard, which the company serves. Nor does it stock bridesmaids' dresses. "Too much of a problem with all the colors," he said.

SHEIK TO CHIC

School Will Stage Summer Stock Ball

Titled "The Summer Stock Ball or Dancing Sheik to Chic," Sausalito Nursery School's annual dance will be held at the Sausalito Cruising Club Saturday from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

The party will include dinner and dancing, with costumes optional, but incentive will be provided in the form of prizes offered in several categories. These are for best man, best woman, best couple, most imaginative, most beautiful and funniest.

General chairman Mrs. John Wellington is being assisted by a committee composed of Mesdames Edward Ripley and Norman Murdoch, reservations; Donald Duncan, donations; A. W. Gallagher and Milton Nadel, dance night; Mary Strebeigh, Charles Ksanda and Ernest Saltmarsh, prizes; and Nora Camp, publicity.

Funds raised by the dance will be used for maintaining the school, which has just been painted bright red by fathers.

Wilkins Unit Plans June Variety Show

WINKING DAISIES saying "Hi, glad you came" will form the decorations on June 1 for the Wilkins Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary variety show and dance. Working on the decor are members, from left, Mesdames William Ghilotti, general chairman; Louis Robinson and Don Martin.

"June Is Busting Out All Over" will be the theme for the variety show and dance planned on June 1 by the Wilkins Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. William Ghilotti is general chairman for the show to be held in the American Legion Hall in San Rafael. Mrs. Gimi J. Sessi is co-chairman.

Highlight of the evening will be the dancing chorus composed of Messrs. Paul Bettini, Robert Dodson, William Ghilotti, Joseph Mello, Dave Menary Jr., Mario Pellegrini, Al Re and William Wider.

Committee chairmen include Mesdames Donald Martin, George Silveria, decorations; Pellegrini, tickets; Wider, Louis Robinson, grab bags; Dodson, programs; Richard Rex, publicity; Miss Claudia Dodson, checkroom.

Mesdames Emil Boracchia, mistress of the evening; Wider and Frank Milani, refreshments and Richard Harder, cleanup.

Funds from the show will go to the Girls State program.

Mount Carmel Picnic June 2

June 2 is the date and the place is Boyle Park for the annual picnic sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' Group of the Mount Carmel School in Mill Valley.

Faculty, parents and children will arrive at 10 a.m. and stay until 4 p.m. for a day of games, races, contests and plenty of hot dogs and soda pop. The various grades will compete in races for prizes—pre-schoolers will have fun breaking pinatas, and even nuns and mothers will enjoy a game of volleyball.

Milady's Mink To Be Made In Israel

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI)—Milady's mink coat may soon be labeled "made in Israel."

Although the Middle East hardly seems the most conducive climate for a booming fur industry, the Israeli government hopes the country will become a major entry in the world fur fashion market, according to Merrill Lowell, a Beverly Hills fur designer.

To help establish the industry, the Israeli government recently invited Lowell to conduct seminars for that country's fur manufacturers.

"The main purpose of the industry in Israel is to create value from the skills available," Lowell explained. "Immigrants, particularly those from the Baltic states, include some of the finest needleworkers in the world."

Now back from his teaching expedition, Lowell explained that he instructed Israeli craftsmer in the handling of furs from the raw material to the completed garment.

The Israeli furs will be produced mostly for European consumption and for the tourist trade, Lowell said. Tourism is the second largest industry in Israel and the government hopes it will provide an excellent market for the furs.

Although some fur-bearing animals, particularly minks, are raised in Israel, most of the skins are imported.

Hear Ye— On Ear Crues

CHICAGO (UPI) — An ear expert says deafness is rising in the United States as a result of an increased number of older people and various complexities of modern life.

Dr. Francis L. Lederer, of the University of Illinois Medical School, says causes of reduced hearing function "include noisier industries, interest in body contact sports, swimming, hunting and air travel, especially when traveling with a head cold or nasal allergy."

"Hearing problems can often start before birth," he said, "so early detecttion of hearing problems is essential."

A physician must be aware of the psychological, as well as the medical difficulties which may be encountered, said Lederer.

Children with a permanent hearing loss can be taught to communicate "with relative ease in a hearing world," he said.

Guild Plans Peppermint Ball June 8

A rosy glow over the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley on June 8 at 7 p.m. will be cast by Strawberry Guild of Sunny Hills I when it presents a Peppermint Ball.

PINK FLOWERS, pink lanterns, pink topiary trees and pink and white stripes will be used by the decorating committee, headed by Mrs. William Praun, to create a rose-colored effect. Guests will be given a taste of the good old days of the ice cream parlor, band concerts in the park, gazebos and a more leisurely age. Assisting with the decorating will be Mesdames Jack Glasner, Robert G. Smith, John Nelson, Reginald Fischer and Arno Rayner.

OTHER committees are: Mrs. Stanley Gallagher and her co-chairman Mrs. Charles Partridge assisted by Mrs. R. R. McGaugh, table settings; Mrs. Meyer Rabin with helpers Mesdames Anshall Nelson, Ernest Brugger, James Sullivan, James Watson, Arnold H. Deckman and John Abney, food; Mrs. William Moschetti assisted by Mesdames Eddie Bodine, B. P. Lelich and Russ Lloyd, refreshments. Mrs. James Warnock is in charge of tickets and reservations and Mrs. Charles Gay, prizes.

Mrs. George Fay, guild president, and Mrs. Charles Crowell, dance chairman will welcome guests at a patio party preceding the dinner and dance with Mrs. Fred Andress and Mrs. Erland Koski presiding at the hors d'oeuvres table.

Proceeds from the dance will be used to buy materials for the candy leis and bracelets which the guild members make to sell at their booth at the Grape Festival, which is held in October to benefit the Sunny Hills home.

'Clean Room' Has Pure Air

ALBUQUERQUE (UPI) — Although it is normal for healthy persons to breathe air which contains three to 10 million particles of matter larger in diameter than 0.3 micron per cubic foot, surgeons prefer much cleaner air when they operate.

At the nation's first "clean room conference" held recently in Albuquerque, Dr. W. R. Lovelace, a leader in space surgery, said the clean room is one of the most important medical advances he has seen.

The clean room, developed by the Sandia Corp. of Albuquerque, employs a system of intake filters and exhausts which reduces the number of 0.3 micron-size particles to from 100 to 1,000 per cubic foot.

The new cleansing technique was developed primarily for work in the missile and space fields. Some equipment used in space exploration is so delicate and precise that the smallest particle of dust could have the same effect on it that a boulder would have if it thundered on an automobile engine.

Lovelace said the clean room will be invaluable in eliminating infection if used as an operating room, recovery room, incubating room for premature babies and centers for burn patients.

In the new clean room process, invented by John Whitfield of Sandia, air is run through filters which extract most impurities. Then the clean air sweeps through the room at about one mile per hour, carrying all particles larger than 0.3 micron out an exhaust in the floor.

Water flows beneath the floor exhaust to help wash the particles from the room.

DOMINICAN HOMECOMING DATE SET

The Dominican College Alumnae Homecoming weekend will be held on June 7 and 8.

Mrs. Paul Enright and Mrs. W. J. Talbot, co-chairmen for the event, have planned many activities for the alumnae returning to the college grounds.

Friday evening will be dinner and activities for those staying overnight. Saturday, a mass for the deceased members of the alumnae followed by a continental breakfast at Pennafort Hall is planned. At Caleruega, beginning at noon, will be a social hour and the homecoming luncheon. A general business meeting and election and installation of officers will follow.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. James Madden Jr. of Orinda.

Research Chases Ills In The Laundry Room

GREENVILLE, S. C. (UPI) — The washing machine clogs—and you want to chew logs.

A wash-and-wear shirt falls apart. You wonder how come? The maker's supposed to be smart.

Or—expensive linoleum starts cracking and it sets you to yapping, "they make things so poorly these days."

When such crises occur on the homefront, the best course is to clear yourself before glaming a manufacturer, says Dr. Frederick T. Lense.

Research and development director of a firm that makes cleaning and laundry products, he maintains that what you use to take care of your possessions has a lot to do with their life span.

THE DEVELOPMENT of bleaches, fabric softeners and cleaners of all kinds that prolong the life of articles is more than a laboratory job for the scientists from Texize Chemicals Inc.

In the course of testing, he does homework — washing dishes and walls, cleaning floors. He's even done the family laundry as part of his research.

His wife, a bacteriologist before marriage, is an expert in the distinfectant field.

"WHEN I TEST in this area at home," Dr. Lense said, "I don't pooh-pooh her suggestions."

Dr. Lense noted that ideas for new products are based on necessity.

Women, according to the scientist, must be ready to accept a new concept in a product.

Although controlled - suds laundry detergents have been on the market for 18 years, for example, many women still resist them.

San Francisco Bay Council Organization Meet Tomorrow

More than 50 Marin adult Girl Scouts will participate with 800 Bay Area adult Girl Scouts in the organizational meeting of the San Francisco Bay Girl Scout Council in the Terrace Room of the Fairmont Hotel, tomorrow.

Election of the first officers and adoption of the by-laws for the new organization, which consolidates Girl Scout Councils of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo Counties, are on the morning's agenda. Mrs. Carl Flegal of Fremont, chairman of the organization committee, will preside.

Following the business meeting, members and friends of Girl Scouting will celebrate the birth of the new council at a luncheon in the hotel. Mrs. Herbert Schuckle, a member of the Girl Scout National Board of Directors of Baltimore, Md., will address the luncheon. Mrs. Schuckle is chairman of the Senior Girl Scout Roundup for 1965.

Bringing Up Baby®

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Tempest in a teapot — fortunately that's all most toddler tantrums amount to. Most toddlers have an occasional temper storm because the very business of growing up is bound to bring frustrations. Tantrums may also result if a child is overtired or overstimulated.

To fight anger with anger, hardly ever works. Good ways to calm an overwrought child who's not old enough to reason with:

• Try to distract him tactfully. A quick hug 'n' kiss often smooths away the sore spot.

• If he's failed at something, try to show him the way and be quick to praise new attempts.

P.S. It's unwise to bribe or threaten a toddler back to good behavior. Bribes beget bad habits . . . threats beget bigger tirades.

Mealtime tantrums almost never happen when you spark your toddler's menus with something extra-special. Like Gerber Junior High Meat Dinners . . . famous for savory flavor interest. That's because they have 3 times as much meat (and therefore much more protein) as regular vegetable and meat combinations. Add to this extra meat the goodness of selected garden vegetables and you get the tastiest dishes that ever perked up a palate. Strained too, for pre-toddler tykes. 5 varieties.

Nutrition bulletin from Dan Gerber. Every mother knows that excessive cooking reduces the nutritive values of food. Gerber Strained and Junior Fruits are cooked in just a few seconds to retain the highest degree of natural food values possible. Flash-cooking does a lot for baby's eating pleasure, too, because it helps preserve the true-to-nature colors and flavors so appealing to little ones. The development of modern processing methods is just one of Gerber's many continuing research projects. Gerber Baby Foods, Box 72, Fremont, Michigan.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Playing Bridge Helps Soul —Take It From An Expert

If anybody tries to tell you that playing bridge is bad for the soul don't believe a word of it.

A good bridge player puts off immediate satisfaction so that he can enjoy lasting happiness. I wouldn't say this if I couldn't prove it.

West led the jack of diamonds against a pleasure-seeking declarer.

South took the first trick in dummy and tried an immediate finesse with the queen of clubs.

SHAKE HEAD

Yes, you may shake your head sadly. The queen of clubs was gobbled up by the king, and South could win only eight tricks.

If South had lived a clean life he wouldn't have been in such a hurry with his queen of clubs. The correct play at the second trick is a low club rather than the queen.

East returns the queen of hearts to the ace. Does South go over to dummy for a club finesse? Tsk, tsk, young man. There are ladies present.

JUST SUPPOSE

South should lead the ace of clubs from his hand. As it happens, the king drops. South can make the queen of clubs at leisure.

Just suppose the king of clubs fails to drop so obligingly. South leads a spade to dummy's king and returns a club.

If East has the king of clubs, South will eventually win a trick with the queen of clubs. Even if West has the king of clubs, a 3-3 break will allow South to win a trick with his last club.

SOUTH FAILS

South fails only if West has four clubs headed by the king.

In that case, no finesse would work, so South's clean-living play costs him nothing.

The point is that South does not need the first two club tricks; he is satisfied with any two.

He must not risk his lovely queen of clubs until he has given the king every chance to fall.

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, May 28, the 148th day of 1963 with 217 to follow.

The moon is approaching first quarter. The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1892, a budding comedienne, Marie Dressler, made her debut in New York in the comic opera, "The Robber of the Rhine."

In 1905, Imperial Russia's fleet suffered a disastrous defeat under the guns of the Japanese navy commanded by Admiral Togo.

A thought for the day—George Washington said: "To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace."

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

We Back Fair Housing But It Won't End Discrimination

The position of the Independent-Journal on integration and the equality of man has been stated so many times we thought it was well established by this time.

We have fought for the rights of all nationalities to buy homes in Mill Valley, in Madera Gardens, in Terra Linda and in numerous other parts of the county. We have deplored racial restrictions in Fair Hills property deeds, even though they are meaningless.

We were under the impression we had given support and encouragement to the Marin Committee For Fair Play In Housing, although the committee seems to feel differently. (See letter in adjoining column.)

We are accused of "condescension" in that letter apparently because we believe the law should apply equally to both whites and Negroes. Admittedly, the "riots and burnings" to which we referred were brought on by two bombings. But in our eyes, the fact that there was something to incite the riots didn't make them any more lawful, any more democratically responsible.

We don't think a man maimed by a Ku Klux Klan bomb is a bit better or worse off than a taxi driver pulled from his cab and stabbed by a mob. Mob action is reprehensible, particularly because it is seldom directed at the people really responsible for a situation.

The Fair Play Committee urges us to support Assembly Bill 1240, the so-called Rumford Fair Housing Bill, before Senate committee tomorrow. Of course we support it. Our assemblyman, William T. Bagley, has already supported it. Our senator, John F. McCarthy, has indicated he too will support it.

But let's be clear about this. The Rumford Bill isn't going to bring the end of discrimination in California. To begin with, the bill itself isn't the same bill Assemblyman Byron Rumford introduced. If it passes the Senate, it will be altered further, probably drastically.

No law is going to end discrimination; it can only provide a legal atmosphere in which men and women can learn to live together on equal footing. This can, must and will be done.

But the law must be fair and equal, not giving the majority nor the minority the advantage. Then it is up to men; it is between and among men that the true brotherhood of nations will be reached.

We think that government by law with individual freedom, as we have here in the United States, is the best place to reach it, slow though it sometimes seems.

Season Of Road Maps And Romance

Now that warmth is in the air, ideas of travel which have lain dormant in mental seeds for the cold, wet months suddenly germinate and begin to sprout into trip plans.

Many Marinites have their heads full of road maps and romance with the approach of vacation time. Whether one contemplates a quiet weekend in Carmel or a cross-country drive to Cape Cod, the enthusiasm for a change from the hum drum and enlarging one's vistas on life are the same.

The French say, "Bon voyage."

The Chinese say, "Go with the wind."

We say, "Good luck and drive carefully."

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Marin Is Spending More Than Anyone On Schools; Worth It?

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

A disturbing statistic, referred to briefly yesterday on this page in Bryce Anderson's Reporter's Notebook, is the high cost of governmental services in Marin County when compared with other counties of the state. The figures on average tax rate, just released for 1962-63 by the State Board of Equalization, show that although the total Marin tax rate is high, most of it is going into schools and the actual cost of government here is well down compared to other counties.

Marin's total assessed valuation is $294,928,000, including the utilities roll, and locally-assessed secured and unsecured rolls.

Marin taxes levied during the year, including city, county, school and other districts, come to $26,736,000.

This means that the average tax rate is 9.07 per cent of the assessed valuation.

That percentage puts Marin County the third highest in the state's 58 counties. It was in the same position a year earlier. Only Alameda County, at 9.50 per cent, and San Francisco City and County, at 9.21 per cent, are higher.

But here is an amazing factor. Of the $26¾ million in taxes, slightly more than $15¾ million is going into Marin public schools. That's about 60 per cent of the total and more than twice the size of the second highest.

County government has the second highest total, $6,613,000; cities next, $2,361,000, and all other districts together just $2,004,000.

THERE IS NO OTHER county in the state using such a high proportion for schools. And, conversely, there are few counties indeed using as little of their tax dollars for city and county government.

Greatest and closest example, of course, is the City and County of San Francisco. With an assessed valuation of $1,530,625,000, slightly more than five times that of Marin, city-county government costs total $104,581,000, nearly 10 times Marin County's total cost for all city, county and special district government combined.

On the other hand, San Francisco spends a mere $36,291,000 on schools, not quite two and a half times what Marin does.

COMPARED WITH some of the other counties of about equal size, Marin has high school expenditure and low governmental costs. Sonoma County, for example, only slightly less in assessed valuation than Marin, spends $1,100,000 more on county government and $5,100,000 less on schools.

We spent approximately the same amount on schools as Santa Barbara County did. But Santa Barbara has an assessed valuation of $422 million, nearly double Marin's $295 million.

Tulare County with $348 million assessed valuation, spent $2 million less on schools and $4 million more on county government. Stanislaus County, with a $257 million assessed valuation, spends $2.5 million more on the county government and $5 million less on schools.

So it is quite clear what we are spending our money on. The only question remaining, then, is:

Are we getting our schools dollar's worth?

Birmingham Hurt U.S. Irreparably

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Tuesday evening (May 14), as I was having coffee with a group of foreign students in San Francisco, I asked the question, "Has Birmingham affected the image of the U.S. in your respective countries?"

Most of the students, representing emerging African nations as well as Iraq, Sudan, and some European lands, immediately responded with the single word, "irreparably."

The lad from Sudan asked, in response, "Why Birmingham?" He went on to assert that, in his opinion, the U.S. had lost prestige beyond measure with Clinton, Little Rock and Ol' Miss long before this point.

While these students made it clear that they were representing their own opinions, they felt that they were expressing mildly—"almost academically"—what their countrymen are feeling about the U.S. racial strife in general and U.S. failure to secure to Negroes' civil rights in particular.

I was reminded of that conversation when I read your May 17 lead editorial ("9 Years After Desegregation Rule No Time For Violence").

The editorial contained some worthwhile statements about "the Negro people . . . wanting real freedom," and about the Independent-Journal's hope that it has "been of some assistance to them in establishing an atmosphere in which they actually are becoming equal citizens."

The general tone of the ediorial, however, struck the ear with the familiar ring of condescension. Upon reading that "The Negro must remember that the 14th Amendment . . . guarantees to all persons safety for their lives and property," one wondered what else might the Independent-Journal have in mind as having been responsible for precipitating the "direct action which has led to riots and burnings," things which you remind us, "give ammunition to the bigots."

One was reminded, and almost wearied at having been reminded, that the bigots you correctly single out have not needed such direct action as you speak of for ammunition these long, agonizing years — years during which American Negroes have been engaged in the most sustained and frustrating struggle for human dignity ever waged by a people from whom their past had infamously been stripped.

The Negro certainly does not need to be reminded of the guarantees of the 14th Amendment. Daily he lives under the burden which denial of those guarantees by a vast segment of our population inflicts on him.

I wish to congratulate the Independent-Journal for stating in that same editorial that "We support (Negroes') efforts to break down intolerable discrimination (in Birmingham), in California, Marin and everywhere."

May I join with all fair-minded citizens in "Marin and everywhere" to urge you editorially to implement that statement by supporting the currently pending Assembly Bill 1240, the so-called Rumford Fair Housing Bill.

This, it seems to me, would be a desirable way to let the Negro know that the Independent-Journal does not mean to support the intolerable housing discrimination which still persists in "California, Marin and everywhere."

College Needs Community Aid

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The Executive Council of the Associated Students of College of Marin would like to extend its appreciation to the Independent-Journal for its generous and recent support given to the college and our "A Day at Marin's College." Through the articles on the college in two of your Saturday magazine sections, information concerning our superior faculty, our high-rated scholastic standing, and many richly diversified college programs and activities was communicated to the citizens of Marin County.

Our open house, "A Day at Marin's College," which was held on May 11 was an invitation to the community to visit the college and see the above-mentioned information in action for itself.

The function was a wonderful success so far as student spirit went. However, the participants, including both faculty and students, were a bit disillusioned about the small community turnout. Those parents and friends that did come enjoyed themselves and were highly impressed by our able young adults.

We, speaking for the entire student body, wish we could impress upon the public how much their support is needed. Monetarily they are supporting us through taxes, but the college additionally needs the community's support in spirit and attitude. What would happen to a child who whenever he asked for money was given it by his parents, but who received little or no love along with the money?

In effect, College of Marin students are the children of community. We are the ones who one day soon will be taking the roles of our present councilmen, chairmen of boards, lawyers, doctors, bankers, etc., the leaders of our county. We also need the community's support.

A town in South Dakota was in the process of electing a new mayor and board of advisors, and Mrs. Hubbard thought it would be educational to take her 7-year-old daughter with her to the polling booth. On the way home the daughter asked, "Mom, do you always vote for the men you love most?" "Whatever put an idea like that in your mind?" wondered Mrs. Hubbard. "Well," said the daughter, "I saw you put kisses next to their names."

Colonel James Cokesbury Albright, the pride of Dallas, says that when it comes to gallantry, Texans cannot be beat. He cites as an example a rough old gaffer from the oil fields who was just preparing to dig into a succulent piece of roast pig at a barbecue when someone careened into him from behind and knocked his plate to the ground. In a rage he bellowed, "You hawg! You want all the space there is?" and then he perceived the offender was the dignified wife of his host. Wtihout a second thought he amended his statement. "Lady hawg, that is, ma'am."

Guess Why New Concrete Floor Of Plumbing Firm Was Torn Up?

One of the big new additions to the Novato business district is the Locke Plumbing Co.'s new building on Sweetzer Avenue. John Novak is building it. The concrete floor was poured and the framing put up last week.

And then—one would expect it of a government operation, but not in private business where there is efficiency—they had to tear up the new concrete floor. The concrete had no more than set than a man was put to chipping out an area about a foot wide and four feet long.

You guessed it—to install plumbing!

ALONG THE SAME line, what Mill Valley termite exterminator company had the bed of their truck break through the other day—eaten out with termites?

AT A RECENT Novato City Council meeting, there was a neighborhood delegation to see the council.

After that council discussion, they lingered in the lobby of the Community House, to talk over the problem. The noise came back into the council chambers so loud that proceedings of the meeting could scarcely be heard.

Councilman Everett Pozzi asked if the council had not once ordered a new latch so that the glass doors would remain closed, and not partially open. The door stands partially ajar all the time.

City administrator J. Julien Baget said that he did not remember any such order, but would try to get the door fixed.

The council should have realized then that the sound that can go through a door in one direction, can go through in the other. It was through the same door that two reporters heard the discussions during a closed "executive" session of the council.

Those doors just are not sound proof!

AT THE SAME council meeting, the question came up about trucks breaking up the city streets during heavy construction.

Heavy dirt and rock trucks are raising havoc with Novato's streets. The streets just can't take the added loads put on them, especially since the ground underneath them has been saturated by this wet spring.

Pozzi reminded the council that the trucks are not illegal.

"They are within their legal weight limits," he said.

Quick on the comeback, Councilman Howard Schoof answered:

"Then they are legally breaking up the streets."

DURING THE paying of the bills, the council members were questioniing why Wade Lackey, street foreman, should be getting $3 to $5 each month for phone calls.

"Are these local calls or long distance?" Pozzi asked.

Baget told him that they were local. He said that Lackey had to phone into city hall several times a day to see if there were any orders.

For a few moments the council debated whether it was cheaper to have him come into the city hall to get orders, or phone in. They quickly decided that at the hourly rate of pay and the mileage, it was a lot cheaper to use the phone.

Baget told the council that the phone calls could be eliminated by installing a two-way radio, costing $1,000, which he had proposed in the budget for next year.

"Spend $1,000 to save $3 or $4?" the council echoed together.

"Well, there goes the two-way radio I asked for," Baget said philosophically.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Aid To Egypt, Algeria Face Slash In House

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Large-scale U.S. aid to two turbulent Middle East countries is the major target of a bipartisan group in the House Foreign Affairs Committee bent on cutting more than $1 billion from President Kennedy's $4.9 billion foreign assistance program.

In private sessions with administration officials, these committeemen have singled out for budget slashes around $250 million in aid for Egypt and Algeria in the form of surplus farm commodities, loans and outright grants.

The lawmakers bluntly told Administrator David Bell that aid to these two pro-Castro "neutralist" countries should be drastically cut, as it is being used to counter U.S. interests in the Middle East.

"AS I CHECK some of these countries we are helping," Representative Edward Derwinski (R-Ill.) informed Bell, "I find that our money is being put to work at cross-purposes of our own national interests. Our aid to the United Arab Republic is working against funds we are supplying to Jordan and Israel."

"It is our judgment we should assist all these countries on the assumption that our aid will mitigate tensions among them," contended Bell.

"If that is the basis of our policy," retorted Representative Leonard Farbstein (D-N.Y.), "how can we justify aid to Egypt when it goes to help build up an armament industry for use against Jordan, Saudi Arabia and Israel, all friends of the U.S.?"

"IF WE WERE persuaded that Egypt was planning to destroy its neighbors, we obviously wouldn't be giving aid," replied Bell.

"What do you think they are trying to do to Jordan and Israel?" demanded Farbstein.

After not one member of the committee said a word in support of aid to Egypt, Representative Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) observed, "Maybe it is time we try to influence events in the Middle East by cutting off all aid to Nasser."

Representative H. R. Gross (R-Iowa), long-time champion of economy in government spending, raised the issue of large-scale aid to Algeria, noting particularly Premier Ben Bella's warm ties with Fidel Castro.

"BEN BELLA is another Castro," declared Gross. "He came to this country and then went directly to Cuba and pledged his undying support for that Communist regime. Now Castro is going to Algeria, and both are training guerrillas for the invasion of Portuguese Angola and Latin America. Why are we giving a single thin dime to Algeria under the circumstances?"

"Ben Bella is seeking economic progress for the people of his country, and we are helping him achieve that with our aid," replied Bell.

"That is what Khrushchev and Castro say they are doing," snapped Gross.

Both Gross and Derwinski will seek to write specific restrictions against Egypt and Algeria into the foreign aid program.

Other members are planning to seek substantial reductions in aid allocations proposed by the administration for India, Indonesia, Yugoslavia, Poland and South Vietnam.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Life In Bomb Shelter Is Not Pleasant Even For A Short Time

VAN DELLEN

Life in a bomb shelter is not pleasant, even for short periods. In one survey, lack of water for washing was the chief complaint, followed by the monotony of eating the same food, over-crowding, dirt, and the behavior of others. These draw-backs need not exist but they were the major sources of psychologic discomfort among a group of 100 volunteer Navy personnel who spent two weeks during the summer and again in the winter in a Navy shelter at Bethesda, Md.

ACCORDING TO John E. Rasmussen of the institute, the men were handpicked and the shelter routine was followed to the letter. No limit was placed on the amount of water for drinking but none was available for washing or shaving.

Two meals were served daily. The first consisted of survival ration crackers, served with a variety of jellies. The same crackers were served for the second meal in hot soup or topped with peanut butter. Several kinds of soup were available to provide variety. Instant coffee and water were provided for both meals.

THE WINTER group also found the shortage of water for bathing the main cause of discomfort. Complaints about the food were lengthy and the survival crackers were the prime target of criticism. The summer group had the same gripe about water for washing but the heat and humidity were next on the list of objections. Dirt was third and food was fourth. The sailors lost appetite because of the heat.

Various lessons can be learned from this experiment. The project showed that the psychologic or emotional needs are as important as the nutritional value, storage, and selection of food. These men were young and healthy. What happens when the sexes are mixed and some of the shelter inhabitants are elderly, injured, or sick? It is obvious that building a shelter — no matter how expensive—is only half the story.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

FAILING HEART

J. B. writes: I've been told heart failure does not show up on an electrocardiogram or the stethoscope. How, then, does a doctor make this diagnosis?

REPLY

The patient tells of being short of breath, having to sleep with two or more pillows, swelling of the ankles, and indigestion. In addition, examination shows enlargement of the heart and liver, and congestion is noted at the base of the lungs.

A LAUGHING DRINKER

S. F. writes: A 52-year-old man drinks a lot of beer and some whisky. He is deaf and doesn't talk much but he laughs aloud to himself on the job as a dishwasher. What do you think is the matter with him?

REPLY

Being deaf, he may not realize he is making these sounds. But a person need not be hard of hearing to do this, especially after drinking.

EXCESSIVE RED CELLS

L. J. P. writes: Last year, after recovering from a strep throat and walking pneumonia, I developed polycythemia. Could either of these infections have caused the bone marrow to start manufacturing too much blood?

REPLY

No. In most cases, the cause of polycythemia rubra vera cannot be determined.

THE ITCH MITE

L. M. writes: Could a clean person get scabies?

REPLY

Yes, when the dirty associate with the clean. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on scabies, or the seven year itch.

Convent Building Permit Is Sought

Architectural supervision for a convent building on King Street near Magnolia Avenue for nuns teaching at St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church School will be asked of the Larkspur Planning Commission at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

Plans for the building, across King Street from the church, were drawn by Architect Francis Arnold Constable.

Lee Brothers ask a variance for two signs totaling more than the permitted number of square feet to advertise the Value World, the market the firm is constructing in Larkspur Plaza.

Tennis Lessons Slated At Club

Four two-week sessions of tennis lessons for students from eight to 17 years old will be given this summer at the Marist Fathers Swim and Tennis Club in San Rafael.

Coordinator Father John McDonald said Herb Clark of the Belvedere Tennis Club and Dennis Van Der Meer of the Berkeley Tennis Club will lead the classes. A maximum of 50 applications will be accepted. The first session starts June 17.

The program will be run as a day camp, and will include swimming and other supervised recreation in addition to the tennis lessons.

Postal Carriers Need Drive Test

Applicants for jobs as substitute postal carriers for six post offices in Marin County now have to meet driving requirements as well as the written test.

The Post Office Board of Civil Service Examiners in San Francisco announced the requirements yesterday.

It applies to applicants for substitute carrier jobs at the Belvedere-Tiburon, Corte Madera, Fairfax, Mill Valley, Novato and San Rafael post offices.

They must submit a safe driving record, pass the Civil Service road test and have a valid driver's license.

Leadership Medal Goes To Marinite

Mark F. Cory III of 7 Robertson Terrace, Mill Valley, has been awarded a medal for leadership and academic achievement at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H., by the Green Mountain Chapter of the Retired Officers Assn.

Cory is a cadet lieutenant colonel with the Army ROTC unit at the college. His father is a retired Army colonel.

THAT DEVIL, AHAB—Jack Aranson plays Capt. Ahab in the tale of the white whale, Moby Dick, which opens June 12 at the Gate Theater in Sausalito. It is the West Coast premiere of the adaptation by Orson Welles. Aranson also directs. (S. J. Farrell photo)

WEST COAST PREMIERE

'Moby Dick' Will Open In Sausalito June 12

Rehearsals are under way at Sausalito's Gate Theater for the West Coast premiere of "Moby Dick," actor-manager Jack Aranson said today.

The play, adapted from Herman Melville's book by Orson Welles, is to open June 12 and will run Fridays and Saturdays at 8:30 p.m. and Sundays at 7:30 p.m.

Captain Ahab will be played by Aranson, who directed the same play two years ago at his Gate Theater in Dublin, Ireland. Others in the cast include Donald Spencer of Tiburon, playing Ishmael; Mary Rose McMaster, Aranson's wife, as Pip the cabin boy; George Ede as Starbuck; Russel Ernest as Stub; Henry Lysen as the carpenter; Bob Slattery as Peleg, and Bill Catanese as Flask, the third mate.

Dr. Earle Marsh of Mill Valley will handle lighting and sound effects.

Twin Cities Recreation Aide Quitting, Going To Hawaii

William Gordon of Corte Madera, director of the Larkspur-Corte Madera joint recreation commission for nine years, has submitted his resignation to take a job in Honolulu.

He will remain on the job until June 15 after which he and his wife will leave Marin. He has been hired as assistant to the president of Rex Tire Co.

The commission will meet June 6 at Larkspur-Corte Madera School conference room to discuss the resignation and consider a successor.

The commission has sent copies of its fiscal 1964 budget of $14,750 to the Corte Madera town council and Larkspur city council, asking $6,500 from each, said Commissioner Curtis Kamai, who drafted the budget.

The commission has named two Corte Madera residents to prepare for the July 4 fireworks at Neil Cummins School grounds: Mrs. David E. Swanson, chairman, and Charles W. Kopf, in charge of obtaining donations.

Rec Commission Requesting Money

A request for $1,750 from the Larkspur - Corte Madera Joint Recreation Commission will be discussed by the Larkspur School District board at 7:30 p.m. today in district headquarters, 20 Magnolia Avenue, Larkspur.

The request from the school district, itself seeking funds in an election next Tuesday, is for recreation activities for fiscal 1964.

An offer by pupils of $50 for shrubs for Larkspur-Corte Madera School will be discussed.

Scouting On TV

"This is Girl Scouting," a television presentation designed to explain the new program in Girl Scouts, will be shown on Channel 9 (KQED) on Friday at 7:30 p.m.

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

By HARRY CRAFT

Commercial Exhibitors Booking Marin, Art, Garden Fair Space

Commercial exhibitors have booked up space for the Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross early this year. Only a few booths remain untaken and even those may be rented by the time this is in print. About 40 firms will be represented.

A number will be repeat exhibitors from previous years, apparently feeling that the show has proved its worth with its average of 30,000 visitors, many of whom might not otherwise be exposed to their goods and services. Displays will include: Beef sausages, bonsai plants, craft and do-it-yourself materials, jewelry and lapidary equipment, foods and novelties, lighting equipment, massage devices, sewing machines, shells, stone planters, shoes, sportswear and numerous other products.

Three encyclopedias will be represented—Americana, Britannica and World Book. Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. has booked its usual four booths; insurance, service and political organizations have also entered displays. Sherman Clay and Co. will feature its Hammond Organs.

Eight new exhibitors are: Broilitizer (smokeless broilers) of Mill Valley; Aide Co. of Van Nuys, providing handwriting analysis by electronic machine; American Field Service with information on exchange students; L. C. Smith Co. of San Rafael with a display of building supplies. Other exhibitors include the Marin Bay Co., Niagara Therapy Manufacturing Co., Morse Bros. Paint and Waterproofing, and Annette Hamann of Larkspur with a line of handwoven rugs.

The show opens Wednesday night, July 3 and will extend through the following Sunday.

JUST RECEIVED at Wellen's San Rafael Typewriter Co., 1113 Fourth Street, is Smith-Corona's new electric portable typewriter, outfitted with transistors and a very practical graduation present. It's made to use any place and has a power pack that will give eight continuous hours of typing, says Fred Wellen. Plug it in overnight for recharging and it's ready to start off again the next day. Can be supplied with pica or elite type in various styles.

GENE HILLER, Sausalito men's clothier, has been presented the "Fashion Authority" award by Gentlemen's Quarterly Magazine, nationwide authority on the latest in male attire.

DAVID SEDERQUIST JR. of Belvedere, Bay Area manager of General Fireproofing Co., has been elected vice president of the San Francisco chapter of the National Office Management Assn. for the 1963-64 term.

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE representatives Russell C. Troop and J. Edmund Williams of San Rafael have returned from New Orleans where they received national honors for outstanding insurance production and service to policyholders.

ALL BUILDING SUPPLIES, trucks and equipment of C and and R Builders Supply Co. and Bret Harte Lumber Co. at 607 Irwin Street, San Rafael will be sold at public auction on June 4, 10:30 a.m. The auction will be conducted by David Weiss Co. of San Francisco.

Redwood Yearbook Available Saturday

Redwood High School students will pick up their 1963 Log, the school's yearbook, Saturday, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the boy's gymnasium.

A signature dance, from 8:30 to 11 p.m., will be held in the girls' gym with live music.
